No. 32,690

mess wa big game big game big game big game big game big game

Z Kuowi

sk Dine Streep in last year orted on baron's ar crash

an En-Calcuna

ily iden-less. Eva ad been But its

Satur

column put the when it the bar-aroness

e giri-ibstan-

spaper er sup-nince's

PARIS, SATURDAY-SUNDAY, APRIL 2-3, 1988

ESTABLISHED 1887

A Symbolic Retreat in Israel

Ban in Occupied Areas Effectively Restored Borders

By Glenn Frankel

Washington Post Service FERUSALEM - With eight erse sentences in a press release. he Israeli Army took a major step his week toward redrawing the forder between Israel proper and he occupied iterritories that the centry had been slowly hat steadi-

The sweeping three-day restric-tions on travel and press coverage innounced in the statement were the toughest yet imposed by the minorities groping for some formula. To amother nearly four months of Palestinian unrest. They seeled off the entire Gaza Strip and West Bank, canting Arab residence to their months. fents to their homes or villages.

presenting outsiders from entering, and arresting hundreds. havisible lines suddenly reappeared. Roads that once moved freely in and out of Israel across the Green Line into the West Bank were blocked by soldiers checking identity cards and license plates.

Kiosk

Panama Strike

PANAMA CITY (AFP)

Panamanian opposition lead-ors said Friday that on Mon-day they would call off a gen-cial strike that shut down most of the country's commerce when it began March 21. The strike, which began losing steam this week as stores and supermarkets reopened was called to force the removal of General Manuel Antonio

Noriega, the Panamanian mil-itary leader.

President Daniel Ortega

Saavedra of Nicaragua says

the new U.S. aid for the contras will not jeopardize a

60 day cease-fire. Page 5.

Milke Mansfield is back at work as the U.S. ambassador in Tokyo and boosting the importance of Asia. Page 3.

Western intelligence agencies think Pretoria was behind the murder of an ANC representa-

Campean won the battle for Federated Department Stores.

but its rival, Macy, will get two Federated divisions. Page 7.

Sengram Co. expects that ac-in the short term: Page 8.

Business/Finance

tive in Paris.

To Be Ended

They turned back Israelis as well as that you can't live with the territoiournalists. Motorists whose Israei-made maps have not delineated the old border for the past decade wandered confused, not knowing if or when they were crossing the line and breaking the law.

For many Israelis and Arabs, the measures were a harbinger of things to come: more repression, but also increased separation be-tween Arabs and Jews, more barbed wire — both physical and mental - and a retreat from Israel's long attempt to find an effec-tive means of ruling the disaffected and rebellious 1.6 million Arabs of the occupied territories.

NEWS ANALYSIS

"It was a very symbolic action by a defense establishment that really was expecting the worst this week, said a military commentator, Hirsh Goodman. "What they ended up doing was making a de facto admis-

While civil libertarians and liberals generally condemned the crackdown and hawks supported it, there also were less predictable reactions that suggest that many understood its deeper significance. Several Palestinian activists actually welcomed the measures as a furher step toward the reseparation of Israel and the territories. For the same reason, many leaders of the Jewish settler community in the West Bank opposed the re-strictions and some even defied the ban, risking five years in prison, by smuggling journalists into the area. Settlers themselves were exempt from the travel ban. "It looks to me like this was a very big flexing of muscles in order to separate Judea and Samaria from the rest of Israel and to isolate us from our fellow Israelis," said Fliskym Haetzni, one of the main

See BORDER, Page 6

2 Palestinians Killed; 20 Districts Restricted

By John Kifner

New York Times Service JERUSALEM — Israeli soldiers killed two more Palestinians on Priday, hours after lifting a threeday blockade of the occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip.

Although the blockade was eased at dawn, by midday about 20 refugee districts and villages had been sealed off by the army or put under curfew. All telephone lines to Gaza remained cut.

While Christian pilgrims walked the Via Dolorosa in Jerusalem, there were brief clashes as Moslems left their Friday prayers near the Dome of the Rock, A policeman was stabled but not seriously hurt. The anthonities said his assailant

The Palestine Press Service was closed by army order, so details of sketchy. The press service has been a major source of reports of deaths and other incidents for foreign and Israeli journalists.

The army said two Palestinian vonths were killed by gunfire and 13 were injured when a patrol was attacked with Molotov cocktails Friday morning in the village of Idna, near Hebron.

The deaths bring to at least 114 the number of Palestinians known to have been killed by Israeli troops in the occupied territories since the Palestinian uprising began Dec. 9. One Israeli soldier has also been

■ 2 Extremists Released President Chaim Herzog ordered the release Friday of two members

See ISRAEL, Page 6

along the Via Dolorosa in the Old City of Jerusalem. Although the crowd was thinner than usual and security was heavy,

Jesus is believed to have walked to his crucifixion. Eastern Orthodox processions were canceled because of security risks.

White House Warns of a Veto Unless Trade Bill Is Amended

ing U.S. trade bill designed to ease add up to a veto, I really can't tell submarines. the government's ability to impose yet. import restrictions or White House advisers will recommend a veto, President Ronald Reagan's spokesman said Friday.

"We still have grave reservations about several of the provisions, including plant closings, Toshiba, presidential authority and some of the mandatory retaliatory provisions," said Marlin Fitzwater, the White House spokesman, as Mr. Reagan headed for a 10-day vacation in California.

Earlier Friday, the U.S. trade representative, Clayton K. Yeutter, said that the trade bill had been cleansed of "a lot of undesirable things" but that it was too soon to predict what Mr. Reagan might do.

A decision in the U.S. Congress to impose curbs on Toshiba Corp. was assailed in Japan. Page 6. Japan's current account surplus narrowed in February. Page 7.

There certainly are some proviWASHINGTON — Major sions in there of dubious metit, equipment to the Soviet Union that ranges must be made in a sweep
"There certainly are some proviToshiha Corp. of Japan for selling of dubious metit, equipment to the Soviet Union that require mployers to give 60

The negotiators broke up without drawing a veto out taking action on a proposal to from Mr. Reagan, who promised not to sign a protectionist bill into

The negotiators fashioned a bill Thursday night in a House-Senate conference committee that, if given approval in both houses, would do

Impose import curbs on the sides by $1 billion.

• Repeal of the tax on windfall oil profits, a measure approved by Congress in 1979 when oil prices

· increase U.S. grain export sub-

 Increase government aid to those left jobless as a result of competitioo from imports.

 Scrap Representative Richard A. Gephardt's trade retaliation amendment. The amendment's demise was expected, and Mr. Gep-hardt, Democrat of Missouri, said he would vote against the bill.

property ownership in the United law. States. They said they would wrap up the issue after the Easter recess The proposal was strongly opposed by the Reagan administration.

A major objective of Congress was to craft legislation that would force action against unfair trade

The negotiators met major Rea-gan administration objections by removing a requirement that would have forced the government to give some trade relief in cases where the International Trade Commission

See TRADE, Page 6

No Evidence 'to Date' Of Meese Wrongdoing

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON - James C. McKay, a special prosecutor, said Friday there was insufficient evidence "developed to date" to warrant a criminal indictment of At- bring criminal charges against Mr. torney General Edwin Meese 3d in Meese in connection with his efconnection with a proposed Iraq- forts to help the Wedtech Corp. get Jordan pipeline project or his in-vestment in telephone company

U.S. defense contracts.

The statement from stock.

In a statement, Mr. MeKay's office said "the grand jury's investigation is not yet complete as to these and other matters, and will continue at least through the end of

"If at the end of that period of time there remains insufficient evidence to warrant a prosecution as said to these or any other matters," the statement said. "the office of independent counsel will issue a report covering all the matters which have been under investigation." Mr. Meese said at a news conference that he was "gratified hy the action and the statement" and indicated that he would not resign.

"I would urge that there be no rush to judgment." Mr. Meese said. In December, Mr. McKay issued a similar announcement stating there was insufficient evidence to

The statement from Mr. Mc-Kay's office said that "based on the evidence developed to date," Mr. McKay "does not intend to recornmend that the grand jury return an indictment against Meese as to the 'Aqaba pipeline' matter or as to matters relating to Mr. Meese's investments, including the so-called 'Baby Bells' matter," the statement Since last spring, Mr. McKay has been investigating allegations of wrongdoing by Mr. Meese, includ-ing ownership of stock in companies created by the hreakup of AT&T—the "Baby Bells"—when he was in a position to make policy

See MEESE, Page 3

Job Rate In U.S. Improves

Unemployment Falls to 5.6%, A 9-Year Low

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches WASHINGTON -- The U.S. civilian unemployment rate fell to 5.6 percent in March, the lowest level since May 1979, the government said Friday.

The Lahor Department said 262,000 nonfarm jobs were created in March, most of them in service industries, after a surge of 517,000 in February.

The unemployment rate in February was 5.7 percent.
In a steady drop, the rate has fallen nearly a full percentage point from 6.5 percent in March 1987. The number of unemployed people has dropped by one million over the year, to 6.8 million in

However, Janet L. Norwood, the commissioner of labor statistics. said a slowdown in the expansion of the labor force is beginning to be reflected in unemployment rates, which had, until last month, been dropping more on the hasis of joh

The birthrate decline in the 1960s and the early 1970s has resulted in fewer young people reaching labor force-age in the 1980s," she told the congressional Joint Economic Committee.

Also, the number of so-called 'discouraged workers," people who have given up the search for a joh out of the belief they cannot find one and are not included in the labor force or in the jobless rate calculations, rose by 115,000 in the first three months of 1988 to 1.03 million, after falling by more than 200,000 last year.

Factory employment, which had soared through the last half of 1987, was stagnant for the second month in a row.

At 19.42 million people, mannfacturers had 1,000 fewer people on their payrolls than in February, though factory employment is still more than 420,000 above where it was-a-year ago.

Nevertheless, many economists said the employment report should banish any lingering speculation that the nation was headed for a recession. Some economists had forecast no change in the jobless rate and an increase of about 200,000 to nonfarm payroll jobs.

They had also expected a steeper downward revision in the number of jobs created in February. The number of confarm payroll jobs increased by 262,000 in March after rising a revised 517,000 in February. The department originally reported a rise of 531,000 jobs in February.

About two-thirds of the growth in jobs last month was in the services sector, especially business and health services. Construction employment also increased.

Jobs in wholesale trade rose hut were little changed at the retail level. There were also modest gains in transport, government, insurance and real estate employment.

But economists said the vigor of the economy could pose problems. The concentration of new jobs in services rather than in export-onented manufacturing suggests the huge U.S. trade gap will close only slowly, they said. Although the department's payroll survey showed an increase in nonfarm employment, its survey of households, considered less accurate by most economists, showed a reduction in the labor force. The survey showed a 445.000 drop in the labor force to 122.64 million in March, while civilian employment fell 306,000 to 114.10 in a separate report, the Commerce Department said construc-tion spending fell $1 hillion, or 0.3 percent, in February to an annual rate of $391.5 hillion.

The decline followed a drop of $11.4 hillion, or 2.8 percent, in Jan-

Saudi King Asks U.S. To Replace Its Envoy

Page 2.

By David B. Ottaway

WASHINGTON — King Fahd di Arabia has asked the United States to replace its ambassador after the ambassador delivcred an official U.S. complaint over Saudi purchase of Chinese missiles,

Middle East specialists in the United States said it was the first time a U.S. ambassador bas been withdrawn at Saudi request since the countries established diplomatic relations in 1933.

This would be quite unprecedented," said Robert G. Neumann, U.S. ambassador to the kingdom in State Department officials consimed that the ambassador, Hume A Horan, who took his post in September, is "not going back" to Sandi Arabia, but they insisted he had not been declared persona non Summer Time Starts in U.S.

International Herald Tribune Summer time, or daylight time, will begin in the United States and Canada on Sunday, when the two countries will set their clocks ahead by an hour. Sundard time will return on Oct. 30.

grata. He is now in Washington "on consultations," they said.

The officials also said that although the Sandi request had come at a time of some tension in U.S.-Sandi relations, it was not specifically linked to the Chinese missile These officials refused to say what had angered Fahd, but others said the king had simply not got along with Mr. Horan. "He and Fahd somehow did not hit it off," said another former Foreign Service officer familiar with the incident. With kings, that can Mr. Horan, 53, is regarded as one of the department's most finent Arabic speakers, a rare ability in U.S.

diplomats and usually highly appreciated by Arabs. His last foreign assignment, from 1983 to 1986, was as ambassador to Sudan. The Saudis first hinted at their displeasure with Mr. Horan's appointment in September in typical ashion, officials said. When Mr. Horan was formally sworn in as ambassador at the State Department shortly before leaving for Riyadh in mid-September, the Saudi ambassador, Prince Bandar ibn Sultan, stayed away from the ceremony and sent only a low-ranking embassy official The Middle East Policy Survey which first disclosed news of Mr. Horan's recall, quoted Reagan administration officials as saying the "proximate cause" and "focal

See SAUDI, Page 6

Edwin Meese 3d said he had no intention of stepping down as the U.S. attorney general.

Hungary's Open Door Has Romanians Doing Border Dash

By Jackson Diehl

Washington Prist Service DEBRECEN, Hungary - As darkness fell one start work at new jobs in Hungary. recent Saturday night, a party of five men and two women gathered stealthily in a forest clearing near the Romanian town of Petresti, just across the border northeast of Debrecen. Made desperate by Romania's food shortages and political repression, the people were planning a dangerous bolt "across the green line." In the slang of this region, that meant a trip to Hungary.

Creeping for three hours through underbrush on the forest floor, the group evaded Romanian guards. although at one point they heard the echo of rifle shots coming from a nearby area. Finally, they found paths through the woods on the Hungarian side of the frontier and made their way to a highway, where they were picked up and cared for by a detachment of Hungarian border policemen.

A week after their escape, the group, all ethnic Hungarians, had reason to celebrate their good fortime. Only four hours after their arrival, they were granted permission to stay in the country. Within a already have been granted relief, and that many few days the immigrants had been supplied with more are expected in the coming months. According established shelter. Most were already preparing to nia already were in Hungary when the program

In fact if not in name, these escapees from Roma-nia and thousands like them in Hungary are being welcomed and pampered as political refugees. Since early February, the Hungarian government, for the first time, has advertised its willingness to provide a haven for people fleeing the oppressive conditions of its Warsaw Pact ally, causing a steady stream of refugees to flow across the border. At the same time, the policy has emerged as one of the most remarkable signs of how relations among East bloc countries are changing under the Soviet leader, Mikhail S. Gorbachev. Five years ago, Hungarian authorities said, it was inconceivable that a Hungarian government could act openly against Romania's government, or that Hungarians living in Romania would he willing to risk imprisonment or worse to flee to another Communist nation. Hungarian officials say more than 1,000 people

The bold initiative was taken because of growing concern in Hungary over the 1.7 million to 2 million ethnic Hungarians living in Romania, and because of what the authorities in Budapest contend has been the refusal of Romania's hard-line Stalinist leadership to end discrimination against them.

Freed from constraints by Mr. Gorbachev's policy of "democratization" of foreign relations, however, Hungary and Romania are engaged in a bitter and public dispute over treatment of the Hungarian minority in Romanian-ruled Transylvania. Romania denies the charges, accusing Hungary of having designs on its territory.

Refugees and church officials interviewed in Debrecen, Hungary's second-largest city, said that the Romanian side of the border was heavily guarded and that there had been many reports of guards' shooting at people trying to escape.

For Romanians caught trying to cross or those who return after overstaying visas, heavy penalties await. Western diplomats and Hungarian officials food, clothes and money as well as space in a newly to unofficial estimates, 10,000 refugees from Roma- said would-be defectors are given multiple-year sentences in hard-labor camps.

Despite such risks, the Romanians who have made it to Hungary say the new policy bas meant the opportunity of a lifetime. "We wanted to come here for years, but this is the first time there was a chance," said Istvan B., one of the recent illegal arrivals. Like all of the refugees interviewed, he asked that his [u]] name not be used because of the chance of reprisals against family members still in

"We were always afraid in the past that we would he sent back by the Hungarians - and that would be tragic for us in Romania," said 1stvan, 27, a factory worker. "But here we have been offered everything. In fact, all we want now is to go on living here."

Among East bloc refugees, only East Germans arriving in West Germany now receive treatment rivaling that in Hungary for Romanians. Bolstered by a special government appropriation of 300 million forints ($6.5 million) and an outpouring of public donations, Hungarian municipal officials can offer arrivals money, food and shelter, and churches are overflowing with donations of clothes.

By Clyde Haberman New York Times Service

TOKYO — His long frame, always spare, borders on gaunt these days. The mouth is a bit pinched, an unmistakable sign that here is a man of years.

But the opinions remain clear as glass, and, as ever, they are stripped clean of oratorical frills and expressed in a powder-dry voice. And those are the surest signs that Mike Mansfield is

After oearly four months away from Tokyo — first for a triple-bypass heart operation, then for prostate surgery - Mr. Mansfield has once more taken up his post as U.S. ambassador to

He is the longest-serving envoy in the post, and speculation had been widespread that after 11 years on the job, and at the age of 85, he would decide there were other ways to spend his days. But forecasts of his imminent departure have circulated for years, and Mr. Mansfield dismissed the latest rumor as he had all the

"Never thought of it," he said, closing the discussion. Personal questions tend to bring

The ambassador had to take things slowly after his return from Washington a few weeks ago. He had lost 15 pounds (6.8 kilograms), and tired quickly. But he has since put on eight of those pounds, and he is more less back to his normal 7 A.M.-to-4 P.M. routine. Next week, he says, he will be ready to "start going out to a couple of political shindigs."

Still, despite impressive longevity in a sensi-tive position, it must be assumed that Mr. Mansfield is in his final year in Tokyo. Even if he does not step down on his own, the new U.S. president next January may insist, whoever he

Mr. Mansfield was appointed in 1977 by President Jimmy Carter, a fellow Democrat, and in his surprise he was retained through the eight years of Ronald Reagan. "My plan is to be here at least until Jan. 20, 1989," the ambassa- his office at the U.S. Embassy, overlooking one dor said in essentially a nonresponse to a question about whether he can beat the odds again. If he cannot, he will leave with U.S.-Japan relations in more ragged shape than they have been for years. Endless trade imbalances are taking their toll, and so is the two-way hectoring, with many Americans questioning Japanese reliability and just as many Japanese questioning American competence.

The severity of the mood was underlined Thursday when House and Senate conferees agreed in Washington to impose tough import curbs on Toshiba Corp. of Japan because one of its subsidiaries had sold militarily sensitive echnology to the Soviet Union.

For all the strains, however, Mr. Mansfield is sanguine about the relationship, "Paradoxically, it may well have been strengthened," he said. 'There's a greater degree of understanding about the responsibilities of Japan in the area of trade and economics."

A big problem, the ambassador continued, is that both sides insist on butting heads one issue at a time. At the moment, the trade battles happen to be focused on U.S. demands that Japan accept more American beef and citrus products and that American construction companies be allowed to compete for public-works contracts in Japan. But issues come and go, Mr. Mansfield said. Next year, there will be still new ones. "It's a procedure which can go on indefinitely, and in the process create difficulties and delicate situa"A lot has moved along.

What is needed instead, he said, is a comprehensive trade agreement between the two countries, one that would set forth clear objectives on a broad spectrum of mutual interests, solid and stable than when I came out here. The What is needed instead, he said, is a compreon a broad spectrum of mutual interests, "based on reciprocity and equal opportunity."

But he quickly added: "Encouragement? Haven't received any, either from Washington or Tokyo. But at least there's more talk about it, and it seems to be generating some interest." Mr. Mansfield talked from a padded chair in look back on them."

of the busier areas of central Tokyo. Abiding by a self-imposed custom of long standing, be served cups of instant coffee that he prepared himself. Illness, it seemed, bad oot deteriorated, nor improved, his coffee-making skills.

The ambassador first saw Japan as a 19-yearold marine, right after World War I, and his abiding interest in East Asia continued through 34 years as a representative and then a senator from Montana. It is his conviction that, while attitudes may be shifting back bome, the United States remains overly fixated on Europe.

"I don't see," he said, "how you can come to any other conclusion but that it's in this basin where it all is, and where it's all about, and that's where our future lies and that the next century indubitably will be the century of the

The heart of that future, Mr. Mansfield asserts, is a sound U.S.-Japan partnership. On this score, he criticizes U.S. politicians and businessmen for being too quick to point an accusing finger at Japan, and for failing to come to grips with the United States's own deficits and inefficiencies.

On occasion, this has produced complaints that he is "soft" on the Japanese. But Mr. Mansfield buries the criticism under an avalanche of figures and facts to show that Japan has come far since be arrived as ambassador in

In the process, he delivers what sounds suspi-

"A lot has moved along, but it's not been on a spurt basis — it's been on a gradual basis," he recognition that we're partners in an alliance is accepted throughout Japan; not so when I came out here. Changes have occurred."

"They haven't been dramatic," Mr. Mansfield said, and then added: "Except when you

WORLD BRIEFS

Soviet TV Reports Armenians' Strike

MOSCOW (API — A national television broadcast confirmed Friday that strikes have paralyzed most industry in the city of Stepanakert in a mountainous southern region at the center of a dispute between Armenians and Azerbaijanis.

The nightly news broadcast Vremya reported that construction was at a standstill and delivery of goods had been disrupted to and from the city. "Public transport is virtually at a halt, and many enterprises are idle on account of the failure to turn out to work," the broadcast said,

Vremya, the most-watched program on Soviet television, and an earlier report by the Tass news agency appeared to try to reason with Armenians about the futility of pressing their demands for return of the Nagorno-about the futility of pressing their demands for return of the Nagorno-Karabakh Autonomous Region to Armenia. The region has been part of Azerbaijan since 1923.

Shultz Confirms Talks on Afghan Aid

ROME (AP) — Secretary of State George P. Shultz has confirmed that he is exploring with the Soviet Union arrangements for continuing U.S. and Soviet military aid to rival forces in Afghanistan as part of a negotiated settlement of the conflict.

Mr. Shultz said Friday that be did not know whether the Soviets would go along with the arreal levels of sid to the two sides. But he emphasized go along with the equal levels of aid to the two sides. But he emphasized that the United States was prepared to guarantee a settlement even while weapons keep flowing to the combatants. weapons keep nowing to the comparants.

"If we have signed the accords and see a need to support our friends we will be able to do it," he said. The proposed compromise on Afghan aid would remove the only major impediment to a settlement of the war and the withdrawal of the Soviet Army, which has been propping up the Marxist government in Kabul.

Sikhs Murder 35 More in Punjab

NEW DELHI (NYT) — Radical Sikhs massacred at least 35 persons in Punjab on Friday, including 19 women and children, as part of an increasingly violent offensive to disrupt life in the state that has already taken 89 lives this week, officials said. Tin !

achine

ifense.

Extra regions

· |= : := -

:54: V

2000 - 100.

学业人生

lawkins

The Barrette

50

200

taken 89 lives this week, officials said.

Most of the killings occurred at Rajhra village, near the town of Patti, where Sikhs early Friday morning surrounded the homes of a Hindu family, rounded up the members, including a five-month-old infant, and sprayed them with gunfire from automatic weapons.

The massacres heightened concern among Indian officials, already shaken by the increased firepower of Sikh militants who in the past week shave used shoulder fired and took missiles similar to those used by have used shoulder-fired anti-tank missiles, similar to those used by rebels in the war in Afghanistan, against security forces in the Punjab.

IRS Puts Tax Bills in Overseas Mail

WASHINGTON (IHT) - The Internal Revenue Service has begun sending overdue tax bills to many U.S. civilians who work in military recreational facilities and commissaries abroad, saying that they have wrongfully taken the foreign earned income exclusion.

The tax deficiency notices are among the first results of the agency's five-year plan to make sure that Americans overseas pay their taxes.

Many U.S. citizens living and working abroad are allowed to exclude up to $70,000 of to $70,000 of overseas earned income from U.S. income taxes. Govern North Chocun, who is 32 and ment workers are not eligible for the exclusion, however. Since a 1954 ruling, the IRS has considered the recreational facility and commissary workers as government employees.

According to a spokesman, the agency was able to track down these returns by using a new computer document-matching program. The first 600 tax bills have been mailed to Americans in West Germany, and an IRS spokesman said an additional 1,500 were being processed.

Nouth Choeun described how he carried food and weapons from Thailand into Cambodia to be stockpiled in a Khmer Rouge camp.

Pol Pot Strategy Alarms Allies and Foes

By Barbara Crossette New York Times Service

SITE 2, Thailand - The procession begins at sundown, when in-ternational relief workers have left strikes, Khmer Rouge forces, these lonely border camps shelter- armed by China, appear to be fortiing more than a quarter of a million fying themselves militarily and podisplaced Cambodians. Trucks litically in or near Cambodian loaded with men and boys, 150 or towns and villages, awaiting the 200 at a time, pull away from civil-ian settlements controlled by Pol The tactie is as alarming to Pol these "volunteers" are burdened like pack animals with weapons, ammuniting and food and sent is bow to get the Vietnamese to pull trol for this non-Communist camp - including several who served as overthrown by pro-Vietnamese officials of two non-Communist guerrilla organizations trying to Cambodians died. Prince Sihawork in coalition with the Pol Pot nonk, the former king whn was that the Khmer Rouge has altered Cambodia, remains the nominal its strategy in its long-running war with the Vietnamese.

Pot's Khmer Rouge guerrillas and rumble into Cambodia.

There, at concealed warehouses, tion to the development in military

"The main problem we now have trekking into the Cambodian interior to stockpile supplies for the Khmer Rouge. "said Roland Eng. a split in the Khmer Rouge between the Khmer Rouge continuous with Cambodians who have fled Khmer Rouge continuous with Cambodians who have fled Khmer Rouge continuous continuou

Pol Pot's Communist regime was rule in which more than a million forces, lend credence to reports bead of a neutralist government in

Cambodia, remains the nominal The supplies enter Cambodia leader of the coalition that includes from the Thai border along two the Pol Pot army. secure routes, poriers and other

Last December, Prince Sihanouk Khmer Rouge civilians say. began meeting Prime Minister Hun Sen to discuss possible political so-lutions for the nine-year-long guer-rilla war. The Vietnamese say they will withdraw their troops by 1990 whatever situation prevails, al-though they have reserved the right to return to Cambodia if necessary. Sen to discuss possible political soto return to Cambodia if necessary. a two-day hike, the convoy reached

Khieu Sampban, a Khmer a forest cache, where the mines Rouge leader based in Bangkok, were carefully wrapped in plastic denies that the organization is plot- bags and buried. ting an attempt to seize power in Phnom Penh, from which Pol Pot's

Hanoi faction in power. Military campaigns in 1984-85 drove Pol ammunition porters - and with forces in 1979 after four years of Pot's forces from some remaining bases in northwest Cambodia, but they have never been defeated.

Although many nations give diplomatic backing if not recognition to the Cambodian opposition coalition, which holds the country's seat at the United Nations, China has been most generous with material support, especially for the Pol Pot week, refugees say. forces. The coalition leaders say this support has sharply increased in recent months.

border through Thailand, coalition officials say. Cambodian refugees say the trucks transporting porters and weapons often bave drivers wbom they identify as Thais in uniform. Thailand, facing Vietnam's buge army on its border, has been strongly supportive of the guerrilla coalition. Bangkok and Hanoi bave historically struggled for influence in Cambodia.

Nouth Choeun said he was one of 150 porters, men and boys from 16 to 50, who were taken from the Khmer Rouge civilian settlement called Site 8, in the shadow of Ta Ngoc mountain just inside Thailand, Twenty Khmer Rouge soldiers and a small corps of women's militia accompanied them, bringing cooked food. He said most of the men had volunteered, believing they could bring back food for their families or saleable goods: snails, salted or fermented fish, tobacco and mariimprisoned by the Khmer Rouge for refusing to work as porters, reftroops, land mines and malaria.

Nouth Chocun said that on his second trip, the porters going into Cambodia met a Khmer Rouge fighting force coming out. When the two groups stopped to talk and smoke, he said, someone stepped

TRAVEL UPDATE

Airlines Want to Curb Flier Awards -WASHINGTON (WP) - As frequent-flier awards have burgeoned

under the force of competition, airline executives and their accountants have become increasingly concerned about the financial liability represented by unclaimed awards, according to industry sources.

As a result, they are looking for ways to dramatically scale down the competition, the sources said. "Simply put, I think the airlines are going to virtually wipe them out," said Julius Maldutis, an industry analyst with Salomon Brothers Inc. . The problem is that no airline wants to step out in front of the others fermented fish, tobacco and marijuana. Other porters were coerced into joining convoys, which leave the civilan camps at least once a the property of the civilan camps at least once a an analyst with L.F. Rothschild.

Some Cambodians have been Tourists Facing Long Delays at Dover LONDON (AP) - More than 3,000 tourists on the first day of their

the weapons, and possibly food supplies, reach the Cambodian border through Thailand, coalition the route: Vietnamese the strike-bound port of Dover on Friday. They faced delays of up to 15% hours, a port spokesman said. The strike has halted all P&O ferries in Dover, but other vessels were operating. About 2,300 ferry workers have been on strike for eight weeks over P&O's plan to cut 400 jobs and introduce new shifts.

Italian sirport workers rejected on Friday a government-mediated contract on pay and working hours after more than six months of strikes. It was not clear if the result would mean further strikes, which have off the path and onto a mine, which created chaos at the airports. Many workers, particularly at Rome's exploded, killing three or four peo-ple and wounding 13.

Framicino Airport, had been staging unofficial wildcat stoppages to protest the pact since it was announced in mid-March. (Reuters) or more off your newsstand price when you subscribe for 12 months to the International Herald Tribune. The longer you subscribe the more you save.

Country/Currency		12 months + 52 ISSUES	% SAVINGS	6 months + 26 ISSUES	% SAVINGS	3 months + 13 ISSUES	% SAVINGS
Austria	A.Sch.	4,900	39	2,700	33	1,500	25
Belgium	B.Fr.	11,500	37	6,300	31	3,400	25
Denmark	D,Kr.	2,700	33	1,500	25	830	17_
Finland	F.M.	1,830_	41	1,000	35	550	29
France	F.F.	1,600	37	880	31	480	25
Germany*	D.M.	600	39	330	33	182	26
Gr. Britain	£	135	38	74	32	41	25
Greece	Dr.	25,000	47	14,000	41	7,700	35
Ireland	_£Iri.	155_	43	85	38	47	31
Italy	Lire	400,000	39	220,000	33	121,000	26
Luxembourg	L.Fr.	11,500	37	6,300	31	3,400	25
Netherlands	FL	660	40	365	33	200	27
Norway (air)	N.Kr.	2,000	39	1,100	33	600	27
— (bd. del.)	N.Kr.	2,500	24	1,400	15	700	15
Portugal	Esc.	26,000	51	14,300	46	7,900	40
Spain (air)	Ptas.	31,000	41	17,000	36	9,400	29
(hd.del.)	Ptas.	45,240		22,620		11,310	_
Sweden (air)	S.Kr.	2,000	39	1,100	33	600	27
(hd. del.)	Skr.	2,500	24	1,400	15	700	15
Switzerland	S.Fr.	510	44	280	38	154	32
Rest of Europe, Africa, Middle I			Varies	260	Varies	145	Varies
Rest of Africa, (Gulf Stat	ies, 620	country	340	country	190	country is available in major cities on publication date. For details and rates, please check here and fill in your et early morning hand delivery in the following cities: Oslo, Storanger, Stockholm, Göteborg and Malmö. Offer valid through December 31, 1988 for new subscribers only.

Tn: Subscription Manager, International Herald Tribune, 181, Ave. Charles-de-Gaulle, 92521 Neuilly Cedex, France. Tel.: (1) 46 37 93 61. Tix.: 612832.

Herald Tribun

Please check the subscription term you desire:

Please charge to my credit card account:

Access Amex Diners Visa

My check is enclosed.

Card account number

Card expiry date

__ 52 cura issues with a 12-month subscription (364 issues in all.)

26 extra issues with a 6-month subscription (182 issues in all.)

13 extra issues with a 3-mouth subscription (91 issues in all.)

JUARANTEE

The International Herald

Tribune stands behind its long history of excellence.

We'll refund your money your subscription if you're on all unserved issues in not completely satisfied.

OUICK SERVICE:

Delivery will begin within seven days of receipt of your

CHURCH SERVICES

CENTER OF COPENHAGEN
FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, English speaking
Sun. 9:00, Baggesengade 7, (Bus 3,5,7,16)
Dr. R.J. Robinson, Min. Tel.: (01) 373924.

STOOG-ICUM

MMANUEL CHURCH, Kurgateng, & Birger
Jorl, Friendly drieffon felfowdrip, English, Swedich & Koroon 11:00. Tel.: (08) 151225, & 307803.

HOLLAND TRINITY BAPTIST S.S. 9.45, Worship 11.00, running Source (1902) 1900, Worstep 1900, running Source (1902) Meets of Woswer-cor Cultural Centrum, Kerkstroot 75 in Wos-sencer, Tel.: 01751 - 78024.

HAMBURG

BYTERNATIONAL BAPTIST CHURCH OF
HAMBURG meets at Ev. Freikirchliche
Gemeinde Christuskirche, Suther Str. 18, Homburg-Altono. Bible Study 1 p.m. +
Worship 2 p.m. Tel.: (0) 4101-207933.

PARES and SUBURBS EMMANUEL BAPTIST CHURCH, 56 Rue des Bors-Reisins, Rusi-Mohrasson, English speak, evangelical, all denominations. S.S. 9:45; Worship: 10:45. Other activities. Call Dr. B.C. Thomas, Pastor. 47:49:15:29/47:51:29:63.

AMERICAN CHURCH IN FARIS, Easter Ser Antonian Control in Press, costs services, 8500 c.m. early service opposite the Church; Organ preliate 10:30 c.m.; Worship 11 c.m. including the "Talelujah Chorus". 65 Quai ef Orsay, Paris 7. Bus 63 at door, Metros Almo-Marceou or Invalides.

UNITARIANUNIVERSALISTS worship Morch 20, April 10, May 8, 11:30 c.m., 1 rue de l'Orestère, Paris 1°. Tel.: 45 00 96 01, 42 78 82 58.

ST. MCHAEL'S CHURCH (ANGUCAN), 5 rue of Aguesseou, 75008 Poris. Tel.: 47.42.70.88, We invite you to our Easter services: 10 h 15 Holy Communion, 11 h 45 Family Service, 18 h 30 Holy Communion. A critche is available for young children. Affeksiot Owișt is risen indoed.

THE AMERICAN CATHEDRAL (Episcopol-Anglican), Mon.-fri. 12 noon Holy Eucharist Sun. 9 & 11 p.m. Holy Eucharist, 23 ave. George V, Paris 8. Tel.: 47 20 17 92.

NITENATIONAL PROTESTANT CHURCH, English speeking, Sundays 11-30 c.m., Schonzengusse 25, Telu (01) 69 55 25. - Charles H. Jester, Postor.

GENEVA

INTERNATIONAL CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP
OF GENEVA, English specking Sunday service 12:00 noon of Chopelle des Buis, 3 rue Aract. Rev. Greg Firch, P.O. Box 2447, Ct1211 Geneva 2. (022) 32 08 67

CHURCH OF THE LIVING SAYIOUR, Geneva's International Pentecostal church, 20 Ave. Breat-Pictet. Briefy a warm samosphere of joyful, spiritified worship in English, 10:30 c.m. and 7 p.m. Tel.: 447070 or 988580.

2-4-88

To Pretoria

sible for the murder of the African Great in 1714, was an inferno of National Congress representative burning books and newspapers. in France, the newspaper Le Monde reported Friday.

The front-page article said the French secret service agencies as well as Western intelligence agen-cies with personnel in Paris all bebeve the South African National Intelligence Service was behind the

If it was not directly involved, the article said, the experts believe the intelligence service at least or-dered, and possibly organized the Dulcie September, 53, was found shot to death Tuesday morning in front of the door to the Paris office of the anti-apartheid group. The police say they have found no witnesses and have no clues beyond the 22-caliber cartridge casings found at the scene.

Le Monde said that as early as Tuesday night information was passed to the French counterintelligence agency that South African agents had recently arrived in On Thursday, the South African moned to the Elysee Palace to be informed of President François Mitterrand's "extreme emotion" The South African government ambassador to France was sum-has denied any involvement in the bassy said: The South African gency aid for Mozambique. government categorically denies all At least $183 million of that toria responsible for this murder."

Paris Killing Leningrad Library Fire Attributed Is Called Catastrophic

By Philip Taubman
New York Times Service

Sciences, founded by Peter the care to block the spread of fungus.

Sunday, as flames consumed whole rooms of books, including irreplaceable 17th-, 18th- and 19thcentury scientific collections. "The library looked like a fur-nace," recalled Lyudmila Petrov, head of the rare books department. By the time the fire was put out late the next afternoon, the library courtyard was buried under a mountain of smoldering books and newspapers thrown from the windows by firemen as they fought the acutely at home. Russians admine The first official accounts of the fire suggested bittle damage — the to understand. library's acting director has denied — As news of a Soviet scholar's published asserweek confirmed more recent reports in the Soviet press that the millions of volumes damaged by

are still sifting through the black-

Pérez de Cuéllar Asks For Aid to Mozambique New York Times Service

UNITED NATIONS, New killing.

A statement issued after the meeting by the South African Emfort more than $380 million in emer-instructions aimed at holding Pre- amount is needed in the form of oria responsible for this murder." emergency food supplies, according to a UN study. Mozambique held between various intelligence also oceds $38 million worth of specialists after the killing and all farming supplies, $27 million in the library's newspaper reposand survival items, the report said.

Library officials said 400,00 books were destroyed, 3.6 million LENINGRAD — The fire started at about 8 P.M. By dawn the were damaged by water, 10,000 became infected with mold and 7.5 PARIS — Western intelligence ed at about 8 P.M. By dawn the agencies are convinced that South library of the National Academy of million are in need of preventive care to block the spread of fungus

The Leningrad library, the main urning books and newspapers.

Library employees watched in Sciences since the Bolshevik Revohorror on the night of Feb. 14, a lution, has grown from Peter the Great's day to become one of the world's largest, housing more than 17.5 million volumes. Twelve million were stored in the building ravaged by fire.

Book restoration experts from abroad, including three from the United States, one of them from the Library of Congress, have gathered in Leningrad to help. But the loss has been felt most their books with a passion that is sometimes difficult for foreigners As news of the fire spread through Leningrad, thousands of tion that there was an initial cover- citizens came to the library offering up — but a visit to Leningrad this to help sort through the debris and ire was catastrophic.

Six weeks after the fire, workers water that was poured into the library for 19 hours. More than 15,000 volunteers have worked at the library in the weeks since the blaze, according to the library's acting director, Valery

P. Leonov. The director, Vladimir A. Friev, was bospitalized immediately after the fire, reportedly suffering from a heart problem.

Although officially reopened in mid-March, the library is able conduct only part of its normal business. The six-story, concrete library building situated on Vasilyevsky Island, one of the oldest districts of the former imperial capital, is still permeated with the smell of smoke. Mr. Leonov said the fire started tory. He said the cause remained is' Strike confirmed Friday is Stepanakert in a te between Arme onstruction was at and from the city. aprises are idle on icast said. sion, and an earlier on with Armenians n of the Nagornoon has been part of fghan Aid has confirmed that for continuing U.S. istan as part of a er the Soviets would But he emphasized stilement even while pport our friends we muse on Afghan aid ment of the war and en propping up the

*'*unjab at least 35 persons in dren, as part of an state that has already ear the town of Paul

e homes of a finds who in the past week lar to those used by forces in the Punjah.

seas Mail nue Service has began who work in military saying that they have results of the agency's erseas pay their taxes : allowed to exclude up income taxes. Govern

however. Since a 1954 acility and commissary ale to track down these hing program. The first West Germany, and an

ATE

ier Awards awards have burgeoned

ing processed

es and their accountants financial liability represtry sources. matically scale down the ink the airlines are going an industry analyst with out in front of the others aness travelers who have risk the industry runs is gers," said Paul P. Karos, elays at Dover is on the first day of their 425 cars and 500 trucks it ey (aced delays of up to 13 over, but other vests were sen on strike for eight weeks uce new shifts.

lay a government te than six months of strikes further strikes, which have ers, particularly at Rome's red-March.

orary Fire ıstrophic

ibrary officials said 400 to wree destroyed, 1.6 miles re damaged by water, 10,000 me injected with mold and 3 then are in need of present The Leningrad library, the series since the Bolsherik Res tion, his grown from Pearl irea: - day to become one di on were stored in the aviged by fire.

Book restoration expert throad, including the feet he Library of Congress have and in Lengual old But the loss has ben to be secretly at home. Russiand their books with a professionneuries difficult for least in understand As news of the fire through Leningrad in the citizens come to the district to help son through the assist in the daugith millions of volume water that was pounds brary for 19 hours More than have worked it the have the library's seine of The director Visited P. Leones the director in the heart problem.

Although officials and mad-March, the library and the mad-March, the library and the libra March the board of its problems with one in every foor purchases, according to the federal Office of Consumer Affairs. Seventy percent of consumers do not complain because they don't know where to call, don't think it's worth the effort or don't think the companies will respond Eighteen percent throw away defective products and pay erroneous bills without complaining.

Boyers' Complaints Can Generate Profits U.S. consumers encounter

Of the customers who do not complain, 63 percent switch brands. Of the consumers who do complain and receive satisfactory responses, 70 percent become the companies most loyal customers.

Thus, says the Technical Assis-sance Research Programs Insti-tute: a Washington market-re-search firm, handling complaints properly can generate profits. In-deed, the firm says, this may be less expensive than advertising. Customers who are satisfied with the way a company handled a complaint tell four or five people about it on the average. On the other band, disgruntled custom-ers tell nine or 10 people.

New Barriers Replace White House Eyesore

The wall of concrete barriers around the White House, erected in 1983 after 241 American servicemen were killed in a terrorist truck bomb attack in Beirut, is being replaced. In July, a new $670,000 bulwark is scheduled to be completed along Pennsylvania Avenue in front of the president's

The New York Times reports that the new barrier consists of 274 harrel-shaped cement posts, each 38 inches (about one meter) high, placed four feet apart and joined by heavy chains.

The project had to be approved he looks forward to a Post that its by the federal Commission of readers no longer hide in their Fine Arts, which has veto power | briefcases, but fold under their over the architecture of the capi-tal's monuments, federal build. New York Times and The Wall ings and museums. An earlier Street Journal." He indicated proposal that would have put an that sensationalism is out: "We all, poodles are as brave and existing ornamental iron sence on don't want these guys who cut off friendly as any dog. They don't

WHITE HOUSE EGGS - Nancy Reagan checks the Easter egg collection at the White House. The wooden eggs, decorated by artists and cartoonists, are on display each year at Easter.

sion as too ugly.

Short Takes

Two years of low rainfall have brought drought to much of the West and threaten to force water rationing in many communities.
With varying degrees of severity, the dry spell is affecting wide portions of the West from Wyoming to California, from Washington state to New Mexico. In many areas, the mountain snowpack is only 50 percent to 70 percent of its normal depth.

York Post, Peter S. Kalikow, has begin "evolutionary changes" to emphasize the newspaper's ties to Manhattan and make it "the inflight magazine of the New York City commuter." Mr. Kalikow, 45, a real-estate developer, bought The Post for $37.6 million from Rupert Murdoch. He said top of a 42-inch-high concrete their wife's head and put it into wall was rejected by the commis-

The typical Roman Catholic priest costs his parish $26,376 a year in salary and expenses; his Episcopal counterpart, $45,005; a Lutheran pastor, $39,059; and United Methodist, $35,308, according to a study by Dean R. Hoge of Catholic University and two colleagues. Catholic priests had the lowest cash salaries, $7,625. Episcopalians average $22,174 a year; Lutheraos, $21,688, and Umted Methodists. $20,933. Most Protestant clergy are married and have families to support. But the celibate Catholic priests, most of whom live in the sometimes spacious rectories of their parishes, have the highest

John Suter and a team of 11 noodles started the Iditarod sleddog race across the Alaskan wilderness this month; 18 days and 1,158 miles (1,878 kilometers) later, Mr. Sater and his team fin-ished 38th with three of the poo-dles still pulling. "For poodles everywhere," said The Washing-ton Post in an editorial, "it was one giant step up from fluffy-hood." The Post added, "After housing costs, $12,767.

choose to be trimmed to look like ornamental shrubbery, oor is it they who pick names like Fifi, Mimi and Mignonette, given any say about it, they might well de-cide to be called Charlemagne, Jeanne d'Arc, Napoleon or Reen-Teen-Teen."

The New York Times notes in an editorial that Dooald J. Trump, having put his wife, lvana, in charge of his newly bought Plaza Hotel in Manhattan, plans to pay her "$1 a year plus all the dresses she can buy." The Times ruminates, "Suppose Mrs. Trump takes Mr. Trump at his word." At three $10,000 haute couture dresses a week she could spend, "without even trying, about $1.5 million a year."

Maureen Cannon contributed this seasonal poem to The New York Times:

HAPPY EASTER l word from a mother who begs You hark to her Eastertime bal-

I'm all for your coloring eggs Provided that later My egg decorator You're all for a week of egg salads!

Arthur Higbee

Physics Professor Is Unlikely Superstar

2 U.S. Universities Battle for Services of Top Superconductor Researcher

By Mark A. Stein and J. Michael Kennedy

Los Angeles Times Service BERKELEY, California — He is a lot like a "franchise player": one highly paid athlete around whom a successful big-league sports team can be huilt; an individual good enough to attract and inspire other talent and make the entire franchise a winner.

It is not surprising, then, that major universities compete fiercely for his services. What is surprisiog is that the object of all this attention is not an athlete. He is a physics professor.

Paul C.W. Chu, a leader in the unfolding superconductor revolu-tion, has been the focus of a very visible recruiting tussle between the University of California, Berkeley, and the University of Houston, where Mr. Chu did his ground-breaking work last year in high-temperature superconductivity. Both universities have offered Mr. Chu entirely new, well-funded, fully staffed laboratories; both have offered accommodating teaching assignments; both have offered generous salaries. As of Thursday afternoon, Mr. Chu remained undecided.

Whichever way he decides, the trend toward more aggressive re-cruitment of college professors, particularly in the sciences, is likely to continue for some time. It is a trend that professors themselves believe is beneficial because it could renew student interest in sci-

"Maybe, for God's sake, we will stop producing so many lawyers and MBAs," said Gerald Wasserburg, a respected geologist at the California Institute of Technology who recently resisted recruitment by Berkeley, "and produce instead people who will discover oew things and help maoufacture

Big schools seek to protect their leadership in some disciplines by hiring promising scientists from smaller schools, while small schools try to improve their standing by wooing a few top names.

There are several factors behind the trend, according to university officials, including the recent clamor for "academic excellence," the conviction among state officials that a respected university can spawn the oext Silicoo Valley and decisions by researchers to salaries in industry.

ed from Yale by the University of $50,000 more in outside research.

leave academia in search of higher Houston, a state university, seemed from leaving. Mr. Chu received letsecure. His annual salary jumped "If there's a peodulum, it's to $150,000 — the highest at that urging him to stay; elected officials swinging in the direction of more university and among the highest in raiding," said Julius Getman, a law the nation for academics. In the professor who was recently recruit- summer he was free to make years of research, with the promise

Texas and now serves as president At the same time, Mr. Cho was of the American Association of getting inquiries from the University Professors.

getting inquiries from the University of California, a leading center of Mr. Chu broke onto the national physics. Berkeley wanted to add scene last year as a leading figure in someone to its physics faculty who the stampede to develop a practical also could run a superconductivity superconductor - that is, a materi- center recently established at the

Paul Chu developed a material that is superconductive at temperatures that are fairly easy and cheap to achieve, making him one of the hottest U.S. scientists in that can transmit electricity affiliated Lawrence Berkeley Labwithout the resistance inherent in oratory. most conducting materials, and do decades.

tionize everything from transport search.
to computers to household appli-

Mr. Chu did not discover superconductivity. That was done in 1911. Nor did he renew interest in the phenomenon by demonstrating that it can happen at relatively warm temperatures. That was done by Swiss scientists in 1986. What Mr. Chu did was develop a material that is superconductive at temperatures that are fairly easy and cheap to achieve, although still oot practical for many everyday applications. It was enough to the hottest U.S. scientists in de-turer. He was written up in scholary journals and the popular press. He was asked to help the National Science Foundation decide which research projects to fund. He was deluged with offers of financial help for his own work. He was Berkeley university will oot disit at or reasonably ocar room tem- cuss its salary offer, but one university spokesman said the school's some universities.

"A university is willing to bet on 575,000 during a nine-month acayou because they expect you to be Such materials excite engineers most senior professors earn up to because they would allow super- $75,000 during a nine-month acaefficient electric motors, super- demic year. lo addition, Berkeley powerful magnets and super-last has offered $1.5 million to $2 milsemiconductors that may revolu- lion a year to fund Mr. Chu's re-

> When Berkeley's offer became at stake." known, the eyes of Texas turned upon Mr. Chu.

Extraordinary efforts were be-gun to keep the University of Houston's only academic superstar

More New York Babies Are Affected by Drugs

New York Times Service NEW YORK - Reports of in fants born in New York with sympmake Mr. Chu, who is 47, one of toms of drug withdrawal ocarly doubled during the 1987 fiscal year and were rising by an additional 50 He became in demand as a lec- percent during the first four months of this year, the Human Resources Administration says.

The agency said Thursday that the surge in babies with withdrawal symptoms -- from 1,325 in the fiscal year ended in June 1986 to 2,521 in 1987 and to 1,336 in the mentioned as a possible contender following four months — was be-for the Nobel Prize, cause of crack, which swept His future at the University of through the city during that time.

ters from members of the public appealed to him; the university raised $27 millioo to finance three of $9 million more. Hoostoo officials reportedly even offered a part-time professor law, Shiing Shen Chern, 77, a re-spected differential geometry scholar. The provost at Houston, Neal Amundson, would not discuss

Despite this, Berkeley officials say that Mr. Chu twice last month appeared to accept their more modest offer, only to back down both times, once after the university already had publicly announced his successful recruitment.

Universities are eager to offer to Mr. Chu and other top scientists because those big-oame scientists in turn draw large government and industry research grants, said David Goodstein, a vice provost at Cal Tech. Such grants can constitute up to 60 percent of the entire budget of able to bring in grants," Mr. Goodstein said. Part of the attraction of famous scientists, he said, "is prestige, but much more than prestige is Single diamonds at wholesale prices by ordering direct from Ant-werp, the world's most important cui-diamond market. Give diamonds to the ones you love, buy for investment, for your enjoyment.

Write airmail for free price list or call us: Joachim Goldenstein diamantexport BVBA Emblished 1928 elikaanstrant 62, B-2018 Autwerp Belgium - Tel.: (32.3) 234.07.51 Telen: 71779 syl h. Tolefan: 32.3/231.38.87

at the Diamond Club Bldg.

MEESE: No Evidence 'to Date' to Warrant Indictment

(Continued from Page 1)

Urged to Resign

Earlier, Pulip Shenon of The Men Fart Times reported from Washington

Solicitor General Charles Fried, sider staying on the Justice Department's fourthrinking official; urged Mr. Messe After the meeting with Mr. Mr. McKay has been investigating for resign but was rebuffed, depart. Fried, Mr. Messe said he hoped ing Mr. Messe since May, focusing ment officials say.

Mr. McKay has been investigating Mr. Messe since May, focusing most recently on a proposed $1

Supreme Court, told Mr. Meese in a meeting Wednesday that the attorney general's legal problems were creating turned within the department.

The officials said the meeting was prompted by the resignations four of their top aides quit in pro-test of Mr. Meese's continued pres-cancer. rou Sir William served as prime min- era.

ister and head of the Liberal Party in 1971-72, and previously headed the Treasury and Foreign Affairs

He became prime minister on March 10, 1971, but lost to Gough

Whitlam the following year.

John Cleflon Holmes, 62, a novdist who was the first to describe

South Africa Crash Kills 24

The Associated Press

Department.

Other deaths:

Sir William McMahon, 80,

Ex-Australian Leader, Dies

ject. A Justice Department official said Mr. Meese recently told colleagues he would not be "crippled" Moese to resign. A White House by an indictment and would con-

They said Mr. Fried, the depart on: Department officials said that mean's chief advocate before the Mr. Fried had stressed he was making no judgment on whether Mr. Meese was guilty of a crime.

Instead, they said, the solicitor general told Mr. Meese that the mounting dispute over his leadership and ethical standards was hindering the department's work.

Tuesday of Departy Attorney Gencital Arnold I. Burns and William F. Weld, the head of the criminal division. According to their colleagues. Mr. Burns, Mr. Weld and The Associated Press retheir consider quittin proported from Washington. He conported from Washington. He con-Mr. Fried said Friday that he Refusal Alleged tiveness." The Associated Press re-ported from Washington. He con-firmed that he met with Mr. Meese on Wednesday "to tell him clearly

Thursday in Lima.

Mr. Meese is under investigation what course of action I thought he affecting the telecommunications by a federal grand jury looking into should follow." He declined to say industry:

his links to an Iraqi pipeline prowhat that recommendation was.] There has been no sign that President Ronald Reagan will urge Mr.

> sider staying on even if he was Reagan had assured Mr. Meese of continued support.

> > billion Iraqi pipeline.
> >
> > A close friend of Mr. Meese, E. Robert Wallach, had a financial interest in the pipeline and a feder-al grand jury is trying to determine if the attorney general received illegal financial benefits from any effort to promote the proposal within the Reagan administration. The pipeline was never built.

Bruce Rappaport, a Swiss finan-cier, backed out of a deposition he was scheduled to give to Mr. Mc-Kay last mouth and apparently has decided not to cooperate in the investigation of Mr. Meese, according to sources, The Washington Post reported from Washington. The sources said Mr. Rappaport had been scheduled to give sworn testimony at a secret meeting in London with Mr. McKay and his aides but had changed his mind at the last minute.

The Associated Press generation," Wednesday of cancer in Old Saybrook, Connecticut. He Mahon, 80, a former Australian was a companion of Jack Kerouac, prime minister, died Thursday of Allen Ginsburg, William Burroughs and other chroniclers of the Mr. Rappaport attempted to ob-tain Israeli guarantees not to attack the pipeline and to secure a $400 million insurance package for payments to Iraq and Jordan in case Israel reneged. In May 1985 he hired Mr. Wallach for help on the Gonzalo Durant, 67, justice minister of Peru, of a heart attack

Mr. McKay's office had no commr. McKay's office had no comment on Mr. Rappaport's action. Mr. Rappaport could not be Joris Minne, 91, the Belgian en-graver and sculptor, Thursday in reached for comment.

Swiss Bank Corporation and export financing.

If you're not interested in foreign markets, just turn the page.

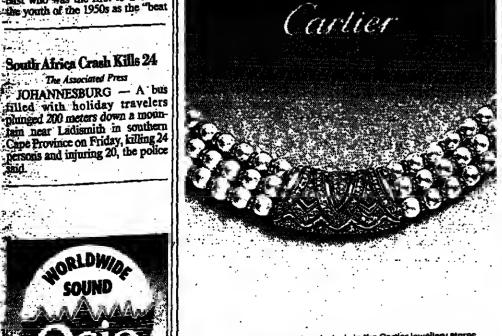

And while you're turning, somebody out there is making plans to grab the customers your company needs. Maybe it's already happening. A lot of companies make the news by learning about the international marketplace the hard way.

Are we trying to tell you there's an easy way? Not really. Except that the easiest way is probably to work the hardest. But if you are taking foreign sales seriously, the transaction skills we've developed over the years could make life easier for you.

Bahrain, Cairo, Tehran, Africa: Johannesburg. Asla: Hong Kong, Osaka, Singapore, Tokyo. Australia: Melbourne, Sydney.

Remember, these are the markets we grew up in. And our business keeps growing.

Cartier jewellery is sold exclusively in the Cartier jewellery stores and the Must de Cartier boundques. Each place is accompanied by a certificate guaranteeing its authenticity.

MONTE-CARLO - GENEVA - MILAN AND ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY CARTIER STORES IN MAJOR CITIES WORLDWIDE.

The key Swiss bank

General Management in CH-4002 Basie, Aeschenplatz 6, and in CH-8022 Zurich, Paradeplatz 6. Over 200 offices throughout Switzerland. Worldwide network (branches, subsidiaries and representatives): Europe: Amsterdam, Edinburgh, Frankfurt, London, Luxembourg, Madrid, Manchester, Monte Carlo, Munich, Paris, North America: Atlanta, Calgary, Chicago, Dallas, Houston, Los Angeles, Miami, Montreal, New York, San Francisco, Toronto, Vancouver. Latin America: Bogota, Buenos Aires, Caracas, Lima, Mexico, Panama, Rio de Janeiro, São Paulo. Caribbean: Grand Cayman, Nassau. Middle East:

POT Box 55, 2370 AD CPO Box 5493.
Rospingressent.
Ship Netherlands
The K 26831 Fr: (+82)2 585-1317 4 (+3079-6002

Osio Electronics

Cartier

PARIS - LONDON - NEW YORK

Contra Aid: The Fault Line

The cease-fire in Nicaragua appears to have extended to Capitol Hill. The House and the Senate have voted by top-heavy margins to support aid to the rebels. In the orderly" House consideration of a new six years since contra aid became an issue, the U.S. Congress has had to express itself dozens of times, and the vote has always been contentions, often involving a reversal of position. Contra aid lies precisely on the tras had not, and the bill provides a fault line of American politics, where the question of intervention io a foreign war intersects with the bitter and contrary lessons that Americans tonk from the Vietnam War. On no issue has Congress been more anguished and inconsistent. The dimensions of the votes this week - 345 to 70 in the House, 87 to 7 in the Senate - suggest a general eagerness to put this issue behind.

With a 60-day cease-fire in Nicaragua already in hand, the argument for providing further military aid lost its urgency, and there is oo military aid in the oew bill. With no confirmation yet that a cease-fire will lead to peace and democracy, bowever, there was a good argument for at least stating a readiness to consider military aid in the future, and the new bill meets this bill but in a separate pledge by the House speaker, Jim Wright, to permit "fair and presidential military aid request. No such request is conceivable without a solid, internationally established case that the Sandinists had violated the cease-fire and the conprocedure, through the Organization of American States, to make this case.

The bill is no great legislative achievement ft merely registers in U.S. political terms the arrangements that the Nicaraguans made among themselves at Sapoa on March 23. (And oo one can doubt that if another military aid request were made, it would precipitate more of the same deadly combat that has surrounded this issue for years.) In addition to humanitarian aid for the contras, the bill contains funds to treat some of the civilian wounded, especially the young, who have suffered in the war on both sides, and money for verification of the cease-fire. These may be easy votes. They certainly are welcome ones.

- THE WASHINGTON POST.

Pushing Noriega Properly

The staying power of Panama's strong-man, General Manuel Antonio Noriega, exceeds his opponents' expectations. Washington's application of economic pressure is still the most constructive course. Even though his regime keeps finding day-to-day financial expedients, the pressure keeps building, and should finally prevail.

But even this probable success has to be kept in perspective. Getting rid of General Noriega will be a step forward. But neither democracy nor an effective end to Panama's drug trafficking role are likely to result soon. Panamanians will have to keep working toward those ends, with continuing U.S. support after the immediate crisis passes. Having decided that General Noriega was a foe, the Reagan administration moved against him in sensible ways. The economic pressure has been continuous and cumulative, strengthening his opponents. The policy encourages Panamanians to produce their own political alternatives rather than look outside for rescue. That is the most promising path to a broadly supported successor regime in a country riven by class and caste. A Panamanian opposition once rooted in a narrow elite has been reinforced by students and workers. Government employees. once held in line by patronage, have been alienated by problematic paydays. The church has edged away from ocutrality.

Even hard-core Noriega loyalists in the army and police have been restive. Driving out General Noriega will not, by itself, break the military's hold over Panama or the grip of the Medellin drug cartel. There are still officers suspected of drug links in high posts in the defense forces. But his departure can reverse the momentum and open the way to further change. Progress will depend on the will and capacity of emerging opposition groups to keep up the fight. They will need help not just from the United States but from their Latin American friends. Some Latin leaders still do not see the larger problem and seem susceptible to General Noriega's claim that be is fighting the traditional nationalist battle against North American imperialism. They even talk of providing economic help. Other Latin neighbors appear to appreciate that Washington is trying to defend democratic values and resist mmon enemies like the Medellin mob.

Panama may have to pass through transitional stages before a democratic govern-ment can emerge, free of drug trafficking control. Only a true political process can achieve this, and that is what the Reagan administration promotes. There may be faster ways to get General Noriega to Spain or some other haven, but none that better serve long-term Panamanian and U.S. interests. - THE NEW YORK TIMES.

On With the INF Treaty

tee has sent President Reagan's first arms control treaty to the Senate floor by a vote of 17 to 2. It was the expected result, and the right one. In months of hearings on the INF Treaty, which Mr. Reagan and Mikhail Gorbachev signed in December, substantive objections were considered and found unpersuasive. Not that this treaty climinating all of the two powers' intermediate-range missiles gained in stature. On the contrary, a consensus deepened that the treaty is a politically pioneering but strateacamy limited mea: cance is to propel its signers on to larger tasks in reducing conventional, chemical and strategic arms. Still the treaty itself, as a contract standing oo its own, has held up.

A cloud nonetheless hangs over the prospect of certain and prompt Senate ratification. It arises from the clash over treaty reinterpretation that a blinkered administration carelessly precipitated three years ago when it announced that the ABM Treaty of 1972 meant something other than what successive administrations have said all along. Mr. Reagan intended to clear a legal path for otherwise prohibited tests of his proposed defense system, the Strategic Defense Inioative. But the Senate, looking at SDf but beyond SDL saw a challenge to its institutional powers. A fight over which branch of government has the last word on interpreting a treaty will oow be carried to the floor, and the INF Treaty is hostage to it. The lawyers and the constitutional scholars have learned things to say, but the real burden of an expeditious resolution rests with the president, who started this distracting and unnecessary light. Treaty debates seem always to be about something other than the text on the table. This has produced some questionable results in the past, but this time the results og. The U.S. Doublest syst shocked by the Reagan-Gorbachev treaty and occided an interlude to consider not simply the strategic implications but the whole idea of dealing again with the Kremlin - something that had seemed remote when Ronald Reagan came to power. Coincidentally, but usefully, the debate overlaps the American political campaign. The up-shot of the whole passage, we think, is that people understand better the promise and the complexities of moving forward, carefully, with the Kremlin. ft is worth noting that denunciations of the prospective INF Treaty by most of the Republican candidates in the face of George Bush's strong support of it did oot seem to do them much good.

- THE WASHINGTON POST.

In the Name of Conscience

Communist states boast of their devotioo to peace, but will oot recognize the right to refuse military service. Hundreds are jailed for the crime of conscience, denied alternative service such as caring for the old and sick. This is the message of a bold letter on behalf of consciennous objectors signed by 400 Soviet and East European dissidents. It is addressed to a Vienna conference reviewing compliance with buman rights promises made by Moscow and its allies in the 1975 Helsinki accords.

Some signers are famous, others nonpersons in their own lands who somehow reached across closed frontiers. The roll includes the Soviet scientist Andrei Sakharoy and the editor Lev Timofeyev, the Polish Solidarity advisers Adam Michnik and Jacek Kuron, the Czechoslovak dissenters Vaclay Havel and former Foreign Minister Jiri Hajek, the Hungarian protesters Miklos Haraszti and Laszlo Rajk, and activists in East Germany and Yugoslavia.

Their letter asks Communist states to recognize a universal right to conscientious objection, as affirmed by the Council of Europe and the United Nations Human Rights Commission. In Poland, conscripts now must swear "to safeguard peace releatlessly in the fraternal alliance with the Soviet army and other allied armies." Refusal is punishable with five years in prison. Polish authorities have a record of jailing objectors who seek ostensibly available alternative service. In East Germany, conscripts have the option of serving in a military construction unit, where they face jeers and ostracism; prison awaits those who refuse to join the unit.

Soviet conditions are the worst: oo right of conscientions objection, and oo alternative service. Draft evasion is acknowledged in the Soviet press, as is wire-pulling by the party clite to keep sons from fighting in Afghanistan. But no mercy is shown to those like Yevgeni Gette, a Jehovah's Witness, jailed in 1986 for refusing to serve; his term is un-known, his name is missing from lists provided to foreign human rights groups.

Jailing objectors ought to be an embarrassment to regimes that unctuously label themselves peace-loving. The Vienna appeal puts it succinctly: "Governments that demand other governments to renounce violence publicly while they themselves imprison those who reject it cannot be trusted."

-THE NEW YORK TIMES.

INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE JOHN HAY WHITNEY, Chairman 1958-1982

KATHARINE GRAHAM, WILLIAM S. PALEY, ARTHUR OCHS SULZBERGER

LEE W. HUEBNER, Publisher

JOHN VINOCUR, Executive Editor • WALTER WELLS, News Editor • SAMUEL ABT, KATHERINE KNORR and CHARLES MITCHELMORE, Deputy Editors • CARL GEWIRTZ, Associate Editor • ROBERT J. DONAHUE, Editor of the Editorial Pages • JAMES R. CRATE, Business/Financial Editor RENÉ BONDY, Deput: Publisher • ALAIN LECOUR and RICHARD H. MORGAN, Associate Publishers • FRANÇOIS DESMAISONS, Circulation Director • ROLF D. KRANEPUHL, Advertising Sales Director • KOURDT HOWELL, Director, Information Systems

International Herald Tribune, t81 Avenue Charles-de-Gaulle, 92200 Neuilly-sur-Seine, France Tel.: (1) 46,37,93.00. Telex: Advertising, 613595; Circulation, 612832; Editorial, 612718; Production, 630698. Directeur de la publication: Walter N. Thayer,

Editor for Asia: Michael Richardson: Scanierbury Rd., Singapore 0511. Tel. 472-7768. Th: RSS6928
Managing Dir. Asia: Michael Robin Molecular Rode, Hong Kong. Tel. 5-861046. Telex: 61170
Managing Dir. U.K.: Robin MacKichan, 63 Lang Acre, London WC2. Tel. 836-4802. Telex: 261709
Gen. Mgr. W. Germany, W. Lauserboch, Priedricher. 15, 6000 Frankfurt/M. Tel. (009) 726755. Th: 416721
Pres. U.S.: Michael Couray, 850 Third Are., New York, N.Y. 10022. Tel. (212) 752-3890. Telex. 427175
S.A. au capital de 1,200.000 F. RCS Nanterre B 732021126. Commission Pariaire No. 61337

© 1988, International Herald Tribune. All rights reserved. ISSN: 0294-8052.

OPINION

Some Bold Proposals to Test Moscow's 'New Thinking'

WASHINGTON — The United States badly needs a major review of its diplomatic approaches to the Soviet Union. Mikbail Gorhachev's much advertised "new thinking" on foreign policy is merely one factor making such a review overdue.

Several key assumptions on which America's response to the Soviet challenge has been based since the 70s are becoming obsolete or were originally faulty, especially concerning the threat from Moscow. Americans have taken too literally such worst-case scenarios as the alleged danger to the U.S. oudear deterrent, the probability of a blitzkrieg by Soviet conventional forces in Europe and the nightmare of Soviet political domination of crucial Third World areas.

It is hard to believe that so many serious people believe the Kremlin would ever contemplate a surprise strike against hardened under-ground launchers containing ballistic missiles. At best, such a strike could destroy only about 25 percent of the entire strategic arsenal. And if U.S. missiles were launched on warning. Soviet warheads would hit empty shelters.

It is also hard to imagine an all-out invasion of Western Europe. Soviet forces are vastly superior in tanks and artillery, but that quanti-tanive edge is largely neutralized by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's advantages in technology and training. Moreover, the Krem-lin cannot be sure whether NATO would respond with nuclear weapons.

The occupation of a war-devastated Western Europe would bardly justify the inevitable costs of a nuclear exchange. The Soviet Union needs Western Europe as a reservoir of investment and know-bow, not as another source of insta-bility in its already overextended empire.

The option of a Soviet master plan in the

By Dimitri K. Simes and Keith Bickel

Third World tells more about the Western imagination than about the Kremlin's actual intentions. Moscow indeed played a vital role in humiliating America in Vietnam. Soviet exploits in Angola and Ethiopia, support of the Sandinists and the invasion of Afghanistan may have had the potential to create Moscow's geopolitical momentum at America's expense. Still, the Soviet Union has had neither the resources nor the determination to implement its alleged master plan of world domination. The West should oever tempt the Soviet

We have nothing to lose by asking Gorbachev to put his money where his mouth is.

Union by failing to maintain adequate defenses or to demonstrate necessary resolve. But exaggerated fears can be almost as detrimental to security as wishful thinking is.

Worst-case preoccupations have proved a blessing to Mr. Gorbachev. Since they reflect Western concerns more than Soviet designs he has been handed a remarkable opportunity to offer the West an olive branch without sacrificing anything important.

All that he has been prepared to give away are counterproductive symbols of Soviet global ambitions, such as $$5.20 missiles, rather than the ambitions themselves. The most damaging of them to American interests is the urge to act as a world power second to none. Since the Soviet Union is economically underdeveloped and politically unattractive, this urge leaves bitle alternative but to make force, coercion and affiliation with aggressive, insecure regimes its principal tool of foreign policy.

To regain the initiative, Washington needs a new agenda for diplomatic interaction with Moscow. Americans should avoid making proposals they would not want Moscow to accept. Carter and Reagan administration posturings over the desirability of eliminating nuclear weapons en-couraged Mr. Gorbachev to proceed with his public-relations denuclearization ploy.

Washington should be sensitive to the need to occupy high moral ground in the competition for European opinion. But it need not second-guess what ideas may be acceptable to Soviet leaders: U.S. diplomacy is not obliged to bargain with itself on the Politburo's behalf.

Three issues lie at the heart of the East-West relationship. The first is Europe's political and military stability. If there is a danger of nuclear confrontation in Europe, it probably would result from the escalation of an uprising in the Soviet orbit. NATO proposals for cuts in conventional arms about the confidence of t ventional arms should thus contribute to greater autonomy in East European nations.

Mr. Gorbachev likes to talk about the common European home. Yet he insists on perpetuating the divisions of Europe that brought about East-West hostility. America has nothing to lose and a lot to gain by asking him to put his money where his mouth is - to sign an agreement that neither superpower would interfere militarily in any European country except to protect it against armed aggression.

alliances' forces on the Continent, such a ment to The New York Times.

pledge would encourage East Europeans to exercise greater control over their destiny.

Second, America has a vested interest in preventing Soviet exploitation of regional disputes.
In recent years, the Kremlin has created a paitem of disruption aimed at undermining America's presence rather than advancing its ewa positions. While no comprehensive code of conpositions, while no comprehensive code of con-duct concerning the Third World is feasible. Washington might benefit from inviting Moscow to sign a tightly formulated anti-terrorism agree ment barring military aid to nations and move ments that target innocent civilians. The two sides could also discuss limited arrangements prohibiting the deployment of offensive arms in turbulent areas close to each other's borders. Third, America has a stake in soliciting Soviet cooperation in maintaining the world esoet cooperation in maintaining die wants the nomic system. Moscow desperately wants the economic benefits of access to Western credits and technology and it desires membership in international financial institutions. On the other hand, it tries to gain polincally by persistentby advocating the cancellation of Third World debts and the redistribution of global wealth to the detriment of industrial democracies.

Even if Moscow were willing to pursue all these ideas, the superpowers would not become instant friends. The rivalry between the two political and economic systems would continue. But a first step can be made loward addressing the real causes rather than just consequences of friction. New thinking in Moscow must be tested by bold, new proposals from Washington.

with major asymmetrical reductions in both liances' forces on the Continent such a Mr. Simes is a senior associate at the Carnegae Mr. Simes is a senior associate at the Carnegae Endowment for International Peace. Mr. Bickel Endowment for International Peace. Mr. Bickel is an intern there. They contributed this com-

In Negotiating a Pullout, Don't Forget the Afghans

By Jeane Kirkpatrick

N EW YORK — Everyone who has much experience as a degotiator knows that negotiations have a goal and a dynamic of their own. The goal is an agreement; the dynamic oushes the parties toward accepting this goal as their own.

There is always a chance that one or both of the oegotiators may forget what is being oegotiated for. Meanwhile, the mediator, cheered on by "world opinion," works hard to persnade the parties that an agreement is what they should seek above all. Diego Cordóvez, the United Nations deputy secretary-general, whom The Economist of London describes as "the world's most patient man," has tried for years to persuade parties to the conflict in Afghanistan that the problem created by the Soviet inva-sion could be solved by the withdrawal of Soviet troops.

It sounds plausible, so much so that Mr. Cordovez persuaded some U.S. officials to agree in a secret memorandum that the United States would end assistance to the mujahi-dia when the Soviet Union provided a timetable for the departure of its soldiers and began withdrawal.
William Safire has provided the best account of this secret agreement (IHT, March 25) — arrived at so secretly in December 1985 that even the president was not informed (though a clause in the agreement made the United States a guarantor).

But secrets have a way of leaking, and Congress began to realize how many questions the agreement left open. The closer the Soviets came to beginning a withdrawal, the more pressing these questions became. By the time the date of March 15 had been set to begin the "froot-loaded" Soviet withdrawal, the Reagan administration and Congress had realized that under the agreement the Afghan government installed by Soviet occupation forces would be left in place, and would continue to be supplied and protected by Moscow under longstanding treaties between Kabul and Moscow.

And theo Washington remembered that the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Afghanistan was not the goal of the heroic mujahidin fighters. Their goal was self-determination for Afghanistan, which they and everyone else believes will result in a non-communist Afghan government. Absent such a government, the mijahidin will oot stop fighting and the Afghan refugees will not go home. Instead they will continue to place oearly unbearable strains on the government of Pakistan, already hard-pressed by economic burdens and Soviet and Indian pressure.

The mujahidin are the Democrats' favorite freedom fighters, and in the Senate, Majority Leader Robert Byrd, Democrat of West Virginia, personally oversaw the passage of a resolution requiring withdrawal of all Soviet troops, return of the refugees and a nonaligned Afghanistan. The U.S. government, under pres-sure from Congress and from conscience, made what the Soviets have since denounced as a "new" demand for an end to Soviet aid to the Kabul government; Moscow insisted that U.S. termination of aid to the mujahidin should take place simultaneously. Ever since, the United States has been accused of reneging on the agreement (which it did not do; it merely filled in blanks), and all manner of vile motives have been ascribed to the Americans and Pakistania.

The Soviets have offered various umpleasant question of having to move explanations of U.S. behavior. Pravda to actual military force if it really is published last week the reported views of an unnamed "American journalist": "It may seem absurd to you, but I am sure our hawks' don't really want you to withdraw your troops from Afghanistan ... There is some logic to that way of thinking. The longer you stay in Afghanistan, the more chance we have to sling mud at you."

One journalist who regards U.S. demands for a nonaligned Afghanistan as "unrealistic" is Selig Harrison (IHT, March 30). He said the United or in asking for a new Afghan regime, was asking Moscow "to acknowledge defeat." "Yet Moscow has not been defeated" and should are her large and should are her large and perhaps a morning to the chiefs would jump at the chance to get involved in a situation that could embedded." "Yet Moscow has not been defeated" and should are her large and perhaps a morning to a second and the chiefs would jump at the chance to get involved in a situation that could embed embed a situation that could embed e defeated" and should not be placed in a position of "conceding defeat by and a few loyal henchmen fled. Absent abandoning its client," he said.

In Mr. Harrison's view, U.S. agreement to leave the client state in place would only be realistic and would reflect the fact that "Moscow has more of a stake in adjacent Afghani-stan than Washington does." Mr. Harrison does oot seem overly con-cerned about the Afghans' stake in their future government. ft is widely rumored that over the next several days Pakistan will sign another secret agreement, secretly arrived at, ft is said the administration has approved the agreement and Sen-ator Byrd has been promised a look, Meanwhile, in Kabul, General Secretary Najibullah is planning this month's election of the National Council of the Republic of Afghanistan, an election that will be held under the heipful eyes of Soviet troops.

O Los Angeles Times Syndicate.

Shultz and Assad Have Much to Talk About This Time

ONDON - U.S. Secretary of L State George Shultz used to regard President Hafez al-Assad of Syria as his worst adversary in the Mid-east. But as Mr. Shultz begins a oew Mideast peace trip Sunday, he and Mr. Assad may find they have more to talk about than ever before.

To be sure, there is little prospect of any major U.S.-Syrian accord. Mr. Shultz cannot offer Mr. Assad any Golan Heights from Israel. Nor can the Syrian leader, currently on bad terms with Yasser Arafat, offer Mr. Shultz much belp on drawing Pales-tinians into the Shultz peace plan for an Israeli-Palestinian settlement.

Still, Mr. Shultz and Mr. Assad. who met twice last month in Damascus, surely realize that any Mideast settlement will require the other's consent. Each also knows that Lebanon, where Syria has a huge and burdensome military presence, waits for solutions that ensure its survival, which both the United States and Syria have pledged to protect.

Syria has long regarded itself as the pivot of war or peace in the region.

WASHINGTON — Manuel Antonio Noriega turns out to be a hardier strongman than Washington policy-makers annicipated. When the policy people at the State Depart-ment clamped a severe economic squeeze on Panama and incited some of the corrupt general's cronies to join the Dump Noriega movement, they suggested out loud that any self-respecting drug-running sleazeball would soon pull up stakes and go off to write his memoirs in Estoril.

heels and forced Washington to move up the ladder of intervention reserved for former friends and clients who have become urgently inconvenient.

Military feints designed to frighten General Noriega out of power followed, as the "Noriega must go" chants continued to waft through George Shultz's office. But they did not break his grip on power either.

It is possible that the general is simply playing for time and may break for the airport at any moment. That is what the policy-makers still say. But their initial miscalculations about

General Noriega's staying power now make the United States face up to the committed to the stated aim of toppling the unofficial ruler of Panama.

nating theoretical arguments about the nature and morality of interven-oon in friendly countries become quaint devices for scoring political points. In the real world, the question of whether American military power should be used to relocate this bad guy is not addressed first to liberal

Staff at the Pentagon.
It is far from clear that the chiefs

perhaps a mopping-up operation in Panama's jungles if General Noriega any monkeying around with the Pana- days of the Reagan administration.

mocrats but to the Joint Chiefs of

This is the point at which the fasci-

Instead General Noriega dug in his Eddin al-Bitar told me in Damascus in 1965, "can make war without Syria, if they choose. But oeither they nor Israel can make peace without us."

the Reagan administration reacted halfheartedly, temporarily blocking U.S.-Israeli strategic cooperation. In 1983, when Israel invaded Lebanon and smashed Syria's air defenses there, President Reagan did not coosult Mr. Assad, though be sent Philip Habib to Damascus with an Israeli cease-fire offer (the Israelis ignored it after Mr. Assad agreed to it). Nor was Mr. Assad consulted about the U.S.sponsored agreement of May 1983 for Israeli withdrawal from Lebanon; he helped sabotage that accord.

When the Iran-Iraq war crupted in 1980, Mr. Assad was the only Arab chief of state to support Iran. And he allowed Iraoian Revolutionary Guards into Lebanon in 1982. Naturally, he has been woord by King

The Small Board Gives Noriega an Edge

By Jim Hoagland

ma Canal by General Noriega, the chiefs would probably and correctly

The administration has not persuasively explained how General Noriega moved in a few weeks from being, as

The Economist of London put it,

Washington's "pet thing to its bete noire." If the shock of discovering that he was running drugs or playing foot-sie with Fidel Castro was so great, one wonders where U.S. intelligence was all this time. A sense of mystery surrounds the general's graduation to the administration's implied strategy that if General Noriega would simply go, everything in Panama would be all right. The policy sledgehammer of national economic sanctions has been used to provoke the removal of one man. Washington seems prepared to accept the survival of the military ma-fia that runs the system in Panama if the "Anybody but Manny" movement succeeds. America's chosen savior for Panama, President Eric Arturo Delvalle, was given his office and legin-macy by order of General Noriega.

There is a tendency to draw paral-lels between the U.S. effort to oust

General Noriega and the successful behind-the-scenes roles American officials played in the extrication of Ferdinand Marcos from the Philippines and of "Baby Doc" Duvatier from Haiti. But in those cases the United States did not provoke the crises that drove those two tottering autocrats from power. In Panama City, unlike in Manila and Port-ou-Prince, Washing-

The handling of the Noriega file adds to the coofusion and the im-ton is acting as catalyst and protago-nist instead of helpful bystander.

pression of incompetence that surrounds U.S. policy in Central America. "Ortega must go" has become "Noriega must go" in the rwilight

It is also difficult to understand the urgently inconvenient status.

be cantious about their chances.

By John K. Cooley "Other Arabs." Prime Minister Salah Hussein of Jordan in an effort to re-establish Arab unity and to break with the Khomeini regime in Tehran. This would mean reconciling with his archrival, President Saddam Hus-Yet the Camp David peace accords sein of Iraq. At the Arab summit left Syria out. And in 1981, when meeting late last year in Amman, Mr. Israel annexed the Golan Heights, Assad and Mr. Hussein seemed to be moving toward this. Then in Decemdisrupting attempts at rapproche-ment. Early this year, mutual propaganda attacks resumed. What could Mr. Shultz accomplish on a new Damascus visit? Although Mr. Assad said March 8 that the Shultz peace plan will not work, he did not reject it out of hand.

Mr. Assad was pleased that Mr. Shultz stopped over in Damascus, after the bitterness of the past. And the Syrians appreciated that Secretary Shultz brought a written copy of the peace proposal be had presented to Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir of Israel. Moreover, Syria and the United States have now been talking quift may be accidental that the contras appear to be throwing in the towel in the effort to unseat the Sandmists in Nicaragua just as the Reagan admin-istration is having such trouble work-ing its will in Panama. But the effect of that historical juxtaposition is to underscore again how high the price of intervention and how uncertain its outcome have become, even on ft is the same sort of lesson the Soviet Union appears to have absorbed in Afghanistan. That is a totally different kind of intervention and war, of course. But it should begin to war, or both Moscows and Weshing dawn on both Moscow and Washing ton that when the board is so small that 600-ship navies or SS-18 missiles become irrelevant, it is fairly easy to checkmate even a superpower.

The Washington Post.

the doorstep of a superpower.

where Syria's help was essential. She accompanied Mr. Shultz to Syria in March, and then to Beirut. A common U.S.-Syrian purpose was to prepare for Lebanon's presidential elections this fall, which are expected to be stormy, by easing the way to political reform in that unhappy country. The idea was to reach an understanding between Syria and Lebanon's Maronite Christians, from whose ranks the Lebanese Parliament

April Glaspie, an aide to U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Richard Murphy, was serving in the U.S. Embassy in Damascus at the time of the 1985 TWA hijacking to Beirut. She helped settle that and other crises has always chosen the president. U.S.-Svrian talks also dealt with how to make any future Arab-Israeli cease-fire in southern Lebanon as stable as the ooe Henry Kissinger arranged on the Golan Heights in 1974-75 Today, the slightest violation is dealt with swiftly, with the UN observer force serving as referee.

Southern Lebanon, as well as Golan, the West Bank and Gaza, is included in the Shultz plan. The United States and Syria have been quietly exploring whether the South Lebanor. Army, Israel's surrogate in that area, might yield to Syrian security response. might yield to Syrian security respon-sibility if Syria could give guarantees to Israel (and vice versa), and if Syria could neutralize Iranian help from Shiite extremist guerrillas. Presumably the PLO would have to agree, too.

These are big "ifs." If they all came to pass, Syrian, Lebanese and UN forces might be able to keep the internal peace, free foreign hostages and ensure the tranquillity of the Lebanon-Israel border area. All of this is only a sideshow to the drama unfolding on the West Bank and in Gaza. But dialogue is better than fighting. Any grand design for peace in the Mideast can only be the sum of many small steps forward.

The writer, an ABC news correspondent specializing in the Middle East, is wriding a book on the Iran-Iraq war. He contributed this comment to the International Herald Tribune.

100, 75 AND 50 YEARS AGO

1888: Italy Is Rebuffed MASSOWAH - Letters have been received to-night [April 1] by General San Marzano from the Negus of Abyssinia which do oot display any great desire to give his assent to the proposals forwarded by the Italian General. The letters are couched in the usual vague phraseology, but the effect of them is that King John canoot for the time being make peace on the cooditions imposed by the Italian government. This does not preclude the possibility of an agreement, but it dimioishes the probability of an early settlement.

1913: A Visit to Albania

Albanians take the oath of fidelity to the new State, Kemal Bey left [April 1] on board the Mekong for Italy, accompanied by his son Edhan.

1938: Wonders of 1963

NEW YORK — In 25 years man will be wearing fireproof clothing made of cellulose or spun glass, which he will throw into an electric furnace to clean, a group of engineers predicted [April 1] as they sought to construct the world of 1963, Addressing 900 railroad executives at the engineering auditorium recently, the engineers said that it might be a strange world in which drought, frost, hail, insects and plant diseases would be of no consequence because human beings ROME — Duc de Montpensier's yacht, the Mekong, remained for three days in the Bay of Valona, during which the Duke paid a visit to and air-cleaned by electricity. He will coil or a world in which based of the Provisional enjoy a world in which bacteria will Government of Albania. He was accorded an enthusiastic welcome by the Albanians. After having made the

(ejje_{eto:}

Costone de la

The Whi

A 465000

Winds A

22 (17 to 2 = 1)

Exi

iel : 6002

WORLDA NW NW

his Time

aspie, an aide to U.S. As cretary of State Richard ras serving in the U.S.fa amascus at the time of the ied Mr. Shultz to Synta ed then to Beitut.

ections this fall, with a to be storray, by easing the litical reform in that man y. The idea was to read iding between Syria and s Maronite Christians, but iks the Lebanese Parlings ys chosen the president yrian talks also deal of take any future Amblani : in southern Lehance s ; the one Henry Kissian on the Golan Haging Today, the sightes and with swiftly, with its life force serving as refere ern Lebanon, as well a fe West Bank and Gaza sig 2 the Shultz plan. The bind and Syria have been g whether the South start's surrogate in the ma ed to Syrian securio 1800 f Syria could give guarante reutralize tranian help from tremist energiles Present

Twould have to sgreene are big "ifs." If they also

Syrian. Lenance and in ighting. Any grand designs in the Mideast can only less many small steps foreste

EARS AGO teans take the oath of hidely the State. Remail Bet to the theard the Mekens for the mpanies by his son taken

11:2160

Iran Revolutionary's Cold Days in Paris

By Youssef M. Ibrahim his lips. Now they are dealing with the Iranian Majlis, the parliament, New York Times Service

PARIS - Sitting in an oversized sofa inside a dark, anstere house he malf-jokingly calls "the ice palace," Abolhassan Bani-Sadr, the former president of Iran and a leading op-pendent of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, can only dream of better days.

The house is cold because is would cost more than $2,000 a month to heat the 12 rooms of his so-called chateau, a decrepit struc-ture that sits on a busy highway in Versailles, a suburb of Paris.

The French police will not let him move to a cheaper, more com-fortable place because his presence is dangerous to neighbors. In seven years of political asylum after he fled fram on a stolen air force plane. he has traveled out of France only once, because he cannot get visas to enter other countries. He has left the house only three times in the last year, to "dine with some friends."

Yet, at 55, the pensive, soft-spo-ken, frail-looking man remains an authority on one of the few grand historical reverses of recent times: the 1979 revolution in Iran, which he strove to bring about as a key member of the movement opposed to Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi. actively led as the first elected president of the Islamic Republic of Iran and eventually fled in the summer of 1981. There is in his tone bitter irony about France, a country that embraced him as a revolutionary and then courted him as president of Iran, but now gives him a cold shoulder, not to mention a cold house. "It's their values," he said with a sarcastic smile that hung on Hashemi Rafsanjani, speaker of

PARIS - Iran said Friday that

For the first time, Tehran broadcast a national alert that widespread Iraqi attacks with chemical veapons were likely on major Ira-man cities. The radio broadcast ters (15 miles) west of the borders.

There was no independent confirmation or comment from Iraq.

The Iranian report came amid growing international concern that widespread use of chemical arms in .

the Iran-Iraq war was becoming a

75 more people died and at least 100 were minred in new Iraqi mustard gas and nerve gas attacks.

this regime."
In all, Mr. Bani-Sadr has spent more than 22 years of his adult life outside the country he is obsessed with. He fought the shah until the shah's downfall, returned triumphantly to Iran in 1979 with Ayatollah Khomeini and is back in France resisting the ayatoliah, who was his mentor and idol.

But he says he is certain fate still looks kindly on him. "I am sure, absolutely sure, I will be going back to Iran," he said. Then he added the refrain often heard by many Iranians: "I think this year is the year of destiny."

Mr. Bani-Sadr'a plight and his dreams resemble those of the two million Iranians exiles peppered across the world from Ankara to Los Angeles. Like these men and women of the educated Iranian middle class, he watches helplessly as the Iranian clergy pulls their country deeper into what he calls "a dark era of despoism."

But logic, and perhaps wishful thinking, tell him such a nightmare cannot endure. "The country has reached an impasse," on the military, economic and internal security level, he said.

Take the war with Iraq, he said. Based on first-hand experience as president and commander in chief of the Iranian armed forces when the Gulf conflict began in September 1980, he said, Ayatollah Khomeini's regime does not welcome a victory.

"It is easier for the regime to accept a defeat," he said. "A triumphant military commander coming back from a war is much more dangerous than any opposition."

All glory, he said, is reserved for who is Iran's second-ranking man after Ayatollah Khomeini and someone Mr. Bani-Sadr particularly detests. "The commander of the war is Rafsanjani, just Rafsanjani," he said. As a result, he said, no competent military authority is in charge.

Then there is the economy. Iranians tell him that Iran will be lucky if it pulls in $5 billion to $6 billion this year from its dwindling oil exports. But the country needs $9 billion to run the economy at a minimum, he said.

"Seventy percent of the Iranian people can be classified as poor today," he said. "After all, this is an economy that spent $20 billion in 1982. It cannot continue like that."

received from Iran, which have make ends meet, be said of the Iranian government. Opium and hashish sales are bringing Ayatol-lah Khomeini's government an extra $2 hillion n year, he said. "People talk about Afghanistan and Latin American," Mr. Bani-Sadr said. "They should look to what Iran is doing.

And there are the political divisions, which he says have "paralyzed the regime."

Mr. Bani-Sadr said Ayatollah Hussein Ali Montazeri, who has been designated as the next supreme religious leader of Iran, has emerged as a moderate who has advocated, in numerous exhortapractices in Iran.

As a result, Ayatollah Khomeini's heir apparent has fallen out of favor, Mr. Bani-Sadr is sure.

jani as the leading edge of this power struggle, with the strong support of Ayatollah Khomeini and his son. Ahmed Khomeini. These divisions have spilled overseas, he said, dihave spilled overseas, he said, di-minishing Iran's influence with fol-To Panama lowers, particularly in Lebanon.

Among other things, Mr. Rafsanjani's attempts to strip Ayatollah Montazeri of his control of mi-24 foreign hostages in Lebanon, recently went to Iran to serve notice they will release their hostages the flow of such payments. only if ordered to do so by Ayatollah Khomeini himself.

In the end, Mr. Bani-Sadr said. He pulls charts and studies he the regime's Achilles' heel is that it is loosing its legitimacy inside the curves and statistics to prove his country with the spread of corrup-point. "They are selling drugs," to tion and scandals that are harder to tion and scandals that are harder to keep confidential.

Today we have become the purveyors of scandals in the world," he said. "From now on, anyone who says Iran says corruption, terrorism fanalicism.

He said there was no batred in his heart, although he said he beld a grudge against President Ronald Reagan and U.S. Republicans, who be said appeared more willing to do business with Avatollah Khomeini. "I hope Mr. Bush will not win." be "He represents Reaganism, and I am a victim of Reaganism."

Mr. Bani-Sadr who has been accused, even by admirers, of selfdelusion, betrayed none of that tions, a return of some democratic when he talked of his confidence that things will change.

When, then, does he expect to go back to Iran? "That question," he said, "only God can answer."

New Iraqi Gas Attacks Kill 75, Iran Says

against Iranian invasions of Iraqi territory. An Iranian official said his counmy may come under domestic pressure to respond in kind, although the Iranian foreign minister, Ali Akbar Velayati, told the 40-nation demonstrated a new signal tone to warn of such an attack. Iran said the attacks occurred in va on Thursday that Iran "will nevat least five border villages in er" use chemical weapons.

- Iran accused Iraq two weeks ago northeastern Iraq. The Iranian press agency IRNA named them as of killing 5,000 Kurdish people in Susiyan, Doukan, Balakha, Jafaran chemical bomb raids after Iranian and Olivan in the Qara Dagh re-gion; which lies about 25 kilometroops overran a string of Kurdish villages with the help of pro-Iranian Kurdish guerrillas. Iranian and Arab officials said that offensive, which is continuing, was slowly unfolding as a potentially significant threat to the nonthern oil-producing region of distinct possibility. Over the past tempo of the war appeared to heat up, with Iranian advances in the northern front bringing its troops closer to Kirkuk while the frequency of attacks on tankers and ships in the Gulf has been increasing. Iran announced that its Revolu-

Disarmament Conference in Genetionary Guards have surrounded 5,000 Iraqi troops around a strategic hydroelectric dam on Lake Darbandikhan, 128 kilometers from Kirkuk. Iran said two weeks ago that it had captured as many as 4.000 Iraqi soldiers in earlier battles in that region.

"The Iranians are not winning the war, but the Iraqis are really begin-

Iran also announced Thursday

few days various Iraqi officials, including Foreign Minister Tarik that it had fired two missiles into to stop the war — from diplomacy the northern city of Kirkuk in a Aziz, said Iraq would use every weapon in its arsenal to defend These developments come as the These developments come as the to no avail.

An Iranian official who lives in Western Europe said Friday that while Iran indeed was reluctant to use chemical weapons, he had "no dnubts the moral restraints will weaken considerably" as the war drags on.

The official, who asked not to be identified, said elements of the Iranian Army and the Revolutionary Guards were putting pressure on the Iranian government to use chemical weapons. "I have no doubts we have them." he said. ■ New Figures on Mines

Some experts said Iraq's resort to chemical weapons reflects desperation and exhaustion with the war.

The U.S. Navy has found and destroyed 41 mines in the Gulf since its sweeping operations began last year, including 13 in the past three months, a military spokesning to lose it," an analyst said. man said Friday as reported by The
He said Iraq had tried everything Associated Press in Bahrain.

U.S. Moves Again, he pointed at Mr. Rafsan- To Halt Flow Of Dollars

By Bill McAllister

Washington Post Service WASHINGTON — The Reagan litias holding hostages in Lebanon has backfired. He said representatives of Hezbollah, whose adher- fact that U.S. corporate tax pays ents are believed to hold more than ments may have extended the reign of General Manuel Antonio Noriega in Panama, has acted to stem

The administration suggested Thursday that if U.S. corporations did not accept the plan voluntarily. the White House might seek more direct means to block companies from sending money to Panama, whose economy has buckled under U.S. economic sanctions intended to force General Noriega to step

The action came a day after an influx of tax payments from U.S. companies appeared to have broken a general strike called by opponents of General Nonega, the de facto ruler of Panama, who is under indictment in the United States on charges of drug trafficking and racketeering

Under the White House plan, the U.S. government will put all money it owes Panama in an account at recognizes Mr. Delvalle, who was deposed as president after attempting to dismiss General Noriega, as Panama's legitimate ruler.
The chief White House spokescourage individuals and corporations to make any payments due to Panama into a similar account to be established by the Treasury Department.

[The Internal Revenue Service issued regulations Friday ensuring that the Americans who make their Panamanian tax payments into the accounts can receive credits on their U.S. taxes for foreign tax payments. The Associated Press reported from Washington.

Apparently the fear that U.S. companies would lose their U.S. tax credits led a number of corporations to make tax payments to the Noriega government

Mr. Fitzwater said Thursday that the payments were made against the wishes of U.S. officials hut that the corporations had in-sisted they were legally obligated to make the payments.

It was not immediately clear whether the White House action had come quickly enough to stem the flow of U.S. dollars toto Pana-

NOW YOU CAN WIN BIG

lottery prizes every awarded.

For years Canadians have been striking it rich in Lotto 6/49-Canada's most popular lottery. In fact, last year Lotto 6/49 paid out over $500 Million dollars in prizes! Almost every week new millionaires are being made by playing this fantastic game. The jackpots list prize) regularly surpass $10,000,000 per draw and have gone as high as $13,890,588. That record prize was won by Lillian and Stewart Kelly, pictured below, and still stands as one of the world's largest all-cash

Now, thanks to Canadian Overseas Market-ing's unique subscription service, you too have the chance to win a multi-million dollar prize.

Here are some examples of the fantastic jack-

And that's just for first prize...there are many $Millions more paid out in subsidiary prizes. With five prize categories in all and thousands of prizes won in every draw, it's as if you can't miss!

GOVERNMENT GUARANTEED LOTTERY

-$13,890,588.80

-$11,066,864.20

-$10,372.326.70

-$10,191,804.60

-$ 7,789,787.60

-$ 7,059,893.70

MULTI-MILLION DOLLAR PRIZES

pots being awarded by Lotto 6/49:

Lillian and Stewart Kelly

Carrie and Derek Stockley

Doug and Loraine Clark

Ron and Val Taylor

Jean Viau

Mohamed and Nurahi Samji

Ortega Says New U.S. Aid to Contras man, Martin Fitzwater, said the Reagan administration would en-

MANAGUA --- President Daniel Ortega Saavedra said new U.S. humanitarian aid to the Nicaraguan rebels would not jeopardize a tras continued to be a threat. 60-day cease-fire that began Fri-

tras, while efforts continue to end signed the aid package into law.

tiators in the town of Sapoa. Under the agreement, the rebels gua: will be able to keep their arms durwill have to be channeled through such an organization.

Thursday to approval in Congress Ortega said. "There are further earlier in the day of a $48 million threats from the United States that bill renewing humanitarian aid to will continue, as will the pressure the rebels, who are known as con-from that country." the civil war in Nicaragua. On Fritions said its investigators had deday. President Ronald Reagan termined that Nicaraguan troops seen by a neutral organization, the airlift of troops. Mr. Ortega had Sapoá accords will be maintained," Mr. Ortega said in a reference to the cease-fire agreement signed last - Contras Ready to Stop week by Sandinist and contra nego-

ma. Millions of dollars in quarterly tax payments were due to Panama organizations," such as the Interon Thursday.

man Millions of dollars in quarterly maintarian aid through "neutral stop fightiog and resume civilian organizations," such as the Interlife if their leaders directed them to national Red Cross. Any U.S. aid do so.

Mr. Ortega said the possibility of new U.S. military aid for the con-"Today, Reagan got the humaniday, as long as the assistance was administered by a neutral party. another package could be passed, Mr. Ortega was responding one that includes military aid." Mr.

On Thursday, the United Nadid cross into Honduras two weeks "If the delivery of the aid is over- ago, The incursion led to a U.S.

> The New York Times reported earlier from La Vigia Norte, Nicara-denied any incursion.

Guerrillas operating in northern ing the cease-fire and receive hu- Nicaragua say they are ready to "Without leaders, we're just bands of raiders," said a lighter who gave his name as Marcos, one of the contras camped on Thursday near La Vigia Norte. "Leaders are what makes us an army. We have to follow their orders."

After contra and Sandinist leaders unexpectedly signed the ceasefire agreement questions were immediately raised about whether foot soldiers would accept it. But Sandinist infantrymen have said they support the truce, and contras eaid the same.

"We're waiting to see what happens, because we don't trust the Sandinists," said Marcos, 18, who said he was a five-year veteran of the civil war. "We're fighting for democracy, and we want to fight until victory. When our leaders tell us we have a victory, of course we'll do what they say."

Another contra, who gave his name as Byron, said, "For the mo-indicating the numbers you have selected as well

You will be notified immediately when you win a prize of $1.000.00 or more. Also, a complete list of all winning numbers will be sent to you after every tenth draw, along with a statement of your winnings to date. At the expiration of your subscription you will be sent a final statement of your winnings. All prize money will be converted to any currency you wish and confidentially forwarded to you anywhere in the

So mail your order today-the next hig win-

ORDER FORM

Complete one game board below for each game you wish to play. Select exactly six numbers from 1 to 49 on each game board you are playing. Indicate the number of draws you wish to play and send with the necessary pay ment to the address below.

FREE BONUS PROLUDES ADRAWS ADRAWS

as the draws in which they are entered.

WHEN YOU WIN!

ner could be you.

Advertising's Greatest Show on Earth

The Sydney Opera House, Australia. May 1 to 5, 1988.

The International Advertising Association hosts

Its 31 st World Congress In Sydney in May 1988 and it

A star-studded line-up of over 40 international experts in advertising, marketing and media will develop the theme "Imagination" and discuss the topical issues promises to be an event no one should miss.

in marketing today.

To guarantee your place book now, 1988 is Australia's

Bicentennial year and hotels and airlines are filling fast.

339 Military Road, Cremome, N.SW. 2090, Australia.

Phone: (02)9086666. Fax: (02)9535203. Telex: AA22342.

Heather Leembruggen, Executive Director,

IAA 31st World Advertising Congress Limited.

For a brochure and registration forms contact:

Lotto 6/49 is an official lottery operated by the ten Provincial Governments of Canada. It's called Lorto 6/49 because six winning numbers from a total of forty-nine are selected each draw. If the six numbers chosen match the six numbers you are playing, you win the jackpot. In addition to the six regular winning numbers chosen, there's one additional number drawn called

 Record prize of $13,890,588.80—all CASH—TAX FREE!* the bonus number. If you have any five of the six regular winning numbers correct plus the bonus number, you win second prize. Any five, four, or three of the regular winning numbers correct wins you third, fourth, or fifth prize

· Play Lotto 6/49—Canada's Favorite Government Lottery

· Pick your own "Lucky Numbers" when you play respectively. There's a new draw twice each week ion Wednesday and Saturday), every week of the year. The jackpot is guaranteed to be not less than $1 Million dollars in each draw. And if the jackpot is not won in the current draw, that prize money is carried over and added to the jackpot for the next draw, growing until it's won!

YOU PICK YOUR OWN NUMBERS

Besides the enormous prizes to be won, the best thing about Lotto 6/49 is that you pick your own numbers. So, instead of just buying a ticket, you really do play this lottery. Many people feel they have certain personal lucky numbers or numbers that have a special significance to them, such as birthdays or anniversaries. Still others look for statistical patterns in the numbers selected. But whatever method you use, you'll find it much more exciting to play the lottery that lets you enter your own numbers.

IT'S EASY TO PLAY

All you do is complete the attached order form and send it to Canadian Overseas Marketing along with the necessary payment. We will enter your numbers for the specified length of your subscription. You may select from 1 to 6 games for 10, 26, or 52 weeks. Indicate exactly six numbers between 1 and 49 for each game you wish to play. Each game gives you another chance at the grand prize for every draw in which you are entered.

by return mail acknowledging your order and

You receive a "Confirmation of Entry" NO. OF PRIZE VALUE $13,890,588.80 $443,481,60 716 $3,704,70 48,917 $139.30 965,112 $10.00

*All prizes quoted in Canadian dollars, ist, 2nd, 3nd, and 4m praes are calculated on a percentage of the total prize pool. Single the prize pool fluctuates from draw to draw, the size of the prizes will vary from the size of the prizes

25 WEEKS 52 WEEKS (104 DRAMS) $ 45. 3 Games | 🗆 $135 | 🗆 $337. 🗆 $ 675. $450. D $ 900. $180. Games | D $225 | D $562 | D $1125. 5 Games | S270 | $675 | $1350 Make chaque or bank draft (in U.S. Funds) payable to Canadian Overseas Marketing and mail to: P.O. Box 48120, Suite 1703, 595 Burrard Street, Vancouve B.C., Canada V7X 1S4. ADDRESS/PO. BOX_ ☐ MASTERCARD ☐ VISA ☐ BANK DRAFT ☐ CHEOUE CREDIT CARD: EXPIRY DATE

WIN SMILLIONS LIKE THE COUPLE PICTURED BELOW

When Lillian and Stewart Kelly, pictured above, won Canada's record Lotto jackpot of $13,890,588.80 there were over 1 million winners in total, with over $37,000,000.00 in prize money awarded. The prize breakdown shown here indicates the actual winnings for that draw.

PRIZE BREAKDOWN PRIZES

2ND FIRE 3 PRIZE SOUTOF S 5TH PRIZE

tCanadian Overseas Marketing PO. Box 48120, Suite 1703, 595 Burrard Street, Vancouver, B.C., Canada V7X 154

Fig Leath of designation il 1 35 the sorid of 14c? torium recently. that it might be hijacking to Beita Se ia's help was essential Se men U.S.-Syrian purp cpare for Lebanon's night be able to keep theme are, free foreign hosses at the transquality of the latraei border area of this is only a sideshow to the unfolding on the West for Gaza. But dialogue is four recializing to the Muldle East) & a book on the low-load meritures this comment of

18: Wonders of 1968

earing frequent claims at the state of spill class which

Paraguished dric

plant Leiber

district district by

and with the delicated the

By E.J. Dionne Jr.

New York Times Service MADISON, Wisconsin - State Representative David Clarenbach captures the spirit of many Wisconsin liberals when he says, "I'd rather decide who should be, rather than who can be, president."

In Madison, the state capital, which has been a center of progressivism for more than 80 years, views such as Mr. Clarenbach's are building support for the Reverend Jesse L. Jackson. In a matter of weeks his campaign for the Wisconsin primary, which is Tuesday, has been transformed into a vibrant crusade as more and more people see him as the bearer of the state's progressive tradition.

Those who support other candidates speak with varying degrees of enthusiasm for their favorites. But only Mr. Jacksoo's partisans speak of their choice as oothing short of a moral imperative.

"You ask people, "Why are you voting for Jacksoo?" said Michelle Watson, 21, campus organizer at the University of Wisconsin for Governor Michael S. Dukakis of Massachusetts. "And they say, Because it's the right thing to do."

Mr. Clarenbach, who was elected to the Wisconsin Legislature in 1974 at age 20, said of the Jackson

Turks Kill 9 Kurdish Rebels The Associated Press

MARDIN, Turkey — At least nine suspected Kurdish guerrillas were killed in a shoot-out with security forces in this southeastern province Friday, the Anatolian News Agency reported.

campaign: "There is a magical, almost mystical nature to it."

No one is more aware of this than backers of Mr. Dukakis, who, Wisconsin polls show, is fighting with Mr. Jackson for first place. "The Jackson support — it's catching," Ms. Watson said. She said Mr. Jackson was "almost a

On the office wall of Tom Loitus, a Democrat who is the speaker lette, who, as governor of Wisconsin at the turn of the century and later as a U.S. senator, was a founder and leader of the progres-vote is in Wisconsin. You have a choice between two kinds of liberalism," he said. "You have this pragmatic I-can-win-theelection liberal, and you have this articulate I-can-tell-you-what-youbelieve-in-your-heart liberal."

Mr. Dukakis, the pragmatic lib-eral, is Mr. Loftus's candidate, and the speaker is hoping that his man will gain ground as voters focus on Mr. Jackson not as a cause but as a potential cominee.

This view may be catching on. An informal student poll by The Daily Cardinal, the campus newspaper at the University of Wisconsin, showed Mr. Jackson and Mr. Dukakis running nearly even. If the governor runs close to Mr. Jackson at the university, he should do well against him in less liberal parts of ■ Dukakis Spices Rhetoric ton Post reported from Milwaukee: vigorate his campaign with a shot of rhetoric reminiscent of a defeated rival, Representative Richard A. Gephardt of Missouri.

At a rally Thursday night at Serb Hall oo Milwaukee's South Side. Mr. Dukakis lit into the Reagan administration's record in phrases echoing Mr. Gephardt's.

"This administration has mortgaged our future to a bunch of of the Wisconsin Assembly, there is a painting of Robert M. La Fol-maniacs and sharp operators on Wall Street," Mr. Dukakis said. "They've turned Main Street America into a shopping mall for foreign investors. And now they want a new four-year contract from sive movement. Mr. Loftus underthe American people. Who do they stands how important the liberal think they are? How dumb do they

> The blunt language was the clearest response yet to the criticism Mr. Dukakis received from many quarters after his unexpectedly wide loss to Mr. Jackson in Michigan. Critics, and some supporters, said he occded to intensify

Mr. Dukakis also sought Thurs-day to draw an implicit contrast with Mr. Jackson on the issue of experience, saying his devotion to "job-creating, economy-huilding" was "something I've lived with and worked towards during every one of my 25 years to public service."

Mr. Dukakis's director of operations, Jack Corrigan, said Thursday that "Jackson will do well here" because Wisconsin "has a tradition of supporting very liberal candi-dates" and because Republicans David S. Broder of The Washing- often cross over to vote in the Democratic cootest when there are oo Mr. Dukakis has sought to rein- hot Republican contests.

MOROCCAN WELCOME - The U.S. secretary of defense. Frank C. Carlucci, was greeted Friday by Foreign Minister Abdellatif Filali of Morocco in the southern city of Marrakesh. Mr. Carlucci is on a three-day visit to discuss military cooperation with King Hassan II and other officials.

Seoul Apologizes for Silence Over '80 Kwangju Killings

SEOUL - The government apologized Friday for its long si-lence over the 1980 killings of hundreds of protesters in Kwangju. Bot the statement, an effort to ease the passions surrounding an incident that has haunted South Korea, appeared to fall short of a formal apology for the killings.

Iostead, the government exssed "regret over the pain and suffering of the victims, their families and the Korean people."

Kwangju has lived as a symbol of brutality, tarring the government of former President Chun Doo Hwan and that of his successor, Roh Tae Woo. For many, Kwangju was unforgivable and the government's silence intolerable.

Chung Han Mo, the minister of information, said the government offers its sincere apology not only to the victims of the turmoil but also to all residents of Kwangjo and the general public for failing to solve this problem even though eight years have passed."

He also said the government would pay compensation to the victims and their families and support efforts to erect a memorial.

In May 1980, troops were sent into Kwangju to quell an uprising protesting the government's failure to make democratic changes. They called for the resignation of Mr. Chun, then a lieutenant general, who seized power in a 1979 military

Some protesters were armed, and soldiers stormed the city. By official count, 191 people died, but opposition groups insist that as many as 2,000 people were killed.

SAUDI:

for Mr. Horan's replacement was the Chinese missile issue,

The publication said Mr. Horan

partment instructions, recently saw the king to convey the administra- couldn't succeed and we'll simply tion's unhappiness and concern have to get rid of the land." the missiles, which have a range over 1,000 miles (1,600 kilometers).

voiced concern about the Chinese missiles. In a letter to Secretary of State George P. Shultz, more than 30 senators asked the administrasales to Saudi Arabia "until this matter is fully resolved and the Chinese missiles are withdrawn." Mr. Shultz, who is on a visit to Italy and the Middle East, is sched-

week and is expected to discuss the Chinese missiles with the king and The senators' letter ooted that provide Congress with informal notification for a $450 million package of support items for Saudi Arabia's receotly purchased AWACS radar planes.

Arabia must be re-examined. Therefore, we hope that the admin-age."

The three co-sponsors of the letter were Senators Rudy Boschwitz, Republican of Minnesots; Howard of a Jewish extremist group who M. Metzenbaum, Democrat of were imprisoned after their conviction. M. Metzenbaum, Democrat of the Company of the Compa lican of Oregon.

'more than 30 secators" had signed the letter but that it would Ira Rappaport's sentence was re- if leaders in the Middle East gave oot be sent immediately to give duced by four months and Yitzhak even tentative signs of willingness them more time to obtain other Geniram's by two and a half to endorse the plan.

finds domestic industries have been sentative.

the plant-closing requirement "is riving at a decision would be probably a killer provision" that streamlined. "The Congress jettisoned a lot of

Under the bill, authority to impose restraints in retaliation for foreign trade practices that violate international trade rules would be transferred from the president to ence committee that produced the force their removal the U.S. trade representative. But the president would still be empow-U.S. Envoy Is Out ered to waive action under some shift of authority to the trade repre- product is that oobody's happy his authority to decide what type of industries threatened by surges m imports. But the machinery for ar-

Even as the hill moved ahead in hle veto were growing. Senator John C. Danforth, Republican of Missouri, said the plant-closing provision and several others "clearwould sink the legislation unless Representative Dan Rostenkow-

They also imposed a three-year prohibition on federal government purchases from Toshiba Corp., the slap oo the wrist with a wet noo-die." Mr. Garn said. Japanese see some racism in the congressional action Thursday, as a Last year, the Japanese government ordered Toshiba to stop all exports to Communist countries

While the sentences were light, the judge sharply criticized To-shiba Machine. In the Japanese context, the social disgrace implied in such an attack is significant pun-

On Friday, Mr. Tamura, the trade minister, complained of highly cultivated U.S. congressmen who, he said, had criticized the court judgment as only "mid pun-

The Tokyo court decision in the Toshiba case so angered one U.S.

senator that he backed away from less stringent sanctions against Toshiba duriog congressional negotia-tions, The Washington Post reported from Washington. Senator Jake Garn, Republican of Utah, backed away from a compromise that imposed tough penalties for future Toshiba sales in the United States but which omitted any punishment for the sale of

The Japanese court punishment

amouoted to oothing more than a computerized milling machines.

■ Senator Angered

Norwegian company that also was involved in the high-technology for a year. Last week, the Tokyo sale to the Soviets. Kongsberg Vaa-District Court found Toshiba Mapenfabrikk, was rarely mentioned chine guilty of illegally trading with in the debate even though sanctions ing the expiration Thursday of a the Soviet Union, lining it the in the debate even bilateral agreement covering the equivalent of $16,000 and imposing also apply to it.

TRADE: White House Warns of a Veto on New Bill

To U.S. Sanctions on Toshiba reported from Washington, Japanese officials said that they would seek a continuation of talks be-

Many Japanese believe that Americans have overreacted to the Toshiba case, and have oot treated seriously the penalties that Japan itself already imposed. Mr. Obuchi said the government would urge the Reagan administration 10 lobby Congress for a rever-

On Thursday, House and Senate negotiators agreed to punish Toshiba because a subsidiary, Toshiba Machine Co., sold militarily sensitive technology to the Soviet

The sale involved sophisticated milling machines capable of producing ultra-quiet propellers that would make Soviet submarines

In their trade bill negotiations.

the congressional conferees agreed to ban all Toshiba Machine sales in the United States for three years.

sal of its conferees action.

Union from 1982 to 1984.

harder to detect.

parent company.

tween the two countries.]

foods, United Press International suspended prison sentences on two ishment

(Continued from Page 1)

By Clyde Haberman

New York Times Service

TOKYO - Japanese government and business leaders reacted sharply Friday to an agreement by U.S. congressional negotiators to include stringent curbs against To-shiba Corp. in an omnibus trade

The White House spokesman,

Marlin Fitzwater, said Friday that the Toshiba provision in the bill was among several that could result in a presidential veto, The Associated Press reported from Washing-

Officials described the U.S. action as a violation of Japanese sovereignty, and raised the possibility of bringing the United States before a major trade tribunal, the General Agreement on Tariffs and Hajime Tamura, the minister of international trade and industry, was especially critical, calling the congressional decision "foolish" and "very regrettable."

the government's chief spokesman, Keizo Obuchi, from Foreign Minister Sosuke Uoo and from Toshi-

[On a separate trade issue, the United States announced that it would carry out a threat to chal-lenge Japan's beef and citrus import quotas before GATT follow-ba's president, Joichi Aoi.

Condemnation also came from Trade.

hurt by imports. The administration wanted flexibility to do nothing if trade relief would hurt the In an interview, Mr. Yeutter said could justify a veto if not removed.

undesirable things this last week," Mr. Yeutter said. "The question is whether they jettisoned enough.
And we oeed a couple of days to

(Continued from Page 1)

The president also would retain restraints to impose to aid U.S.

Congress, concerns about a possithey were removed.

package, said that there was bound to be some grambling but that he waive the curbs if the cost "would was pleased with the final product. be substantially out of proportionrcumstances.

"We worked long and hard, and to the benefits of action."

Mr. Reagan has opposed the I think evidence that it's a good about it," he said. In last-minute bargaining Mr. Rostenkowski and the Senate Finance Committee chairman, Lloyd-Beotseo, Democrat of Texas, erased the provision that Mr. Gephardt had made the centerpiece of his campaign for the presidency, which he dropped last week. It. would have required 10 percent annual rollbacks in "excess and unwarranted" surpluses that other countries run in trade with the United States. In its place, Mr. Rostenkowski and Mr. Bentsen settled on a modified Senate alternative that calls on the U.S. trade representative to list ski, Democrat of Illinois, the chair- foreign trade barriers and, if oecesman of the House-Senate confer- sary, use import restrictions to

The bill still would leave room to Learn to speak French University year — two semester (October January, February-May)

3 month-long summer intensive sessions [June, July, September] Institut d'Études Françaises pour Étudiants Étrangers 23, Rue Gaston-de-Saporta, 13625 Aix-en-Provence, Cedex, France. Tel.: 42.23,28.43.

= INSTITUT DE FRANÇAIS =

A cordial, hard-working atmosphere

A breathtaking setting on the Riviera

Daily 8.30-17.00 with 2 meals

For adults. 8 levels: Beginners I to Advanced II

LEARN AND LIVE THE FRENCH LANGUAGE

CENTRE MÉDITERRANNÉEN D'ÉTUDES FRANÇAISES

06320 Cap d'Ail (France). Tel.: (93|78.21.59. Tbc.) CEMED 461792.

4-week course starts April 5, May 2 and all year INSTITUT DE FRANÇAIS - D-2 in calm and idyllic surroundings near Monte Carlo. Copd'Ail, a health resort, offers a wide range of hotels and pension years of experience, Wholever your level, you may acquire a mastery of French to suit your professional or cultural needs. Small groups. 4, 8 or 12-week courses starting each arouth. Castette topics and labrary one available to students supervised by a professor. Brochure with enrollment fees, alone or with board and ladging.

The CENTRE MEDITERRANGEN D'ÉTUDES FRANÇAISES Offers 36

UNIVERSITE AIX-MARSEILLE III

Aix-en-Provence

na/ Mar. Tel.: 93 01 88 44, Thu; 970.989 F.

Excellent French food

A truly caring staff

The highest quality teaching
A high-level international student body

SERIOUS ABOUT LEARNING FRENCH?

VERSION FRANÇAISE intensive, all levels.

Small groups (max. 6).
For references & brochures. - 23 Rue de Rivoli - 06000 TACE. Tal.: 93 88 29 90-

CAMPS - CANADA

CONSIDER SUMMER CAMP IN CANADA for Boys & Girls 9 to 17 yrs. OUR 30TH YEAR OF EXCELLENCE

MANITOU-WABING SPORTS & ARTS CENTRE (2) a his North Probabing Faces A $4.00 $4.00 $4.00 $4.00 $9

Meek—$3195 U.S.; 4 Week—$2195 U.S.; 3 Week—$1595 U.S. Video (state format), references and literature available. 251 Davenport Rd., Toronto, Ontario, MSR 1J9

EUROPE

ENGLISH

FRENCH

GERMAN SPANISH Heidelberg

Intensive and vacation courses, all levels, 3-8 weeks, residential or tarnity accommodation, credits towards degrees, attractive study centres, qualified & experienced teachers, cultural programme.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE INSTITUTE

Dept. FL1, 51 Waterloo Road, London SE1 8TX Tel: (01 928 8484) Telex: 8812438 SCOL G

AUSTRIA

LANGUAGE STUDY IN SALZBURG Salzburg International Language Center

An international Language Institute located in Europe's most beautiful city, Intensive German, Italian, French and English courses held at all levels. Special summer programs offered for all age groups. Courses enhanced by extensive travel program. Full boarding facilities available OD OF OFF CHINDUS.

SILC. Descil Moostrass: 106

Tel. (662) 84 44 85 84 65 11 Teles: 632476 mint a

INNSBRUCK INTERNATIONAL SUMMER INSTITUTE

3-6 week summercourses in English, German and Computer, 27 periods per week Monday through Thursday, Weekendprogram; salling/windsurfing; mounding; tennis; skiling; traveling; cultural programs; For further information and catalog contact: IISI; A-6141 Schönberg 26 Austria tel: (0) 52 25/42 01, 42 02 telex: 534354 fvsch a

CENTER FOR UNIVERSITY STUDIES

ZUNIVERSITY

INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION DIRECTORY

LICENSED DEGREES A.A. in Humanities, Social

Sciences A.A,S. in International Business B.B.A. in International Business B.A. in Liberal Arts.

For detailed information write: Via Marche 54, 00187 Rome, Italy - Phone 493.528 - Telex 612510.

SWITZERLAND

BUSINESS SCHOOL LAUSANNE Master of Business Administration Doctor of Business Administration

Saturdays and full-time day programs. Taking enrolments now. Top Faculty. Contact: Admissions Officer 1002 LAUSANNE, Switzerland

Tel.: 021/27 38 33. PRIVATE SCHOOLS IN SWITZERLAND

For all information please apply to our Educational Adviser: Mr. Paul A. Mayor. SCHOLASTIC SERVICE "TRANSWORLDIA" - GENEVA 2 Rue du Vicaire-Savoyard. Phone: 44 1565

UNITED KINGDOM

TASIS: one School, four Countries. SWITZERLAND · ENGLAND · FRANCE · GREECE

Longest established indepen with added international dent American boarding/day school in Europe.

Beautiful campuses near Luga-no, London, Paris, and Athens. Small classes, AP courses, dedicated faculty, and family-Extensive European travel.

SUMMER PROGRAMS Intensive language study. Academic credit and enrichment sports, art, music, and theater.

dimension, grades K-12.

and course-related travel. Special International Section offering ESL instruction and Unique Post Graduate Year in Europe with college-level study immersion in English language for students representing over

Tel: 01-853 4484 Tx: 8953233 ELSLON G

Royal Hill, Greenwich, London SE10 8RT

UNIVERSITY DEGREE BACHELOR'S * MASTER'S * DOCTORATE

For Work, Assidemic, Life Experience Send detailed resume for tree evaluation. PACIFIC WESTERN UNIVERSITY 600 N. Sepulveda Bivd., Los Angeles, Californio, 90049, Depl. 23, U.S.A.

International Herald Tribune's NEXT INT'L EDUCATION SPECIAL DIRECTORY

will appear on May 7, For advertising information please contact: Françoise Clement, International Herald Tribune, 92521 Neuilly Cedex, France. or your nearest IHT representative.

(Continued from Page 1) point" for the Saudi decisioo to ask

would be replaced by Walter Cuter, a former U.S. ambassador to the kingdom, State Department officials said the White House had not yet decided on his replacement. Mr. Horan, presumably at de-tion to reconsider further arms uled to visit Saudi Arabia next other Saudi officials. the administration was about to

In light of the Sandi purchase of Chinese missiles, the letter said, we strongly believe our current policy toward arms sales to Saudi

A Boschwitz aide said that ported from Jerusalem.

BORDER: Symbolic Retreat by Israeli Establishment or weeks.

philosophers of the settler move-ment, using the biblical term for the West Bank. "It's a make-believe performance of mighty efforts so that later on they can say they of that the Shebibah youth moveadmires, former Defense Minister ment has been banned, and the so far just four, beating and shoot-

On Thursday, the Senate also strictions, saying they were unnec- non conduit to journalists, has unavoidable, restricting where reessary and potentially dangerous. been ordered closed for six months.

Mr. Sharoo attempted to force a Houses have been buildozed and vote in Israel's inner cabinet oo his oumerous economic sanctions imown proposals for restoring order posed. in the territories but was blocked But by the leader of his own hawkish to go all the way because, unlike political party, Prime Minister Mr. Sharon, its stated goal is not to they feared activists were planning yitzhak Shamir.

Mr. Sharon and Mr. Haetzni offer a simple solution to suppressing the uprising, in which at least 114 civilian leaders debate the political estinians have been killed. foture of the area. They would expel dozens, perhaps hundreds, of suspected activists and their families, they would shut the doors of every Arab building society, trade union, professional group or student organiza-tion advocating a Palestinian state; and they would hulldoze tens, per-Mr. Goodman said they haps hundreds, of houses in retalia-guarantee Israel's permanent begemony over the occupied areas but rather to put down the present up-rising and buy time while Israel's

Ultimately, Israeli geoerals, along with Defense Minister Yitz-Green Line has been permanently a potentially explosive security

Mr. Goodman said they also see end the violence within a few days lines, restricting gasoline supplies r weeks.

and travel — are alienating middle-The Israeli military establish- class Palestinians who are Israel's ment appears to be moving in Mr. potential negotiating partners.

Sharon's direction, bot slowly.

But the army has little choice,

More than 4,000 suspected activists given Israel's political stalemate are in prison, 500 of them in admin- and the lack of consensus for oegoistrative detention where they can tiation. So it continues with halfbe held indefinitely without charge hearted, incremental measures; imprisoning hundreds but expelling Ariel Sharon, also criticized the re- Palestine Press Service, an informa- ing rioters but only when deemed porters can go but not what they Write. And it is redrawing the old - boundaries in an attempt to isolate But the army appears unwilling the uprising. The measure was taken because security officials said a major outburst of violence for Land Day, last Wednesday's traditional day of protest, that would spill over the line and create new. links between the Palestinians of . the territories and Israel's 750,000 Arab citizens.

along with Defense Minister Yitz-hak Rabin, do oot accept that the The territories were indeed swept by a new wave of violence in which erased. And they see the settlers as four were killed and 60 wounded. But just a few miles away in Israel : proper, within sight of West Bank villages, Israeli Arabs held a series a increasingly that the tough sanc- of peaceful rallies demanding equal tion against stone and gasoline dons of recent weeks - forcing rights for themselves and an indebomh throwers. Such measures, merchants to close their shops each pendent homeland next-d Mr. Sharon has asserted, would morning, cutting off telephooe their Palestinian brethren. pendent homeland next-door for istration will oot move forward at this time with the AWACS pack- ISRAEL: 2 Killed as Officials Warn Against Violence: belonging to an extremist group he hoped for definite replies by

A government spokesman said

known as "the Jewish uoderpeace plan, arrived in Rome on Friday. He said he would be happy months. The two were convicted of Mr. Shultz, who in February said mid-March, suggested on the way. to Rome that his expectations were now much less ambitious. In Italy he was to confer with President Francesco Cossiga; the interim foreign minister, Giulio Andreotti, and Pope John Paul II before embarking Sunday on his before embarking Summay on second peace mission to the Middle

ESCORTS & GUIDES

AMBIANCE INTERNATIONAL ESCORT SERVICE

OF NEW YORK 212-889-7300 24 HOUR SERVICE MAJOR CREDIT CARDS & CHECKS ACCEPTED ESCORTS FOR EVERY OCCASION

LONDON KENSINGTON ESCORT SERVICE 10 KENSINGTON CHURCH ST, WI TEL: 937 9136 OR 937 9133 All mojor credit cards accepted. INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED

ESCORTS & GUIDES

INTERNATIONAL ESCORT 212-765-7896 LONDON 212-765-7754 BELGRAVIA

67 Chiltern Street, Landon W1 Tel: 486 3724 or 486 1158 All major cradit curch accepted GENEVA ESCORT SERVICE. Tel: 46 [] 58 ESCORTS & GUIDES

* ZURICH * CAROLINE SCORT SERVICE. 01 / 252 61 74 TOP TWENTY-ONE Guide Agency.
Multilingud

Control of the contro

SOPISE PRENCH SPEAKING Excert and Guide Service. Tel: 370 4067 London.

LONDON ISABELLE FRENCH speckering First Closs VIP Escort Service Raghrsbridge. Tel 01:235 0592

Scort Service. Phone: (6) 20 - 91 1030-All major credit cords occupied.

Wilton VIP Escort Agency 2-461125 SCORT AND GLIDE AGENCY. The Friendly Service. DUBSSELDORF - KORIN = ESSEN -Bonn - Dueburg crea escort service. Tel: 0211/34 00 84, credif cords. London Excert Service. Talephone No.: 01 555 8611

(Continued from Page 1)

ians in the West Bank, Reuters re- win support for a new Middle East

ESCORTS & GUIDES

SERVICE Head office in New York 330 W. Soth St., N.Y.C. 10019 USA

CAPRICE-NY ESCORT SERVICE IN NEW YORK TB: 212-737 3291. (Continued from Back Page)

ARISTOCATS LONDON EMANUELLE ixclusive VIP Excert Service Knightsbridge 584 (7) 33 London Escert Service 3 Shouldhom Street, London WI All major Credit Cords Accepted Tel 01 258 0070 (3 lens) 12 noon - midnight MAJOR CREDIT CARDS AND CHECKS ACCEPTED TOKYO - FIRST CLASS - ESCORT/ Guide and Membership Service, Tel: [03] 351-2278.  LONDON LADY  ESCORT LONDON * MADRID Garwick Tel: 01 769 0409 and Portman Escort Agency Stamour Escart Service. Tel: 259 90 02

ESCORTS & GUIDES

LONDON BRAZHIAN ESCORT Service, Open saven days a week. Male-ingual. Tel: 01 773 4666. Service of motor credit cords occupi-ed. Tel: 749 3062 / 749 7492

Scort Service.

LONDON LADY ELIZABETH Escort service, central London & Heathrow. Tel: 01-373-5719

KENSINGTON HOUSE Escort & Traini Service, Modrid, Tel: 341-2705546, 2706732.

 $\mathcal{M}^{\mathbf{H}^{\mathsf{rf}}}$

 연기 구나 는- 20.0 生化电子 5.74 ii e : . .

Other Bollar Val

Section 1 forward Rates

Boistesti D

المالية المحتج

the sentence de la company de com

t, the social dis

t an attack is sign

Baior Angered

: Tokyo coon de daring congression of the Washington has an Washington has also backed away for itse that imposed to future Toshiba and States but which and States but which are the states and states are the states and states are the s ed States but which punishment for the sta

suterized milling

e Japanese cour par

panese see some non;

ressinnal action limits ressinnal action limits ressinnal action limits research to the Soviets, Konstall to the Soviets, Konstall abrikk, was rarely make debate even though the apply to it.

sto on New M

duct is that pobody to

sed the provision that it of had made the consus campaign for the posts ich he dropped ha et uld have required 10 pomp il rollbacks in cass mi

ha its place, Mr. Rosenta

d Mr. Bentsen settlelmin

d Senate alternative tack

U.S. trade representates

rign wade buriers ad in y, use import mining

The bill still would know give the curbs if the out to substantially out of paper

veli Establishma

nes, restricting guidant

ad travel — ne di la sec

lass Palestinens who miss

But the army has lake

pren Israel's policei etc.

and the lack of consensating of peaceful ratios demains

nunts for themselve mines

Ment Palestaller School

Against Violen

he hoped for defining the to Reme that his experience

In Italy he was wanted

Interim forces parties

LONDON AND 18

CUPE WEAR 74

now much less actions

endent homeland territor

the benefits of action."

oce their removal.

or it," he said.

apply to it.

Mr. Garn said

SATURDAY-SUNDAY, APRIL 2-3, 1988

ECONOMIC SCENE

An Expert Panel's Outline For Keeping U.S. on Top

By LEONARD SILK New York Times Service

EW YORK - Is the United States losing its place as possessor of the world's strongest economy? And, if so, what can it do to check its declining economic and what can it do to check its declining economic and political power? In an effort to answer those questions, which underlie the presidential campaign and set the agenda for the next administration, the Center for Strategic and International Studies in Washington assembled a bipartisan group of business and government leaders, headed by William E. Brock, the former special trade representative and secretary of labor in the Reagan administration

Among the group's conclusions:

The American economy remains the world's most powerful but without further improvements in trade and productivity, its

It calls for work force.

improving the productivity and flexibility of the U.S.

relative position will "continue in decline."

OUS industry is still at the cutting edge of technological on the wrist with 1 % innovation, but its lead has narrowed and it has been surpassed in many manufacturing applications.

the dollar remains the world's dominant currency, but its future has been clouded by the United States shift from leading international creditor to greatest debtor. Tensions between U.S. security and economic interests are rising as security obligations have remained relatively constant while competition with allies has intensified. Hence, "the balance between economic and security interests must be restruck." The strategy proposed by the report for solving these problems would have as its "vital first step" the improvement of the capital position of the United States by cutting the federal budget deficit and shifting the balance of resource use from consumption to saving. These changes would lower the cost of capital, spur n last-minute baryona t stenkowski and the sens investment and reduce reliance on borrowing from abroad. ex Committee change is assen. Democrat of la

But the group says cutting the budget or saving more will not begin to solve everything. It calls for improving the productivity and flexibility of the U.S. work force, especially by "appraising education at all levels."

AST WEEK, in two lectures at Duke University that in many ways parallel the center's report, Derek C. Bok, president of Harvard University, focused on the failings of the U.S. cranted surplus in control of con U.S. minversities are the greatest suppliers of new scientific knowledge. Then, Mr. Bok asked, "Why do we find ourselves losing huge markets to Japan even in high-tech industries?"

His answer: insufficient willingness to save and invest; poor public policies, including deficits and costly, cumbersome regulations, poor education and training, and ineffective management.

Mr. Bok noted the growth of a large "underclass," with 26 million functional illiterates and 34 million people in poverty.

Most striking, coming from the president of Harvard, was Mr. Bok's criticism of American higher education as a source of the nation's weak economic and industrial performance. He blamed the business schools for putting so much emphasis on finance and analytic skills rather than on manufacturing, and for relatively neglecting such fields as international business, the motivation of workers; government relations and production.

He criticized engineering schools for placing too little emphasis on design and industrial engineering. He said schools of public mistration had been "among the weakest of our professional schools and are nonexistent in many good universities."

He held that schools of education suffer "because we know too hitle about how students learn and how they can be taught more effectively." And he blamed American universities for neglecting the study of the causes of poverty and how to cure it.

and the lack of coastishing	44	 -
tation. So it contents with	Currency Rates jearned, incremental margaret	Carl Carl I amount where hundred the op-		التافيدي an far tust four, regime 2005
אם היחופיה חוני טבור השווים	DA P.F. ILL Gidr. B.F. S.	F. Yen
manyordable, restricted allow	Autsberdern. Clostd porters can go but an ear	Graphistal Closed	.•
merci due	Frankfurt Closed
A THE SECTION AND A SECTION AND ASSESSMENT ASSESS	Million - 1,232.30 2.327.50 741.50 218.60 - 661.90 35.439 87	9,45 9,932
hammetanes in an allege allege	New York(c) - Closed Closed	:
	Tokyo : 1 72450 23489 7498 22.15 8.1014 64.88 3.5679 9	1.14
The second of the Control of the Con	Zurick Closed	092 155.215
	1 PCU 1.2517 0.6601 2.0746 13434 13434 2 25445 41 1702 11	173,564
	1 SDR 13873 0.736 2.3819 7.8035 1,707.62 2380 40,1702 10 Clasing in Tukyo, Fixing in other centers, at Commercial transf in To buy one	pound; c: Ti by one dollar; ": Units of 100; N.G.: not quoted; N.A.: not available.
tional day of protest the e poil over the int our links between the Prison	Arben outstrat 5.275 Pla. moridos. 4.807 Mex. pezo 2290.00 S. Afr.
		eseto 1120
Arab citizens	Austr. schill: 11.48 Hong Kong S 7.022 Norw, krane 6.247 Swed, i Refu. fin. 27. 35.42 Indian ruppe 1.02 Norw, krane 6.247 Swed, i Refu. fin. 27. 35.42 Indian ruppe 1.022 Norw, krane 6.247 Talwas
	Fight Cres. 112.98 Inde. ropton 1662.00 Ptdl. peno 21.016 Talwas
The territories were counted	Consider 5 1,2335 Irish # 0,6236 Pert, escupe 156,57 Turkish Cifforne veion 3,7221 Isroell thek. 1,5661 South river 3,4507 Turkish
The territoria water of the man	Denish Brone 6356 (Compitt dinor 6273) Sing. 5 20055 UAE of Ventz.
four were kind mid with	Egypt pound: 1226 Majay ring." 2.564 S. Kor. won 740.00 Verse.
But just a few mile with the proper, within son white	Name York rotes unless marked * (local rate.)
Stormer, William Soul all 15	Forward Rates	a-day 10-da proper, within sold will be in the sold of	Correscy 39-day 49-day Currency 39-day Peind Sterling 1,805 1,678 1,6755 Canadian data 1,2353	1,2373 1,238
of peaceful raise demands	June 32 12379 12376 1723.15 Swiss Franc 1.3995	1.3534 1.348
	1 4 4 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5 5

Interest Rates

123.40 1.6472

Dollar Dollar D-Mark 1 anoth 5 4-6 74 3 7-3 74 3 190 anoth 64-676 3 7-3 74 6 mantin 6 7-6 m 3 7-3 74 Storcies Margon Guaranty (Dollars)	5 Trans Franc Fran	Yen ECU 8D March 31 March 31 March 41 4 March 6 March 5 March March 41 4 March 6 March 5 March 4 March 6 March 6 March 4 March 6 March 6 March March 8 March 6 March March 8 March 6 March March 9 March 1 March 6 March March 1 March 1
(SDR),

Key Money Rates Asian Dollar Beposits

March 31 6% - 6% 6 % - 6 % 6 % - 6 % 7 % - 7 % 7 % - 7 %

in herritt		DR), Ples applicable to interi			austao esinienum (o	r equivalent).
interim le	rking State of	es applicable la interi ey Momey Ba	tens of	BOSINS OF A 1	Asian De	llar Bepes	its
East in 3	ORIO & GUE	Stat States constitute lace rate deral topols in paper 19-179 days	Close 6 EVs Cisd.	April 1 Prev. 6 8%2 670 636	1 month 2 months 8 months 6 months 1 year Source: Revisi	Marci 64 - 642 6 % - 6 % 6 % - 6 % 7 % - 7 % 7 % - 7 %
LOID	W SABELL ST.	reath Treasury bills wath CD's reath CD's	-	5.68 6.12 6.40 6.45			Daniela
IONE	CHI CHI	ion count rule I nomes	212 346 13/14	21/2 31/76 313/16	Merria Lynch i	ey Market March teady Assels vield: 53	31
MOES LOVO		ipnik laterboek enik jaterbeek st Germany	376	375	Telerate Intere	st Raie index; & Lynch Telerate.	524
LOND	W AND THE DE	count rafe	215 472	272 472

8 3/16

Gold P.M. 454.65 457.70 467.25 457.65 458.00 Lexembers Peris (12.5 kilo
Zurich
London
New York Lingenbourg, Paris and London afficial flu-ings: Hong Kong and Zorich geening and classing prices: New York soot market clase, All prices in U.S. 5 per ounce.

Surplus Narrows In Japan

Trade Figure Falls To $6.85 Billion

Compiled by Our Staff From Disputches TOKYO - Japan's surplus in the current account, the widest trade measure, narrowed to $6.85 billion in February from $7.63 billion a year earlier, but widened from a $3.52 billion surplus in Jan-uary, the Finance Ministry said

It was the second consecutive month that the current account surplus had declined from a year earlier, after an rise in December. Current account measures a country's trade goods and services, as well as certain transfers.

In merchandise trade alone, Japan's surplus narrowed to $7.44 billion in February from $8.28 billion a year earlier, but was wider than the $4.58 billion surplus in January. Those figures were not djusted for seasonal variations. On an adjusted basis, the current account in February showed a sur-plus of 57.86 billion, narrowing from $8.03 billion in January, while the merchandise trade surplus narrowed to $8.45 billion, from $9.10 billion the previous month, The combined current account surplus in the 11 months to February stood at $76.42 billion. Ministry officials said the current account surplus for fiscal 1987, which ended Thursday, would be close to a government target of $82 billion, compared with the record $101.4 billion in the 1986 fiscal

He said that although exports had shown double-digit growth, imports had risen "remarkably."

Imports, unadjusted for seasonal variations, soared 45.1 percent to $12.43 billion in February, from $8.56 billion a year earlier. That outpaced a steady 17.9 percent rise in exports during the month, to $19.87 billion, from $16.85 billion a year earlier, the ministry said.

The robusiness of Japan's economy could trim the trade imbalance by more than $10 billion in 1988, according to some economists.

David Pike, economist for the UBS Phillips & Drew International securities firm forecast the current account suiplus for this year at a conservative $75 billion. That would compare with a record sur-plus of $86.69 billion on current

(AFP, Reuters)

Dallas Bank Expecting New Losses

By Thomas C. Hayes New York Times Service DALLAS - First Republic-Bank Corp. has disclosed in a filing with the government that it expects to report a "significant net loss" for the first quarter and that losses will continue through the year.

An official close to First RepubheBank, who asked not to be iden-tified, said examiners of the Comptroller of the Currency would finish their analysis of the banking orga-nization's mounting loan troubles in a matter of days and that the quarterly loss would be announced as early as next week.

No specific estimate of the firstquarter loss was included in a draft of First RepublicBank's 1987 annual report, which was filed Wednesday with the Securities and

ing condition is being closely watched by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which rescued the bailout in U.S. banking history.

mate the agency's final cost for a First RepublicBank bailout, but would push the total higher.

roughly the size of Continental. Many analysts believe Mr. Scidnotes from the FDIC. publicBank's independent auditor, Arthur Andersen & Co., said mounting troubles "indicate that the corporation may be unable to ferings plummeted by 64 percent, continue in its present form."

the report that some key [mancial ings stayed relatively stable, falling ratios may decline before the end of 10 percent, to $7.1 billion from $7.9 June to a level where $33 million in billion. The figures reflect strength long-term debt would be in techni-

Matsui: Only the Name Is Japanese

By Steve Lohr LONDON - It seemed a sure-fire marketing plan: a range branded with a Japanese name, a rising sun symbol and the catchy motto, "Japanese Technningy Made Perfect."

For three years, the Matsui line of televisions, videotape re-corders, radios and the like were an unqualified success. Currys, a leading British consumer-electronics retailer, sold several million Matsui products, backed by a promotional budget of more than $400 million.

Yet recently, a few niggling problems have surfaced. And the Matsui story reads like a case study of both the rewards and the potendal perils of trying to capitalize on the cachet of a foreign-sounding brand name.

First, it appears that the only thing Japanese in the Matsui products is the name. Like so many electronics goods today, they are made of components from various countries, including Taiwan, South Korea, Malaysia, Yugoslavia and Britain, and assembled in several countries.

"The Matsui goods are made anywhere but in Japan," said

Roy Hill, a senior officer in the Oxford trading standards office. a government consumer-protection agency that charged Currys with misleading advertising last December. Then, there is the matter of the name itself, a fairly common Japanese family name, but nnt Iwane Matsui, commander of Japanese forces in China, whn invaded Nanking in 1937. Roughly 40,000 people died in the ensuing "Rape of Nanking," mostly Chinese civilians, General Matsui was hanged after the that common. It is tantalizingly close to Mitsui, the name of one of Japan's largest industrial groups, and there is a Matsui construction company in Japan, But unfortunately for the company, one of the better-known holders of the name was General ingly, has brought protests from some British World War II veterans, Harold Payne, president of the Far East Prisoners of War, calls it "absolutely diabolical" that British companies have re-

See MATSUL Page 8

Federated Signs Sale Pact With Campeau, Macy

that it had signed a definitive ruptions to Federated's business. agreement to be sold to Campeau Corp. for $6.58 billion.

Macy & Co. that calls for Macy to stores also would be sold. acquire two Federated divisions for He said Campeau would proba-$1.1 billion.

ock's-Wilsbire and I. Magnin ties and to the payment of certain through.

expenses incurred by Macy, FederFederated bad reached the mergestate developer that also owns Al-week.

Campean agreed to pay $73.50 a stores are in the East.

Share, all up front, but less than both the Canadian developer and the New York-based resident. had offered when the bidding war reached a fevered pitch over the quate. two previous days. Any shares not tendered will be acquired by merg-er at the same price, Federated

On Thursday, Macy's had nf-fered a deal of $75.14 a share, or $6.73 billion including stock optim costs. That had topped Campeau's proposal to pay $74 a share, or $6.63 billinn, but in a two-step deal for 90 percent of Federated's stock

Federated also said, without claborating, that it would not be paying its regular quarterly dividend of 37 cents per share. Federated said its board consid- be presented Wednesday. ered it important to bring the sale

CINCINNATI - Federated arising from the continued compe Department Stores Inc., the fifth-largest U.S retailer, said Friday that it had given a said Friday

Walter Loeb, a retail industry analyst with the investment firm Federated also said it had signed Mnrgan Stanley & Co., predicted in definition agreement with R.H. Ibat Goldsmith's department bly retain Bloomingdale's, Lazarus Macy came away from its two- and Abraham & Straus, which he month battle with Campeau for called "the core companies that Federated with the Bullock's, Bull-made Federated." The deal ran along the lines of a chains. A Macy spokeswoman said the company was pleased with the nutcome.

In the user hard acceptance of the bar and Federated reached last month, which gave Macy the right to buy The companies also agreed in Bullock's and I. Magnin if the twn settle all lingatinn among the par-companies' merger agreement fell ated said. Federated will pay Macy er agreement with Macy on March $60 million of its actual expenses. 2 but reopened the bidding after 2 but reopened the bidding after Campeau, a Toronto-based real Campeau raised its affer last week. The purchase of the two divi-lied Stores Corp. in the United sions would give Macy an expand-States, won Federated after two ed presence in California and the meetings of the retailer's board this Southwest. Most of Macy's nearly both the Canadian developer and Jan. 25, when Campeau offered the New York-based retailer Macy $4.2 billion in buy the retailer. which rejected the offer as inade-

> Campeau raised its bid, but Federated spurned the Canadian company's advances until the end of February, when the retailer agreed to negotiate with Campeau.

But as the Federated board was to meet to review that proposal, Macy presented its own bid, and on March 2. Federated and Macy annosmeed their merger agreement.

Court battles over Federated's "poison pill" takeover defense ensued, and both suitors cootinued to raise their offers until the Federated board called for "final bids" in (Reuters, AP, UPI)

Greenspan Warns Congress Not to Rush Market Reforms

Arguing that analysis needs to be done mittee chairman, introduced Thursday. The and that some problems lingering since the bill would create a regulatory coordinating October crash might be self-correcting. Alan committee to handle intermarket issues. Greenspan, chairman of the Fed, said Thursmire, Democrat of Wisconsin and the com-day that the board's governors had conclud-ed that legislative proposals to reshape the regulatory structure of the markets "appear premature."

annther precipitnus fall in stock prices at this point were slim. The market is considerably below its levels of last fall, he noted, and the use of portfolio insurance and trading in

Mr. Greenspan said he felt the chances of

"I know that there is some developing stock index futures and index options—impatience in the Congress with respect to activines that accelerated the market plunge—has declined significantly since October.

Mr. Greenspan told the Senare Banking

Federal Reserve Board has given Congress a ing the very type of episode we are endeavorand some legislators wanted to hear and some legislators wanted to hear and some did not: Do not rush to pass legislation to avert another stock market support a divided Congress is support

All three regulators asked Congress to wait until after a presidential working group on the marker had made its recommendations, due by May 19, to the White House. The regulators defended the working group's goals and rejected charges that it was merely a tactic by the Reagan administration to avoid legislation this year.

By Nathaniel C. Nash

New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — The chairman of the Washington — The chairman of the markets, creating the markets, creating the markets of the markets and the Commodity Function — The chairman of the markets of the mar are supporting a wait-and-see posture. "I really feel very strongly we ought to wait until after May 19," said Senator Alan J. Dixon, Democrat of Illinois, who has said he Scnator Alfnuse M. D'Amato, Republican of New York, agreed. "I think that legislative action, and particularly the kind that we're capable of, could On March 18, President Ronald Reagan, through executive nrder, created the working group, which includes George D. Gould, of the very objectives we talked about achieving he said. achieving," he said.

Wall Street Offerings Up in Quarter

But Year to Year, Stock and Bond Underwriting Plunged

By Kurt Eichenwald

stock market collapse in October.

Exchange Commission.

First RepublicBank's deteriorations from $43.1 billion in the previous that is paying off," said Roger M. growth of only 6 percent in the same period a year earlier.

"It certainly was an active quarbank from a run on deposits two weeks ago with a $1 billion loan and a guarantee of all deposits. The relief plan was the second-largest to the services at Morgan Stanley &

Co. "What you are really looking at in the lower numbers is the effect of L. William Seidman, chairman in the lowe of the FDIC, has declined to esti-The amount of stock and bond offerings should continue to grow analysts said unabated insses this quarter as Wall Street continues to recover, underwriters said. The FDIC paid $4.5 billion to Nonetheless, the year-to-year Continental Illinois Bank & Trust comparisons show caution among Co. to rescue it in 1984, but has investors. Amid a rise in interest recovered much of that through rates and the continuing aftershock loan liquidations. Mr. Seidman of the market plunge, the dollar said last week that its final cost amount of new securities underwwould be $1.7 billion, and noted ritings dropped precipitously in the Vasey, senior vice president and that First RepublicBank was first quarter when compared with director of the debt financing divithat in the quarter a year earlier. The $67.9 billion in stocks, kets.

man will be unable to find another bonds and other securities issued in bank or investor group to bid for the first quarter was down 24 per- led the listing a year ago, released a First RepublicBank, leaving the cent from the record $89.5 billion a late rush of issues that helped it FDIC to operate it for several years year earlier, according to IDD Inas it did with Continental Illinois.

The place second, with 14.4 percent of the market. Goldman, Sachs & Co. Bank's bad loans likely would be isolated in a collections bank, with the healthier bank recapitalized by as it did with Continental funds. In either case, First Republication in the district of the drop occurred in was third, with 12.3 percent. both the debt and equity markets. sues dropped 21 percent, to $57.9 sharp declines. In the debt markets, billion, from $73.5 billion a year In the annual report, First Re- earlier. But the amount of equity issues fell even more, by 38 percent, to $9.8 billion, from $15.9 billion.

The number of initial public ofto 51, from 143 a year earlier. But First RepublicBank also said in the dollar amount of those offerlysts said.

Merrill Lynch Capital Markets, the amount of high-yield, or "junk which was ranked third a year ago, bond," issues fell 38 percent, to bond," issues fell 38 percent, to $4,2 billion, from $6.8 billion. New York Times Service which was ranked third a year ago, bond," issues fell 38 percent, to NEW YORK — Corporations found Wall Street a greater source of new money in the first three months of this year than during the More important, the firm's share of the market green to 17.2 percent.

shell-shocked climate after the of the market grew to 17.2 percent. $69.4 billion in the previous year. Convertible debt issues virtually collapsed, falling 94 percent, to $265.9 million, from $4.1 billion a from 12.7 percent a year earlier. It The amount for stock and bond was the first quarter in which the anderwriting jumped 58 percent in the first quarter, to $67.9 billion, from $43.1 billion in the previous year earlier. There were only 6 new convertible debt issues, compared with 51 a year earlier.

> Underwriters say the amount of offerings should continue to grow this quarter as Wall Street continues to recover from October's collapse.

sion at Merrill Lynch Capital Mar-

Salomon Brothers Inc., which in some financing sectors, the Overall, the amount of debt is- year-to-year comparisons showed

> LUXFUND Valeur nette d'inventaire au 28-03-88

> > U.S. $98.33

CONSEILLER EN INVESTISSEMENT PALUEL-MARMONT FINANCE 26. RUE MURILLO F-75408 PARM

Mortgage-related debt, which constituted a significant percentage of all domestic issues last year.

dropped 21 percent, to $25.7 bil-lion. from $32.4 billion.

took a beating when compared with the previous year's unusually heavy flow during the bull market. Common stock issues, excluding closed-end funds, fell 86 percent to

$1.2 billion from $8.8 billion a year

But the closed-end funds played a significant role in holding down the losses for common stock issues in the first quarter. When those funds are included, according to

IDD, the amount of common stock issues fell only 35 percent, to $7.7 billion, from $11.9 billion.

Among the investment banking leaders, Wheat, First Securities Inc.

jumped to the head of the equity issue underwriters because of its $2 billion issue for Massachusetts Fi-

For a magician to flip a rabbe into a hat while inscirecting his audience is nothing compared with flushing out the floating supply in a bottoming transite while keeping the public convinced it is toping. Write, phone, fax or telex for complementary Indigo reports on issues such as Cray and Harris big growth years alread.

INDIGO INVESTMENT, S.A. Avda Paipa de Mallarta 43, Torrenofinos, Mologa, Spais. Phone 34-32-38900 Fax: 34-52-389374 Tolex 79423.

Indian is not a licensed broke nancial Services Co.

In the equity markets, issues

undersecretary of the Treasury for finance, was leery about intrusive legislation.

Investors Still Favor Bond And Money Market Funds

New York Times Service NEW YORK — U.S. investors continued to favor money market and bond funds over equity mutual funds in February, a trend that began last spring and accelerated after the stock market phunge in

In February, the net flow, after redemptions, into equity mutual funds fell 24 percent to $2.2 billion, from $2.9 billion in January, while investments in bond funds rose 5 percent to $6.1 billion, from $5.5 billion, the Investment Company Institute, a trade group in Washington, reported Thursday.

Equity fund assets at the end of February had declined to $193.8 billion, from $241.9 billion Sept. 30, while bond-fund assets had risen to $287.4 billion, from $279.1 billion in the comparable period a year earlier, said L. Erick Kanter, vice president of the institute.

"But if the combined total assets of stock and bond funds at the end of February are tallied," he added, "they are only off $800 million from the $490 billion we reported on Feb. 29, 1987." Partly responding to the decline in sales of equity mutual funds

Vanguard Group of Investment Cos. announced Thursday that it would reopen its Windsor Fund to all investors after a hiatus of almost three years. Since May 15, 1985, the Windsor equity fund has accepted only investments for IRA and other retirement accounts from its shareholders, said John S. Woerth, a Vanguard spokesman. According to Donoghue's Money Fund Report, investments in taxable money market accounts as of March 23 totaled $262.8

INTERNATIONAL CURRENCY REVIEW The financial world's unity independent currency magazine.

Enter your 1988 subscription now: receive three current issues free, including our special report on the hidden deceptions billion, compared with $229.9 billion Sept. 30.

behind the US Federal budget crisis. Latest issue contains: US stollar and the world economy • EMS intramarginal imervention • Auditing problems at US Treasury • Private and official fraud • Some weaknesses of the US Treasuries market • 'Big Bang'/Crash analysis •

	Turkish lira e Plus: Venezuela e Bolivia e Brunei e Indonesia e Srì Lanka e I	leps
	international Currency Review is united at a level of economic knowledge and tophist , of the highest colliner " – Dr Bilrosiny Kriz, "Stimulating" – 5 M G Hodge, Shell	icatio
-		Ì

DETACH AND MAIL THIS SUBS	CRIPTION ORDER FORM
Name:	Pasition:
Address:	***************************************
	-1,1
Signature/stamp:

Enter my/our subscription for 1988 (Volume 19) to international Currency Review and bill melus $300 (6 issues). Send the three current issues free. Continue until countermanded in writing. SEND THIS ORDER TO: Subscription Department, World Reports (UK) Limited, 108 Horseferry Road, London SW1P 2EF, England.

Seagram, After Its 2 Recent Acquisitions, Expects Diluted Earnings

TORONTO - The $2.1 billion that Seaits debt to finance two recent acquisitions ruary and Tropicana last mooth - "will percent stake in Du Pont. will slightly dilute earnings to the short term, offset a large measure of the incremental according to the company's executive vice president of finance.

very large portion" of amortized goodwill the long term. and an estimated $200 million in added interest payments to finance the acquisitions.

Seagram reported earnings of $521.1 mil-$423.5 million, or $4.30 per share, in 1986.

Mr. Goetz said that the earnings from the two recent acquisitions — Martell, the said Seagram should receive $173 million, 53.1 billion, but analysts said a recent decigram Co., the Canadian distiller, is adding to French cognac maker, was acquired in Feb- after tax, in dividends this year from its 22.9 sioo by Moody's Investor Service Inc. to interest expense."

"For the pext one to two years, the earn-Thursday in an interview from New York that earnings from Tropicana Products Inc.

The executive, Richard Goeltz, said ings will be less than they would have been would cost shareholders 60 cents to 75 cents oy," Mr. Goeltz said.

He said Seagram with the acquisitions, the added. "But we cannot ship added." But we cannot ship added to two yours, that the acquisitions without the acquisitions, "he added. "But we cannot ship added to two yours, the added to two yours, the acquisitions will be less than they would have been would cost shareholders 60 cents to 75 cents oy," Mr. Goeltz said.

He said Seagram with the acquisitions of the acquisition of the that earnings from Tropicana Products Inc. will willingly accept this short-term reducand Martell & Compagnie would offset "B tioo in earnings to strengthen Seagram over

He declined to speculate on how 1988 earnings would compare with 1987 figures. Earnings, he said, would depend oo the he said. About 75 percent of the $2.1 billion lion, or $5.26 per share, for 1987, up from strength of Seagram's spirits and wine busi- will be bank financed over 5 to 30 years, with ness, as well as on earnings from Du Pont the rest remaining in commercial paper.

Jacques Kafavian, a consumer products analyst at Mcleod Young Weir Ltd. in Montreal, said, however, that the acquisitions another for the purchase of Tropicana. Both acquisitions will be paid for early this month, affirm the Seagram debt demonstrates market confidence.

"It certainly represents a quantum increase in the degree of leverage in the compa-

He said Seagram would keep its debt sta-Seagram is arranging a bank facility for the Martell acquisition, Mr. Goeltz said, and reduce it by $100 million to $200 million a year, hased on income from its spirits husiness, Martell and Tropicana, and on dividends from Du Pont.

"For the next couple of years we are going to go through a period of digestion," he said.

Hachette Raises Grolier Bid to $474 Million

NEW YORK - Hachette SA, the French media group, has raised its bid for Grolier Inc., the U.S. encyclopedia publisher, to $474 million from $415

Hachette said Thursday that its acquisition vehicle, CITH Acquisition Co., had increased its tender offer for Grolier to $24 per share from $21. Groher, based in Danbury, Connecticut, last week rejected Hachette's initial hid, which was made March 13. Grolier added then that it had had preliminary contact with several potential suitors. Hachette said its new offer for Grolier would expire at midnight on April 14. Grolier's shares, which rocketed from about $16 to more than $24 a share on the news of the first offer, closed at $24,375 oo Thursday on the New York Stock Exchange.

The acquisition would make Hachette the world's third-largest publisher and the largest encyclopedia seller.

Grolier's mainstays are the Encyclopedia Americana and the New Book of Knowledge Hachette produces the fashion magazine Elle in the United States in a joint venture with Rupert

Hachette is cootrolled by the correpreneur Jean-Luc Lagardere, who is also chairman of Matra SA. France's largest electronics and military equip-

Ir I Managea Con. Ir I Futures APAX FINANCIAL CDRP. APAX FINANCIAL CDRP.

MULTICURRENCY

(m) Americophid NV.____ 5 99.15 AURELIA ASSET MANAGEMENT LTD.

(W) Nicholos-Applesole Aurelio. 5 98.38 BANK JUJUS BAER & CO, Ltd.

SF 883.00° 5F.1556.00° 5F.1527.00° SF 1227.00° SF 1470.00° SF 750.00° SF 1633.00° SF 1014.00° SF 2013.00°

IBM Japan Joins Research Group

TOKYO - IBM Japan Ltd. has become the first foreign-owned company to join a superconductivity research center set up hy the Japaoese government, a center official said Friday. Applications are pending from American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and Westinghouse Electric Corp. to participate in the International Superconductivity Technology Center, according to Kenya Motoyoshi, the center's manager of research and planning. Io the past, very cold temperatures have been necessary for superconductivity, the transmission of electricity with no resistance. But recent discoveries of materials that permit the phenomenoo at higher temperatures have spurred research in laboratories around the world.

The Superconductivity Technology Center was formed in January with 52 Japanese corporate, government and academic members.

After the center took out a U.S. newspaper advertisement in February, more than 20 foreign companies expressed interest in joining.

IBM Japan, a unit of International Business Machines Corp., applied for general membership in the research center, Mr. Motoyoshi said.

General members pay an initial fee of 2 million yen ($16,000) plus 2 million a year. They may attend symposiums but may oot send scientists into laboratories doing research for the center. Special members, who have that right, pay 100 million initially and 12 million 8 year.

ADVERTISEMENT

| LONDON ECJ (0) 1/38/7771
(w) Winchester Capital	$103.76
(w) Firsbury Group Lid	$153.36
(w) Firsbury Group Lid	$153.36
(w) Firsbury Group Lid	$153.36
(w) Winchester Holdings	F1 127.40
(w) Worthwide Securities	$7.26.47
(w) Edders Futures Fund	$7.26.47
(w) Edders Inibia & $7.97.57
(w) Edders Marting Martin

$1,015 $1,007 DM 51015 $7,50170 $7,50170 $7,50180 $1,31 $2,17 $2,17 $1,30 $1,30 $1,30 $1,00 $1

INTERNATIONAL FUNDS (Quotations Supplied by Funds Listed) 1st April 1988

Austrolle Fund
Berry Joseph Fund
Biolechn/Heolth Fund
Biolechn/Heolth Fund
British Fund
Deutschland Fund
Deilor Fund
Eurose Fund
Eurose Fund
Globol Technology Fd
Honshu Pothfinder
Linvestment Fund
Linvestment Fund

Komatsu Profit in '87 Reduced by Yen's Surge

TOKYO - Komatsu Ltd., the Japanese maker of construction equipment, said Friday that its group net profit had declined 35.4 percent to 9.5 billion yen ($76.5 mil-

The drop in profit in calendar 1987 was mainly due to the sharp appreciation of the yen, the company said.

For the same reason, sales declined 6.1 percent to 740.60 billion yen.

Komatsu's overseas sales fell 22 percent to 286.88 billion yen, although domestic sales gained 8 percent to 453.72 billion yen from 368.69 billion.

The company estimated current group net profit in the three-month period that ended Thursday at 2.5 billion yen and sales at 190 billion. Komatsu gave oo year-earlier comparisons. The estimates cover only three months because of a change in the fiscal year-end from Dec. 31.

Komatsu's pretax profit fell 40 percent to 21,31 hillion yen in 1987, from 35.76 hillion ı year earlier.

The company said it expected cootinued difficulties in its exports in the future because of the stronger yen and because of friction with trading partners.

Group earnings per share amounted to 11.02 yen, compared with 17.68 yen.

Other Funds

953,72

GE to Buy Roper; Whirlpool to Get Brand Name

By Kurt Eichenwald New York Times Service

NEW YORK -- General Electric Co. and Whirlpool Corp. have agreeing to be acquired. agreed that GE can proceed unopposed with its tender offer for Roper Corp.

The agreement ends a bitter takeover battle for Roper, a maker of stoves and other appliances.. GE has offered $54 a share, or $507 million, for Roper. Whirlpool will withdraw its bid of $50 a share. or $470 million. Roper's stock closed at $54.125 oo Thursday on the New York Stock Exchange. Uoder the agreement, anpounced Thorsday after the mar-ket's close, GE will acquire Roper's manufacturing capacity for stoves and lawn equipment, while Whiripool will get the Roper name for major appliances. GE will supply Whirlpool electric and gas ranges for the Roper brand for at least two Whirlpool sotered into an agreement with Roper oo Fab. 29. Shortly after the announcement, GE said would hid for Roper, which is based in Augusta, Georgia. Contending that GE had illegally interfered with the its merger agreement, Whirlpool filed suit in Federal District Court in Grand Rapids, Michigan, with Roper. Respooding to Whirlpool's action. GE filed suit io Delaware Chaocery Court against both Whirlpool and Roper, charging

S&P 100

Index Options

S&P 100 Index: High 244,30 Iow 248.52 close 243.29 +1.87

Examiner.

New Republic.

March 31

The Autobiography

of Waverley Root, 1927-1934

Waverley Root, renowned journalist and food writer who wrote

cept during World War II, for more than half a century.

Toward the end of those years, he decided to write his memoirs of Paris in the late 1920s and early 1930s; what it meant to be young at that time in Paris and what it meant to be a newspaperman there.

"Root's angle of vision is far more journalistic than literary," said

The New York Times, "which makes it rather different — refreshingly different — from that of most other memoirs of the period." Other critics agree in their praise of "The Paris Edition":

"Elegantly droll... a minor masterpiece" — The San Francisco

"Highly enjoyable... consistently civilized and amusing" — The New York Times Sunday Book Review. "Full of charm, humor, good sense and even wisdom" — The "Very entertaining" — The New Yorker.

"Clean, cool and wonderfully evocative" — The Los Angeles Times.

"Delightful" — Washington Post Book World.

"Immense wit and charm" — Smithsonian Magazine.

"The Paris Edition: The Autobiography of Waverley Root, 1927-1934" was edited by Samuel Abt, a Deputy Editor of the International Herald Tribune. Published by North Point Press, "The Paris Edition of the Coupon.

tion" can be ordered directly from the IHT by using the coupon.

for the luternational Herald Tribune for many years, first came to France in 1927. He intended to stay a few months and remained, ex-sides agreed to withdraw their

As part of their agreement, both

Robert W. Shipke, GE's senior gic objectives in pursuing this acvice president in charge of the comquisitioo," said David R. pany's appliance business, said the Whitwam, Whirlpool's chairman, was a vindication of its strategy. "Gaining the Roper brand oame was one of Whirlpool's key strate-

Whirlpool said the settlement merger with Roper was "an impor- president and chief executive. By acquiring Roper, GE will tant niche acquisition that will sig-that Roper had made no effort to nificantly strengthen our appliance "test the price" hy seeing whether it was the highest possible before titive global market."

gain new access to Sears. Roebuck & Co., the largest U.S. retailer and a major customer of Roper.

Last year. Roper had sales of $703 million, according to Bruce Bunch, a spokesman for GE.

As part of the agreement, Whirl-pool will relinquish the right it had acquired from Roper to purchase 1.6 million shares at $37.50 each. This agreement had been a ceotral issue in the suit filed by GE.

De Benedetti

The Belgians

BRUSSELS - Carlo de

Benedetti was the butt of several April Fool jokes m the Belgian media on Friday, because of the Italian's contested takeover bid for Societé Générale de Belgique. The French-language radio station RTBF led its morning news bulletins with a deal between Mr. de Benedetti and his rivals, led by France's Sucz group, under which Belgium's caretaker prime minister, Wil-fried Martens, would become chairman of Société Générale.

It carried purported interviews with Mr. de Benedetti and Mr. Martens explaining how the company's current chairman, René Lamy, flew to Italy with a bar of Belgian

RTBF was itself the target

for the daily La Dernière

Heure, which reported that the state-run radio and televisioo oetwork was to be sold to Mr.

Another daily, Le Soir, said the Italian had agreed to settle the problem of the Fourons -

a French-speaking enclave in Flanders whose linguistic rivalries contributed to the fall of the Martens government.

Le Soir said Mr. de Benedetti's

Olivetti SpA would open a plant in the Fourons and make de Benedetti.

chocolate to seal the pact,

Exh

Can't Fool

MATSUI: Only Name Is Japanese

(Continued from first finance page) sorted to using Japanese names to sell their products, adding that it is "even more terrible" that the name of a Japanese war criminal was se-

In the Oxford court case, Currys was ordered to drop the "Japanese Technology Made Perfect" motto ners in the marketplace. So, Mr. and was fined a modest £4,000 ($7,540). Still, it was allowed to keep on using both brand cames. Even Japanese experts in Britain keep the Matsui pame, a privatelabel brand. see few problems with that noncha-

Richard Kalms, director of corporate affairs for Dixons Group PLC, Britain's largest electrical equipment and photographic retailer, which took over Currys in 1984.

says, was unaware that Matsui was Japanese surname and had no idea of any war-criminal connec-ing or upsetting anyone," he noted. Instead, a team of corporate

U.S. Treasuries

March 31 5.71 6.04 6.35 5.70 6.02 6.33 5.87 6.31 6.75

marketing people and outsid≡ advisers arrived at Matsui as a "made lik≡ Dixons Saisho line of Japanese-sounding, not-made-in-Japan electronics goods, have been win-

Kalms said, the company plans to

"Don't overrate the historical sensibility of the English consumer," said Louis Allen, a professor at the University of Durham, who was a senior British military intelligence officer in the Far East during World War II. "Hardly anyone here would know the difference, no

Yet there is a hint of historical

This Matsui name is not exactly justice in a Western company cash-cricket," notes Sir Hugh Cortazzi, a former British ambassador to Japan. "But the Japanese have only themselves to blame. They've been doing the same thing for years."

tion protested.

matter what name they used."

ing in on a Japanese name, lant approach.

up" name, Mr. Kalms said, because it seemed "nice, a bit mystical and foreign-sounding."

Moreover the Matsui products,

"We won on the name," said For his part, Mr. Kalms shrugs off any criticism. The company, he

"We had oo intention of offend-

Source: Salamon Brothers.

Sir Hugh, a London merchant banker, recalls being the commercial counselor in the British Embassy in Tokyo during the late 1960s, when Japanese whisky companies regularly used Scottish surnames as brands before the British delega-

More recently, fashion designers in Japan have been the big consumers of foreign names, such as Mitsuhiro Matsuda's Nicole brand and jobs for its 4,000 inhabitants if they stopped squahhling. Rei Kawakubo's Comme des Gar-World Stock Markets

		7 Parahapanema	19	19	Mitsubishi Corp
MI		Petrobras	357	357	Military and Co	1330	1360 909
co Comm tosi shotels	2349 2234 260 254 3920 3660 6180 6020	Bovespq index: 36 Previous : 37647	17 1647	17	Mitsukoshi Mitsumi NEC NGK Insulptors Nikko Securitics	1560 1290 2000 1040	1550 1210 2100 1040
d Ital dania	1201 1175 2935 2940 9288 9210	Teky			Nippon Koggku Nippon Oil	2090 1170	2110
crail cam sus sus sus sus sus sus sus sus sus su	87600 87500 87500 117110 10690 117110 10690 11710 1170 1170 1170 1170 1170 1170 1	Axel Axel Axel Common Axel Gless Bank of ToAye Bridgestene Canor Caste Click Dol Nippon Print Dolwa Securities Ponto Pulit Bank Puli Photo Pulitsu Hitach Hitach Lang Roman Kansal Power Koranacki Stepi	604 1050 1750 1570 1100 855 250 2790 6340 3440 1470 1550 1670 1550 2540 2540 2540 2540	580 1069 1790 1580 1280 1280 1280 1740 2560 4100 1415 1160 1160 157d 287d 407	Nippon Steet Nippon Yugen Nippon Yugen Nippon Yugen Nippon Yugen Nippon Yugen Nippon Sortical Prioneer Ricoh Sharp Shimes Sharp Shimes Shimes Sony Shimetsu Chem Sony Sumittone Bank Sumittone Chem Tokso	477 6251 9319 9319 1140 1120 1120 1120 1120 1120 1120 1120	487 6155 4380 1150 1200 1200 1200 1200 1200 1200 120
		Komatsu	2330 665 708	2320 679	Toppon Printing	1760	6030 1770 $10*2
See P	endo	Kutola Kyocera Matsu Elec Inds	708 5420 2660 2070	721 5410 2470	Toshiba Tovata Yamaichi Sec	780 2370 2080	7370 2370 2129
co do Brusii	March 31 242 242	Matsu Elec Wks Altsubishi Bank Altsubishi Otem	2090 3160 1140	2130 1710	Mikkel 225 : 26104.		2149

High Low 2 P.M. Chg. Toronto March 31 Canadian stocks via AP 1500 Carro
1806 Certonese
1876 Celtonese
1876 Centri Cop
1876 Centri

Herald Eribune

International Herald Tribune, Book Division, 181 Avenue Charles-de-Gaulle, 92521 Neuilly Cedex, France. Payment is by credit card only. All major cards are accepted. (Please note that French residents may pay by check in French francs, at the current exchange rate. We regret that checks in other currencies cannot be accepted.) Access Diners Please charge to Access Amex my credit card: Eurocard MasterCard

Signature _________(necessary for credit card purchases) Please seed me _____ copies of THE PARIS EDITION: The Autobiography of Waverley Root 1927-1934 at U.S. $16.95 each, plus postage: $4.00 each in Europe: $7.00 each outside Europe.

City and Code.

Be sure that your fund is listed in this space daily. Telex Matthew GREENE at 613595F for further information.

36 36 Alitsubishi Heuvy 667 665 Previous 2747.90

Int. Of Street, 18

WORLD MA NREV

the White

[0][64:101.2

The Bootson I

ARTS/LEISURE

East Europeans of the control of offensive and more them desired a particular and the control of take in soliciting Sol desperately want a icsires membership in interest of the cally by personal dation of Third West in of global weather indicating to pure willing to pure willing to pure willing to purse; was would not been alry between the in ystems would conine nade toward address an just conservaan just consequence in Moscow must be be from Washington. issociate on the Corner formal Peace, Mr. Bits ey contributed this co.

his Time

Jaspie, an eide to US.4 cretary of State Ridge vas serving in the USh Jarnascus at the timedit A hijacking to Bent & ttic that and our ia's help was essential? ned Mr. Shultz to Switz nd then to Beirut. emon U.S.-Syrian paper, epare for Lebanons par ections this fall, which is to be stormy, by cases ditical reform in that when y. The idea was to reals iding between Som s 's Maronite Christian is nks the Lebanese Parisar ys chosen the president yrian talks also deal e take any future Arabba a in southern Lebens s the one Hear King Today, the slightes w salt with swiftly with the · force serving 25 refere em Lebanon as well sit West Bank and Gan se n the Shultz plan The land g whether the South Araci's surregate in the ichd to Syrian security ap if Syria could give grant Land vice versal and for rentralize Iranian her is Kiremist guernilas. President I would have to seek me Syrian, Lebance and B night be able to keep the the tranquille of the la ratel border area. This is only a sideshwalk unfolding on the Wat Gaza But dialogue is ghring. Art grand death Emany Small steps forest writer, an ABC news precializing 12 122 Middle first B a book or the fruit had miributed this contract of the contract of the

EARS AGO names take the out of finds

on State. Kernel Se left a board the Mekon for se mpanied by his son foliat Bis Wonders of 196 V YORK - In 15 Marsh rosing lisence clother the state of the stat day draned in significant in which have rengested and artists to the first property for a z group of engineer man and executives it the opitemen recently the control that it might be strong the control that it might be strong the control that it might be plant discuss which it is WORLD MARKETS IN REVIEW NIHEHTEVERY MONDAY. A WEBILY REVIEW OF WORLD STOCK MARKETS ESSENTIAL RADING FOR INVESTORS AND PROPESSIONALSWORLDWIDE

king' A Grim Shadow Falls on the Art Market Met their all the Control of the Con

TONDON -On the face of it this looked Like a wonderful week for the two leading mection houses, holding their usual early specifical sales of Impressionist and Modern Masters. Christie's could relish its victory over Socheby's. In its "best" sale on Monday ments it sold £19.1 million (about $35.9 milfrom worth of art and could post a very moderate 12 percent failure rate in value. Softiers's evening session on Tuesday to-taled £12.2 million, with 22.2 percent of the gross standing for unsold works.

But house could boast its world record, Christie's scoring with a £4.84 million por-trait by Modighani and Sotheby's trailing with a more modest but in its way more astonishing £781,000 Lyonel Feininger. Yet there was no cause for great joy. The reality behind the figures is grim.

SOUREN MELIKIAN

The market is confronted with an intractahie problem ... supplies are running out and it shows. Auction houses desperate to fill in them catalogues are driven to accepting works that are fresh from the trade, some of them of hopelessly bad quality. They illustrate the lot in color plates assorted with buge estimates" reflecting the minimum prices demanded by vendor, and sing their praise to high heaven. Unfortunately, even the hourst hype fails to find a greenborn for every dud. The result this week was a string of casualties that was largely concealed by the mix of a few important works with many more of a less desirable nature.

more of a ress destration nature.

Christie's Monday night session carried the technique to an extreme. It was dominated by two works backed up by less than 10 paintings or sculptures deserving serious consideration. The first important picture was "Bianchisseuses portant du linge," a sketch in oil of two washerwomen carrying baskets filled with laundry by Degas. Chris-tie's was so pleased to get it for sale that it staged a press conference after the contract was signed. The Degas was then paraded ground the world. This in itself is a telling sign of the present penury, for it comes nowhere near the admirable "Repasseuses" sold by Christie's in November for £7.480,000. It is only a study on paper done in "peinture à l'essence" and later laid on canvas. This might account for a certain imbalance in composition. One gets the impression that the two figures were abruptly cut below the knees and the upper quarter right looks a bit empty, a big yellow splash being smeared over as if to conceal earlier brush strokes. The picture may be striking, but it is imperfect. A nasty color scheme in which nuances of mauvish to grimy olive browns dominate does not enhance its attraction. To blow it up into the proportions of a historic picture, a three-page catalogue entry in small print quotes at length commentaries printed in the Paris papers when it was loaned by its first owner to the Fourth Impressionist Exhibition of 1879, ft was a hard picture to sell and the vendor can only congratulate himself over the price Christie's publicity drive eventually allowed him to

The other important picture in Christie's Monday night sale falls in a very different league. It is one of Modigliani's greatest portraits. The painter became very close to the sitter, the Greek composer, conductor and critic Marios Varvoglis, during the last months of his life and this may be his last work. "Le Portrait de Mario" is said to have been on his easel when Modigliani died in the hospital on Jan. 25, 1920. The unfathomable eyes with a mixture of exhausted sadness and mild resignation reflect the painter's own mood. So does the swaying composition, which gives the impression of having no focal point although, in fact, it adheres to the strictest classical canon, the two diagonals crossing close to the tip of the sitter's white shirt. The unforgettable picture suffers from one weak point, the very clumsy right hand with fingers looking like claws. It is however one of the masterpieces of Western art in the first half of this century. Compared with the £3.96 million Degas, it was hardly overpaid at £4.84 million, even if it set a record for the artist. Among the few other paintings deserving the bonors of a glamorous evening sale there was another Modigliani, of great interest to art historians but hardly attractive to the art lover. The standing woman in the nude called the "Caryatid" presumably because she is seen with raised arms and hands extended as if she were lifting some weighty object over ber head illustrates a crucial moment in the artist's career. Modigliani's dream was to be a sculptor, and he was greatly influenced by Brancusi in the years 1911-1914. This is reflected in the handling of the head, as is the strong impact of African art. His caryatid looks more like some Bambara wood carving than anything else. Buyers were unmoved by art history and the caryatid was bought in at £580,000, way below its supposed "estimate" of £1 to £1.5 million plus premium.

"Le Portrait de Mario," by Modigliani.

Next came a delightful Cubist composition by Gino Severini, the towering figure of Italian Futurism. Severioi is perhaps the most underrated of all 20th century artists and his "Still Life with a Bottle and Newspaper" had the rare distinction of being the one picture in the sale that carried estimates that were far too low, £80,000 to £120,000 plus premium. With its vivid colors and faint whilf of Surrealism, this is a highly original piece of work that can be considered cheap even at £220,000.

There were no other such oversights. A Cubist drawing in black charcoal combined with collage by Braque that was not particu-larly remarkable sold for a huge £418,000. A vase of flowers well painted by Fanin Latour in a mood that hardly differs from that of much earlier artists realized £1,045,000. another astonishingly high price. And that was it for paintings. One excellent Rodin bronze in an early cast - "L'eternel printemps," £198,000 - a rare but not wonderful sculpture in the round by the Cubist Henri Laurens -- "Fernme debout à la draperie." £143,000 - rounded off the list of acceptable art.

The rest was padding, some of it of the worst kind. There were two shoddy leftovers from Renoir's studio. One, a landscape, remained unsold at £170,000. The other, a portrait of a woman with the canvas texture showing through the thinly applied paint, doubled Christie's estimate at £462,000, a miraculous price. The auction even included a picture utiled "L'Equipe au Repos" and entered as the work of Fernand Léger, which drew scornful sniggers from some highly experienced professionals. It found a buyer at £88,000. But 15 out of 58 lots that evening were left stranded, a high proportioo in the week's "best" sale.

The day after, Sotheby's "best" sale held in the evening managed to be several shades worse. It lacked the two locomotives in Christie's session, which makes some prices all the more astounding. Degas's pastel study of a "Danseuse en Mauve," which was found in his studio after his death, seems to have oo eyes and shows signs of rubbing. Judging from the price, £1,049,000, such peccadilioes are now overlooked. Feininger's view of "Vėlocipėdistes" (cyclists) dooe in 1910 in a manner blending the impact of Fauvist painting, German Expressionism and Art Nouveau fashioo design was asinuodingly expensive at £781,000. Thanks to these two big lots the failure rate in value was cut down to a tolerable 22.2 percent. But expressed in oumbers of lots, it is disastrously high - 22 out of 53.

Degas's sketch in oil, "Blanchisseuses portant du linge": A nasty color scheme.

The reasons are obvious enough. Here and there one could spot paintings that had only just been in the trade. Foujita's unusual and attractive vase of flowers from his early days. when he still signed both in Japanese ideo-grams and in the Lano alphabet, was on offer at $240,000 on 56th street in New York where I saw it in mid-November. Sold shortly after, and resold a second time it was surfacing again less than five months later, with a £130,000 to £160,000 estimate (plus premium). Not surprisingly, it failed to sell as the hammer went down at £130,000. Leger's "L'écuyère et le cheval" was being peddled in New York in August 1987 at $300,000. Sotheby's entered it with a £200,000 to £250,000 estimate (to which add 10 percent). The Leger found no buyer at £150,000, roughly last summer's asking

Such speculative practices which make auctions look more and more like another form of trading are unhealthy. In Christie's Tuesday morning sale 43 lots were unsold and 9 withdrawn out of 123. In the afternoon session, the oumber of uosold items jumped to 59 out of 122, plus two withdrawals. Sotheby's failure rate on Wednesday morning was more "reasonable" - a trifling 29 out 120 lots. This is crazy. The auction houses, hard pressed by the need to feed material into their ever-more expensive ma-chinery, are back at their old game which led to the 1981-82 art market depression. This time, they had better watch it, in everybody's interest. The shadow of a much wider problem, the unresolved world financial crisis, is hanging over their shoulder. It would not take more than a fillip to topple the whole art market structure.

Exhilarating 'Art and Revolution' Is a Revelation

Costume design for Lecoq's operetta "Day and Night," 1926,

The White House Getting a Facelift

coats of paint stathered on it since tration of George Washington.

it was first whitewashed in 1797, is getting a facelift for the 200th anniversary of its cornerstone laying.

Workers this week began remove ing the old paint. The elaborate sandstone carvings on the window pediments, balustrade and roofline comice of the building also will be

Collector's Guide

WINE ARTS

excellences" (Arts Review)

Original elchings of great chaleaux by seven leading British artists. Edition 151.

Pres catalogue from: Wine Arts Newmarket House
Nafiswaria GLS 6RD, UK.
Tel.: 96383 3156 Fax: 96383 4994

The Bordeaux Collection
This splendid idea of combin

WASHINGTON — The White al in 1992. The cornerstone was laid Oct. 13, 1792, in the adminis-repaired in time for the bicentenni-

HERMANN

Auction 18

AUCTION SALES

MUNICH .

Antique Arms and Armour . Orders and Decorations .

Militaria

orders and porcelaine.

Richly illustrated auction books with several hundert pictures in

Hermann Historica oHG

Maximilianstrasse 32, 8000 München 22 W. Germany

Tel. (0) 89 - 296391

black and whire or in colour, please send $25 .- (Check).

April, 22nd and 23rd, 1988

The world's biggest auction company for antique arms and armour, militaria antiques

Nearly 6,000 objects are called in auction.

You may choose from a variety of articles ranging from stone-age weapons, medieval arms and armour, Napoleonic militaria, uniforms, spike helmers of the German Empire, orders, decorations and their ciraoons of all periods and countries to historic objects of World War II, e.g. uniforms, documents, invices for it's important spring sale.

By John Russell New York Times Service

VIENNA — It is almost on the V.sty that the best exhibition of Russian avant-garde art ever al-lowed out of the Soviet Union has arrived here at the Museum für angenwandte Kunst (Museum of Applied Arts), where it can be seen through May 15.

Drawn from 35 muscums and bbraries and from 20 or so private collections throughout the Soviet Union, the exhibition covers painting, sculpture, architecture, stage design, textiles, porcelain, popular prints, documentary photography and posters. It was previously shown in Budapest, where Peter Noever, the director of the museum, was able to secure it for the Austrian capital. Though tucked away in a narrow alley around the corner from the main entrance to the museum, "Kunst und Revolution" reveals itself at once as a show of major importance.

Not so long ago, the very survival of much of the material on view was a matter for speculation. It is an exceptional adventure to see it in the West, thoughtfully cata-logued and discussed in the open qualified Soviet scholars. The paintings alone would justify the trip, including as they do such ca-nonical pieces as "Composition 6" vich that ranges from Suprematist evocation of Moscow's most famous parade ground.)

Some of the exhibits are of intense historical fascination. It is well known, for instance, that not long after Chagall was appointed as commissar for the visual arts in his native city of Vitebsk, his life there was made impossible by the appointment to the local art school of a group of artists — among them Malevich, El Lissitzky and Vera

HISTORICA

OHG

Portrait of the composer Arthur Lurie (1915) by P.W. Mituritsch

1917 revolution came around it was live architect A.A. Vesnin. of 1913, by Vasily Kandinsky, they, and not be, who got to deco-Marc Chagairs "Appearance of the rate the city. The Vienna show in-Muse" of 1917, "Flowers of Uni-cludes a "festive decoration for Vi-tation — and all the more so in that Ermolayeva - who despised every- do one thing, you could do everything that Chagall stood for.

Chagall's departure from Vitebsk was hastened by the fact that when the third anniversary of the control of th

What Vesnio did for Racine's "Phodre" in 1922 is, in fact, a revewersal Blossoming," by Pavel Filenov, stage designs by Vladimir Mayakovsky for his play "Mysteria Bouffe," a big still life by the Georgian primitive painter Pirosmanashvili, and work by Kasimir Malewich that ranges from Supremantative points of the fundamental to the job. With this sole would have brought to the job. With this sole would eventually become a stulifysheet of paper, we see what he was ing routine - is that Vesnin's sets, though ideally suited to the claus-

INTERNATIONAL ART EXHIBITIONS

metrical form, by the way, not an experiment of Moscowic Properties Properties feeling briefly but almost universally current among creative people in the Soviet Union, that in the new society literally everything was possible. The show brings a strong representation of the women - Lyubov Popova, Aleksandra Exter, Vera Rozanova, Nadezhda Udalisova, Varvara Stepanova, Natalya Goncharova - who made such an unforgettable contribution. It also brings forward the civil engineer called Tatyana Makarova, who in 1928 patented a hyperbolic paraboloid hanging roof and saw it taken up worldwide. Nor was there seen to be anything fundamentally too ambitious about the idea of a flying city that would float. freely throughout the universe. Some of the ideas in the show are familiar to us from exhibition cata-logues - above all, "Paris-Moscow" at the Pompidou Center in Paris in 1979 and the Costakis Collection at the Guggenheim Museum in 1981 - and some very good insights are to be found in the current show of "The Jewish Renaissance in Russian Avant-Garde Art" at the Jewish Museum in New York City.

But the special quality of "Art and Revolution" in Vienna is that it draws upon so many collections that are still off limits in the visitor from the West. Our chances of secing the museums in Gorky. Kaluga, Krasnodar, Omsk, Oriol, Serpukboy. Ufa and Yaroslav are oot bright. Yet what we would probably most want to see there has been garnered for this exhibition, and much of it comes across with a pristine quality that hreeds exhila-ration. (Some costume designs by V.A. and G.A. Steaberg for an op-eretta called "Day and Night" by

DOONESBURY

PARIS 16th

PRUNIER TRAKTIR

16, Ave. Victor-Hugo, 75116 Paris. Tel. 45 00 89 12. Formous for its quality sectional and its 1925 setting, 350/400 FF. Closed Monday.

LE PRESPOURG
Treasures of the sea. Seafood, fet, croyfish.
Reg. cook. Ywon Arc & Tromphe. Terrace.
Menu of PSC or o to coate. D'ly Ozanon stop Mil
1 a.m. 3 Ave.d.I.Grande-Armbe. 45.00,24.77.

GOLDENBERG WAGRAM

Smalts herings - Pastrami - Cream cheese bagel andial; homemade - Cheese cake & all the trad. Jewish spec. 67 Av., de Wagram. Tel. 4227:34.79. Every day up to midnight.

ASHIANA

Indian gastr. Tondbori spec. Refined surround-ings. Aver. pr. F.140. Air cond. Dly. 205 ov. Ch.-de-Goulle. Tel. 46.24.52.43 or 46.24.87.65.

LA CHEVAUCHEE

Sportsh sper, & traditional coolers, Refered set ling. Business meds. 207 ter, ove. Charlesda Goulle, Tel: 46.24.07.87. Cl. Sat. Lunch & Sun

The finest traditional Chinese cuising

TSE YANG

Kaiserstrasse 67 - Reservation 23 25 4). Paris, New-York, Geneva, Dusseldorf.

LONDON

LE SHAKER

BAR PESTIVAL AND VIETNAMESE CUI-SINE, At bor Mr. More Boccard Schuster, int's prizes witner in the cocidal world. At reston-rors, the ultratic expoir. Vietnamese cusine by Mr. Thoi-Dong, reputed restourciteur. We are leading forward to seeing you: 159 Old Brampton Rood: - LONDON SW7. TEL: 01-3731926.

MUNICH

L'ENTRECÔTE

-Dining Out-

PARIS 2nd

INDRA AND VISHNOU hepsicity, Recognised by Gashronomical ex-perts internationally has been awarded priess in Paris, Rome, New York, Madrid. INDIBA, 10, Roe du Cdt.-Eivière (Se) (St.-Pisippe-du-Raule). 43.59.46.40. VISHNOU, 1116s, Rue Volney (2a) (Optra). 42.97.56.54 & 42.97.56.46.

MOZEMAL MHOL

KITTY O'SHEA'S PUB Sater of the formous Dublin Pub located 50 yords from Place Vendürne. The French home of Irish Coffice and excellent droth beers, Open 7 days. 10, rue dat Capucints. Tel. 40 15 08 08. PARIS 5th RAFFATIN & HONORINE e American press has made us formas scatessen specialises & traditional cooling Regional dishes - Lunch - various. Daily, 16 bd 94-Germain. Tel. 43,54,22,21.

PARIS 6th L'AKVAVIT

15 rue Douphine - Tel.: 43.54.78.50. Dinner only - Closed Monday, Paris's only Swedish Smorgasbord as described in Herald Tri-bure's critice of December 4. PARIS 7th

THOUMISUK, Specialities of the South-West, Confit de conard & cossoulet ou confit de ganard. O. Monday, 79 rue St-Daminique, Tel.; [1] 47 05 49 75. Near Involutes Terminal.

LE BISTROT D'ARMAND Between the Ch-Bystes & Rog. St.-Honore Balto BADROV & he learn will receive you in an intende & continol selling. Gestronomic cooking (Instru. & In contr. & daily spect). Nice driving roum & reception room scaling 30 for business meals. 5 r. dur Cdt.-Rivishre, Paris. 42.25.61.67. (Cl. Sat. midt. & Sun.)

LUDMILA PAVILLON RUSSE

A decor and a Chinese cuisine unique in Europe. LE JARDIN VIOLET 19, rue Boyard - Air conditionant Reservations 47,20,55,17.

PARIS 15th LA TRUFFE BLANCHE - KOSHER Excellent French cooking, Seth Din. Retined setting, Reservation for holidays, 16, R. Lineis (75015), T.: 45,75,59,90. The unique French restaurant which offers only entreable served with the fomous Café de Paris sauce. Tuerkenstrasse 9. (0)69/28 40 41, Sundays closed.

KERVANSARAY Turkish & Inf I specialities, lobster box, bost sectional restourcht, 1st floor. Mohlerstr. 9. Tel.: 51/28/43, Av. conditioned. 80 m. Opera. Noon-3 pm. & 6 pm-1 cum, except Sunday. Open holidays.

"ART EXHIBITIONS" "ANTIQUES" "AUCTION SALES"

WALLY FINDLAY New York - Chicago

2. avenue Matignon B, avenue Gobriel, 75008 Paris Tél.: (1) 42.25.70.74 tuesday thru saturday 10 am to 1 pm - 230 to 7 p.m. EXCLUSIVE

Palm Beach - Paris

HAMBOURG BOURRIE - CHAURAY FABIEN - GANTNER GAVEAU GUILLEMARD MICHEL-HENRY SEBIRE - VIGNOLES VIDAL QUADRAS

Post Imp. - Impressionnistes

GENEVA

GALERIE DE LA CORRATERIE ECOLE DE PARIS Boudin - Renoit - Utrillo Vlaminck - Van Dengen - Marque Coillebotte - Chagall, buying - soling 18, rue de la Corraterie 1204 GENEVE

Tel.: (022) 28 88 80

ASSOCIATION POUR LA PROMOTION DES ARTS LECONS DE PEINTURE DALBIS - FAVIER - LAGET Salle St. Jean - Hôtel de Ville de Paris

VANCOUVER

GALERIE BUSCHLEN-MOWATT 1445 West Georgia St - VANCOUVER - CANADA Tél.: (604) 682.12.34

major exhibition

April 7 - May 25

LONDON/EDINBURGH

COLERIDGE BRITISH CONTEMPORARY ART GLASS GALLERIES LONDON

192 Poccodilly W/IV 9LG 478 George Street, EH2 2HT Tel. 01-437-0105 Tel. 031-220-1305 Manday-Saturday 10 a.m. to 6:15 p.m. Manday-Saturday 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

appear on Saturday

SHERIDAN MORLEY

IN THE IHT EVERY WEDNESDAY WITH PERCEPTIVE CRITICISM OF THE LONDON THEATER

PEANUTS

BLONDIE

Page 10 ACROSS Linkages By June A. Boggs ACROSS ACROSS 1 Airy creature 56 Lowell or 84 Game 89 Hungarian 6 Joint Alcott 10 Sacrifice cavalryman 57 Chemical 14 Nightingale's 90 Kindred suffix 58 "...— qui mal y pense device 91 Takes a hike 92 Fortified 18 Papal 59 Start of a adornment 95 Make beloved Remarque title 97 "Portno;"s alien corn": 60 Asian deer Complaint' Keats 61 Emulate 20 Marketing pro Gwinnett 62 Bodkin's 98 "Tiny Alice" 22 Dies playwright 102 Pasty cousin 23 Window skirt 63 Mantises 104 Pair 24 Mammoth seemingly do 106 String sight, in Ky. 114 Toistoy 25 Dough or 64 Writer character bread 115 Devoid of Morrison 26 Learner 65 Allow to enter 27 Feather 116 Part for 68 Sea birds O'Brian 70 Leave a lover 31 Fawning 117 Mental in the lurch 32 Radar and deficiency 71 Beau -Hawkeye, e.g. 118 Posthaste, to a 72 Impetuous 33 Youngman from Liverpool 119 Dueling 73 Put into 34 Sound of maneuver service disapproval 120 Glassmaker's 74 Nursery-tub mixture 37 Former fillers 75 Walked 121 "Jonah" French painter heavily province 122 Concavity 77 River at Leeds 41 Tomato blight 123 Church 78 Soak hemp 79 Bois de Bou-43 Bear witness offering 45 See 39 Down 124 Hamilton 47 "A Clockwork logne is one 80 Immeasurable adorns these Burges 125 Use muscle book period 52 Letter 81 Grad. degree DOWN DOWN DOWN C New York Times, edited by Eugene Maleska 34 Sunken fence 12 Cured, in a 1 Pink DOWN 2 Cry out way — veto DOWN DOWN DOWN (gubernatorial sharply 3 Embellish 13 "Honor Thy 99 Slowly, to Solti 100 Hackneyed 101 Mother's power) 49 Largest of the Cyclades 67 Tropical food 83 Interlock Father' 36 Spar rope 85 Diplomat Cushing: 4 Mede a plants 69 Plexus suggestion 5 Capital of author 38 Tchrs.' mil:eu 50 Inkling cousin, e.g. 103 Fencins 14 Supple 15 Indo-Iranian, 39 With 45 Across, 1800-79 70 Sleeveless 51 Janis of a popular course jacket 71 Dead duck 86 Launderers Vietna m vaudeville 6 Metrical foot 53 Beginnings 54 Fatha Hines 55 Blacksmith's concerns 7 Moslem pries 8 Oxford oral 87 "___ to Duty": 40 Bermuda 105 Mindful 73 Arrow poisor 16 Memorable 74 First name of "The Blue 167 Have the pip petrels painter of Me. 42 Pitcher who exam 108 Dexterous seascapes 88 An August birthstone 9 Greek made history 44 An anagram Angel" star 109 Like certain 17 Showy bloom resistance org. 61 Source of vigor 63 Economized 76 Speaker's spot books 21 Anti's vote in W.W. t1 for nails 93 Type of opus 79 Czech. 110 Hibernia 10 Part Hitchcock 28 Roof material 65 Trio, as of hounds on a neighbor 81 Nerd: Var. 46 A Pharaoh, for 111 Took a cab 29 Girl Scout

THE ART OF THE NOVEL

often took monoxide

11 Like carbon

By Milan Kundera. Translated from the French by Linda Asher. 165 pages, $16.95. Grove Press, 196 West Houston Street, New York, N.Y. 10014.

emblem

30 Cautious

SIX MEMOS FOR THE NEXT MIL-LENNIUM

By Italo Calvino. Translated from the Italian by Patrick Creagh. 124 pages. $12.95. Harvard University Press, 79 Garden Street, Cambridge, Mass. 02138.

Reviewed by Lanie Goodman

A LITTLE over a century ago, Gustave Flaubert left us with his literary testament, "The Dictionary of Accepted Ideas," an encyclopedia of cliches that embraces everything from apricots and blondes to Voltaire and Wagner. As the author explained in a letter to his mistress, Louise Colet, it was to be an entire book-devoted to "the historical glorification of everything ooe approves of," an "apology for

BOOKS

66 Yale or Root

82 Egyptian

short

48 Annulled, as a human vulgarity in all its forms, ironic and howling from one end to the other." Innocent as it might seem, Flaubert's derisive celebration of Stupidity is, according to the eloquent Milan Kundera, a discovery more important for the future of the world than the most startling ideas of Marx and Freud." In "The Art of the Novel," a oewly translated collection of essays and interviews written from 1983 to 1986, Kundera explores the complex realm of human existence that only the govel can show us "an imaginary paradise of individuals" without a Supreme Judge, where "no one possesses the truth" but "where everyone has the right to be under-stood." Claiming Cervantes as his spiritual guide and founder of the modern covel, Kundera not only reassures us of the salubrious state of the art, but maintains that Don Quixote's "wisdom of uncertainty" must be used as a shield. These contradictory truths, says the Czech writer; are Europe's sole protection against the alarming totalitarian denial of all original thought and the aggressive stereotypes of mass media.

Solution to Last Week's Puzzle

NBA Standings

112 Recliner

113 Insect's

Miro

98 Disconcert

96 Accommodates

Like Flaubert, Kundera is obsessed with the treacherous ambiguity of language, the perils of "words misunderstood." Here, he offers his readers a personal dictionary of "62 words," definitions of recurrent key terms from his novels ("Being," "Forgetting," "Laughter," "Lightness"), as well as a long entry on the author's celebrated fight against "Kitsch" ("the oced to gaze ioto the mirror of the beautifying lie and to be moved to tears of gratification at one's own reflectioo"). This conversion of "junk-art" into a form of shoddy, sentimental be-havior (Franz's "Great March" in "The Uobearable Lightness of Being") is, in fact, borrowed from the relatively undiscovered Hermann Broch, author of The Sleepwalkers."

Curiously, but not coincidentally, "Lightness" is the subject of the first essay in Italo Calvino's "Six Memos for the Next Millennium." Calvino died in September 1985, just on the eve of his departure for the United States, where he had been invited to deliver the Charles Eliot Nortoo Lectures at Harvard. These posthumously compiled lectures, actu-ally five in number (the sixth, "Consistency" was left in unfinished note form) are respectively enti-tled "Lightness," "Quickness," "Exactitude," "Visi-bility" and "Multiplicity,"

In a dense but brilliantly eclectic analysis laced with quotes from a vast assortment of literary heroes, Calvino emerges with a profoundly optimistic perspective on the future of literature. Echoing Kundera (who is duly acknowledged), Calvino considers "lightness as a value rather than a defect," and compares the act of writing to Lucretius's theory of atoms in continual motion. What indeed is the art of letters, Calvino asks us, if not the infinite and invisible science of combination, meant to capture "the powder-fine substance of the world"? The Italian writer blithely sweeps through literary history, proposing numerous examples (in Ovid, Boccac-cio, Rabelais, Shakespeare, Cyrano de Bergerac, Leopardi) in which lightness is the antidote for the "unbearable weight of living."

Lanie Goodman is an assistant professor of French at Baruch College, City University of New York. She wrote this review for The Washington Post.

AND NOW I'VE GOT THE GREATE PRODUCT IN THE FOR YOU REMEMBER THE PRODUCT I SHOWED YOU LAST WEEK? WOU -BEETLE BAILEY I'M GOING TO IT WON'T TELL SARGE NOBODY DO YOU ANY CAN SLEEP ON GOOD ROCKS! More) @g) ~ ~ ~ ANDY CAPP HEH! HEH! HEH-

THERE'S ALUAYS SOMEBODY READ TO REMIND YOU OF THE DUMB

THINGS YOU DID WHEN YOU WERE

 \Box

YOU USED TO DANCE UP AND

DOWN AND ALL

ARDUND WHEN

WIZARD of ID WORLD HEY, THAT'S WORLD will ENDON THATS A VERY END ON BETTER depressing SIGN

REX MORGAN AS YOU SAW, MISS BALLARD HAS TWO FRACTURED KIBS IN THE AREA YOU SUSPECTED, REX! THEY'RE PARTIALLY HEALED! BLIT THE INTERESTING THING IS THAT SHE HAS A HEALED FRACTURE ON THE OPPOSITE SIDE! THAT ONE DID YOU TELL HER ABOUT THIS, WAS SOMETHING YOU'D WANT TO DISCUSS WITH HER! SHE'S OUT IN THE WAITING ROOM! OCCURRED THREE OR FOUR MONTHS AGO!

GARFIELD WHAT'S YOUR FAVORITE KIND OF MUSIC? ROCK? JAZZ?CLASSICAL?

Hockey

x-Montreal 44 22 11 100 28
y-Boston 40 27 4 92 29
y-Buffolo 37 31 10 84 27
y-Haritord 34 37 7 75 34
Quebec 32 41 5 67 28
CAMPBELL CONFERENCE

CAMPBELL CONFERENCE

New 15 Obvision

X-Detroil

Y-SI, Louis

34 36 8 76 277 284

Y-Chicuso

30 40 9 69 251 324

Y-Chicuso

30 40 9 69 251 324

Y-Chicuso

30 40 9 69 251 324

Y-Chicuso

30 40 10 50 265 335

Toronto

28 48 10 50 265 335

Smythe Division

X-Calsary

47 22 9 103 390 265

Y-Edmonton

47 22 9 103 390 265

Y-Edmonton

47 22 7 65 307 351

Y-Uns Angeles

79 42 7 65 307 351

Y-Consouver

24 46 9 57 266 319

Ix-clinched Sivision Nife)

Iy-clinched sivision Nife)

It 0-2

Sufficio

1 1 0-2

Sufficio

1 1 1 0-2

Sufficio

1 1 1 0-2

Sufficio

1 1 1 0-1

Sufficio

Suffic

Mary and and

Win Te

ching ( ense. a iot of L

₩. - .

7.3;

- :: - :

lawkins.

12.5

£0.4 . . .

formi

S. 15.

TENUEZ 42

DENNIS THE MENACE

WEATHER

AFRICA

"I'VE GOT A WARM SPOT IN MY HEART FOR YOU.

EUROPE

MIDDLE EAST

OCEANIA

COOL IT 1

SPORTS SCOREBOARD

Basketball

LATIN AMERICA NORTH AMERICA Denver 25 (Lever 10) Denver 47 (Lever 10) Assists: Socramento 27 27 36 23—121 Denver 27 27 27 36 23—121 English 13-251-227, Lever 8-15-5-27; Thorse 8-14-6-7 22, Pinckney 8-7-4-5 28. Rebounds: Socramento 49 (Pressiev 12), Denver 47 (Lever 10), Assists: Socramento 47 (K.Smith 7), Denver 35 (Lever 10) Ver 101. Assists: Sucramento 27 (K.smith 7).
Deniver 35 (Lever IS).
Golden State 39 24 28 15—72
Utab 24 34 30 27—115
Mailone 10-23 5-5 25, Harasen 7-14 4-11 23;
Muillin 13-20 3-4 31, O.Smith 6-12 5-10 15, Rebeands: Golden State 46 1Felti 01, Utah 52 (Molone 9), Assists: Golden State 22 (Gardand 8). Utah 21 15tertion 18) cl-cloudy; to-loggy; tr-fair; h-hall; o-overcast; pc-partly cloudy; r-rain; sh-showers; sw-show; si-shormy. 6), Utch 27 (Stackton 19).

SATURDAY'S FORECAST — CNANNEL: Slight, FRANKFURT: Overcost, Temp. 7—5 | 45—41]. LONDON: Ruin, Temp. 11—6 (32—32). MADRID: Showers, Temp. 14—6 (37—43). NEW YORK: Rain, Temp. 12—8 (33—44). FARIS: Rain, Temp. 11—6 (35—43). NEW YORK: Rain, Temp. 12—8 (39—44). TEL. AVIV: No! Avoiloble, ZURICH: Cloudy, Temp. 7—4 (45—37). BABICKOK: Foir, Temp. 23—2 (95—78). HONG KOMG: Foogy, Temp. 21—17 (76—43). MANILA: Foir, Temp. 35—24 (95—75). SEQUIL; Foir, Temp. 15—7 (97—45). SINGAPORE: Foir, Temp. 31—25 (36—77). TOKYO: Rain, Temp. 11—5 (32—41). Scattle 33 27 18 37—113 Robertson 8-16 5-8 21, Anderson 7-12 6-7 20, Brickowski 5-7 19-11 25; Chambers 12-26-9-27, Ellis 9-16 7-9 37, McDoniel 7-20 3-4 17, Re-bounds: Son Antonio 50 (Anderdon 1) 1, Scattle 57 | Chambers, McKey 10), Assists: Son Anto-elo 24 | Robertson 0), Scattle 20 | McMillan 6].

19 66 11 52 0 23 73 20 65 0

Final-Four Statistics

EASTERN CONFERENCE Afformic Orvision W 1 Fcl. GB Team statistics for the semificalists in the NCAA formament (field goals field goals of-tenusied, free fistows, free throws aftermited, rebound overage, assists and point overages): 50 31 .704 — 32 38 .457 17% 31 40 .437 19 30 39 .435 19 10 52 .257 31% DUKE FG FT Reb Ash Pts 240-497 131-199 7.5 3.5 19.1 200-391 64-103 4.5 1.3 16.3 124-225 112-162 5.7 0.7 10.6 New York Washington 102-195 73-107 3.2 0.2 8.4 46 23 .647 — 46 23 .647 —
41 28 .623 3
41 29 .534 553
36 .31 .551 8
33 36 .478 13
33 30 .465 14 107-195 73-107 32 0.2 8.4 Part 1-108 60 -74 24 5.7 57 Suechler 172-166 44-60 1.7 0.9 6.0 Lefton 72-164 33-68 3.8 3.5 5.7 Moson 60-131 42-59 2.0 0.1 4.9 Turner 45-114 19-30 2.2 0.4 2.7 Mushleboch 6-11 1-4 0.7 0.1 1.2 Opponents 1-7-1114 18-18-7 3-9 1.7 0.1 1.2 Opponents 17-1114 18-18-7 3-9 1.0 0.1 1.2 WESTERN CONFERENCE 46 23 .667 — 45 28 .634 3 41 29 .594 5 39 31 .557 7% 26 43 .377 29 20 50 .286 26%

THURSOAY'S RESULTS Housten 13 KESULTS
18 27 22 22—102
Indiana
Corroll 13-25 5-5 27, Maxwell 7-10 7-11 23;
Long 9-13-5-5 23, Tisdole 8-133-4 19, Rebounds:
Houston 51 | Maxwell 151, Indiana 52 (Williams 11), Assists: Houston 28 | Maxwell 101, Indiana 24 | Fireming 101.
New York 25 34 27 27—113 31 30 14 24—183 New York

Wilkins 9-14 2-2 20. Jockson 9-14 0-0 19; Wilkins 7-14 2-2 20. Jockson 7-14 0-9 IV; Pierca 11-17 2-3 34, T.Cummings 7-21 3-4 17. Rebounds: New York 56 (Ewing 11), Milwoy-ken 52 (T.Cummings 9), Assists: New York 27 I Jackson 111. Milwoykee 33 (Pressey 14). Preseason Baseball THURSDAY'S RESULTS

Houston I3. Philadelphia 3 Detroil 9. Cincinnati 7 Chicago White Sox 5. St. Louis 1 Montreal 4. New York Mets 2 Texas 2. Boston 0
Pittsburgh 8, Toronio 2
New York Yorkses 1, Alignio 2
Kansas City 7, Minnesolo a, 10 Innings

Tennis WCT FINALS (le Dollos) Men Singles Semifica Boris Becker, Wasi Germany, def. 2rnd Gilbert. U.S., 6-4, 6-2, 6-1,

3-pt. goots: 71-224 317 | Newton 25-59. Prilich-ord 16-52. Manning 9-25. Goektner 7-26. Mar-styll 6-11. Narmore 4-15. Moddax 3-4. Borry 2-4. Horzts 0-1, Piper 0-1. Livineston 0-2. Minor 0-171. NHL Standings

ARIZONA PG FT Reb Asts Pts 250-436 173-319 5.6 3,7 192 195-313122-170 7.0 0.4 13.0 167-340 150-184 5.6 0,7 14.2 187-340 159-184 5.6 0.7 14.2 149-257 61-74 20 3.7 12.7 77-178 42-60 1.7 3.6 6.5 62-122 38-38 2.4 1.2 4.7 64-127 14-26 12-22 4.7 46-99 39-52 1.9 1.2 4.7 61-110 37-67 3.1 0.5 4.0 12-37 10-73 0.8 0.5 1.5 5-14 2-3 0.6 0.2 9.8 Buckley 9-15 14-22 0.8 0.4 1.5

Burgle 4-11 1-4 0.7 0.1 1.7

Doks 1947-2112 619-437 34.9 17.4 94.5

Opponents 577-1934 645-724 32.7 14.9 64.5

Opponents 577-1934 645-724 32.7 14.9 64.5

Jet, goals: 165-07 15trickland 55-1, Henderson 19-32, Buckling 39-102, Lofton 23-35, Moson 19-34, Musherbooth 2-32, Buckling 39-102, Lofton 23-35, Moson 19-34, Musherbooth 2-32, Buckling 4-9, Bergman 3-3, Tolbert 1-2, Cook 9-1).

OKLANDMA FG FT Reb Asfs Pts 321-391189-280 8.6 1.2 22.5 337-612104-142 9.5 1.4 21.1 232-503 77-111 4.1 6.0 16.7

European Soccer

ENGLISH LEAGUE FOUR-NATIONS TOURNAMENT (in West Berlin) Sweden I, West Germany 1. (Sweden won 4-2 on pencilles) viet Union 4, Argentina 2

FRIENOLY INTERNATIONAL (le Yugoslavia) Yugoslavia i, Italy 1.

and the state of t

Ouebac 1 3 8 9-4
Philadelphia: Poulin 2 (19), Croven (29), Huber (9): A.Stoshny 1271, Goulet 2 (46), Lambert (12), Shots on goot: Guebac (on Hextoll) 19-7-3-4—24. Philiodetphio (on Gosselini 8-17-16-2—43. Besten 9 9 1-1 Lemieux (30), Dohlin (13), Corbonneau (177; Joyce (7), Shots en soul: Mantreal (on Leme-lin) 7-11-12-30, Baston (on Roy) 11-6-11-28.

in) 7-11-12—30. BOSRON (GIT POLY) 1-12 4—7
Pitrisburgh 0 7 0—2
Driver (15), Broten (25), MacLean 2 (21), Sulfimon 2 (14), D.B.rown (14): Frowley (6), Quinn
1381, Shats on post: New Jersey Ion Guenettel
10-11-11—32. Pitrisburgh (on Burke) 4-16-10—30.
MacAbberton 6 2 1—3 Weshington N.Y. Islanders

N.Y. Islanders

Mokele 1361, Glibert 117), Trottler 1301, LoPontaine 1471, Jonsson 161, Kerr 1221, King 1121; Stevens 112), Gould 1131, Christian 1371, Skots on good: Washington Ion Nrudey) 14-16

—38. New York Ion Motorchuk! 5-9-4—18.

·-·

Herald Eribune

Reaching More Than a Third of a Million Readers in 164 Countries Around the World

Transition

BASEBALL BASEBALL
American League
OETROIT—Optioned Scott Lusader and Billy Bean, sufficiers; Steve Scorcy, pitcher, Rey Polocios, cortier, to Toledo, Internationoil League, Baught contract of Luts Salazor, outfielder, from Taledo.
KANSAS CITY—Assigned Jerry Don Glecton, pitcher, outright to Omaha, American Association. Optioned Gary Thurman, outfielder, to Omaha. Association. Optioned Gary Tree Inc.

fielder, to Ornoba.

N.Y. YANKEES—Optioned Pot Clements.

N.Y. Tankees—Optioned Pot Clements.

N.Y. YANKEES—Optioned Pot Clements, pitcher, and Rondy Vetorde, infleider, to Columbus, International League. Put Jock Clork, infleider, and Nell Allen, pitcher, or 72-day disabled list, retroactive to March 31. National League CHICAGO—Signed Angel Salazar, short-stop, Optioned Poul Nace and Greg Tobor, infleiders, to lowe, American Association. MONTREAL—Assigned Joe Hesketti and Rich Souveur, pitchers, and Netson Santovenia.

MONTREAL—Assigned Joe Hesteth and Rich Souveur, pitchers, and Netson Santovarial continer, to Indianopalis, American Association, N.Y. METS—Optioned Keith Miller, infleiders-outfielder, and Mark Carreon, outfleider, to Tidewater, International League. Assigned Andre David, outfleider, to Tidewater. PittsBurght—Traded Mike Bieleckl, pitcher, in Chicago Cubs for Mike Curris, pitchers. Sant Bob Potterson, pitcher, and Ruber, Rodriguez, cacher, to minor league comp., ST. LOUIS—Assigned Randy O'Neol and Tim Conroy, pitchers, outright to Louisville, American. Association. Optioned David Green, outfleider, and Ray Stephens, cartcher, to Louisville. Retwrned Dave Grapenthin, pitcher, to Louisville. Poottball.

National Football League
KANSAS CITY—Acquired Steve DeBerg, quarterback, from Tampo Boy to Mark Rophyson, Safety, and fourth-and elabilit-round draft choices. Signed DeBers to three-year contract. NEW ENGLAND—Reached tentritive persentent to sell team to Poul Piremon, choirmen of Reebok International.

PHOENIX—Stand Roloh Von Dyke, defensive back, and bart Minnis, running book, Terence Mock, Rinebacker, Kermetry Webster, Caracter Councities Football League

Terence Mack, Inchacker, Kennedy Webster, detensive back, and Mork Rayats, punter, Comadisa Poetball League HAMILTON—Signed Jeff MacDonald, safety, to hvo-year contract, OTTAWA—Signed Art Schillchter, quarter-back, to one-year contract plus aution year. HOCKEY National Hockey League NHL—Suspended Gord Donnelly, Quebec

NHL—Suspended Gord Donnelly, Quebec detensemen, for 18 games, including first six of next season, for stick-awinging in game opainst Pittsburgh.

NEW JERSEY—Assigned Tray Crowder, right wine, and Morc Laniel, defensemen, to Utica, American Hockey Leogue.

OLYMPICS

USA AMATEUR 30XINO FECERATION—Nomed Sugar Ray Leonard advisor to the U.S. team of 1988 Summer Games.

COLLEGE

CINCINNATI—Nomed Mike Wiles fight and coach; Bruce lyofy ruming back coach.

and coach; Bruce Ivory running back coach, and Scatt Criner wide receivers coach. DARTMOUTH—Named John Lyons assis-

SIDELINES

UEFA Delays Decision

LONDON (AP) — Europe's governing body for soccer has postponed a decision on readmitting English clubs to continental cup tournaments, it was reported Friday. London newspapers gooted Jacques Georges, president of UEFA, as saying the decision would be put off from May 3, when it's executive board meets in St. Andrew's, Scotland, until June 25, the day of the title match in the European Soccer Championships in Munich, West Germany. The delay could mean that no English club would appear in a cup tournament until at least the 1989-90 season.

English clobs have been barred from the Champions Cup, Cupwinner's Cup and UEFA Cup since a riot by Liverpool fans at Heysel Stadium in Brussels in May 1985 left 39 people dead.

Sluman Leads in Golf

GREENSBORO, North Carolina (AP) Jeff Shunan birdied nine holes en route to an eight-under-par 64 and a two-shot lead after Thursday's first round of the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

T.C. Chen of Taiwan played a bogey-free round of 66 and was fied for second with Robert Thompson and Mark Calcavecchia.

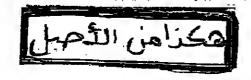

Patriots Deal Reached

FOXBORO, Massachussetts (AP) -Paul Fireman, who built a nearly half-billion dollar fortune on Reebok athletic shoes, reached a tentative agreement Thursday to buy the debt-plagued New England Patriots of the National Football League. Fireman said he hoped the deal could be finalized in four weeks. Among sever:

stumbling blocks are the bankruptcy of Stadium Management Corp., which owns Sullivan Stadium.

For the Record

Pavel Wohl, coach of the Sparta Praha team, and Stanislav Nevesely have been made coaches of the Czech national ice hockey squad; Jano Starsi and assistant Exercises Posnisil were fired this many Frantisck Pospisil were fired this week. according to reports in Prague,

An NCAA Sure Thing: Uncertainty

If Manning plays superbly, in spite of double- and triple-teaming, Kansas will win. If Duke controls him, it will win.

By John Feinstein

Washington Post Service
KANSAS CITY, Missouri — The smart thinking, as the U.S. college basketball world arrived here for the semifinals of the NCAA tournament, was that this a simple Final Four to figure out: Duke has too much defense for Kansas, Arizona has too much steadiness for Oklahoma and the Wildcats have ton much Sean Elliott for the Blue Devils.

for the Blue Devils.

Maybe so. More likely, not so. If one thing has separated the Final Four tournament from those other two megahype events of American sport, the World Series and the Super Bowl, it has been unpredictability. Five of the last 30 seconds. Come Monday evening, it may be six of seven. (See Scareboard, on Page 10, for the team-by-team matchups for Saturdays' games.)

No matter who wins Saturday's matchups, the Monday final will be a virtual tossup, although the Arizona-Oklahoma winner will undoubtedly be favored.

Duke-Kansas is the game everyone thinks is easy to call. The smart money says that Kansas is here only because of a remarkable string of lnck. It should have played North Carolina State in the second round, but Murray State upset the Wolfpack; it should bave played Pittsburgh in the round of 16, but Vanderbilt beat the Panthers; it should bave played top-seeded Purdue in the regional final, but Kansas State stunned the Boilermakers. If you go along with that thinking, the Jayhawks are a lock since Duke beat top-seeded Temple last Saturday to win the East Regional.

Sure, Kansas got a bit lucky with the draw, but so did Duke — remember Rhode Island beating Syracuse? — and the fact is that since his team bottomed out at 12-8 in Fehruary, Larry Brown has done a superb coaching job, maybe the best of an impressive career.

Although a lot of credit has been given to the role players who have come through for the Jayhawks during the 13-3 run that has brought them to Kansas City, the most important thing Brown has done is to finally convince Danny Manning that, to be a superstar, be has to be the best player every night. He can't worry about making sure his teammates look good, he can't be concerned if he scores 38 points and no one else gets more than 11, he can't concern himself with everybody else's

For three years plus, Manning was the reluctant star.

No one is more aware of these factors than Duke's

Sometimes he would step forward and dominate games the way be was capable of doing. But never consistently, to win and this will be true again Saturday. The Blue low post, turo and shoot. It will double-down on the ball

No one is more aware of these factors than Duke's Guard play may be decisive bere. Arizona is not going With. The Will double down on the ball in the low post, turo and shoot. It will double-down on the ball never the way Brown wanted him to. Finally though, Manning understood what Brown had been screaming at and hope that none of the other Jayhawks light up the three-point shooter, Dave Sieger, Ricky Grace and him for four years. He didn't want his career to end in the National Invitation Tournament or in a first-round to so out as a winner sea almost unbeatable.

Devils will have to help Danny Ferry guard Manning when it goes there and Grant and King will pitch it out to the three-point shooter, Dave Sieger, Ricky Grace and hope that none of the other Jayhawks light up the three-point shooter, Dave Sieger, Ricky Grace and Mookie Blaylock. If they are on, Oklahoma is almost unbeatable. NCAA loss. He wanted to go out as a winner, as a player emembered for what be and his team accomplished his That's done now. By making the Final Four, Brown and Manning will end this season as heroes in these parts. But both want more, especially considering the opponent Saturday. Duke has been a thoro in the side of opponent saturday. Duke has been a thoro in the side of the Jayhawks for three years. Early in the 1985-86 be vital. If Ferry or Manning gets in foul trouble, that season, the Blue Devils beat Kansas to win the NIT. Then, at the end of that season, they beat the Jayhawks in this very game, the national semifinals. Then this year in this very game, the national semifinals. Then this year double- and triple-teaming, the Jayhawks will triumph. If the Blue Devils can control Manning, they will win the oklahoma's press twice. It would have a better shot at Manning and it irks them. Besides serting Manning are Manning and it irks them. Besides getting Manning to lift his game, Brown has gotten his team to play tena-cious defense the last month. It will be that way again Saturday, that much is certain.

half against Temple, Duke took command.

For Duke the key is avoiding the offensive droughts that have often plagued the Blue Devils this season. They are not a good shooting team, especially if guards Quin offense team, as it proved against Iowa. But Oklahoma Snyder and Kevin Strickland are cold. Those two may be the key for Duke. When they played well in the second but servings Temple Duke took commend.

Game 2 is entirely different. No one player dominates it, though there are many excellent ones: Harvey Grant and Stacey King for Oklahoma, Sean Elliott, Tom Tolbert and Steve Kerr for Arizona.

As for the final, put it this way: Kansas has seen Oklahoma's press twice. It would have a better shot at the Sooners than the Wildcats. Duke has played at Arizona and believes it can beat Arizona on a neutral court. Oklahoma, on the other hand, is a lot like North Carolina State, a team that the Blue Devils had trouble with. They would have a better shot at beating the Wildcats.

Sound simple? Okay, let's play.

To Win Takes Coaching and Defense, and A Lot of Luck

By Thomas George New York Times Service

NEW YORK - Joe B. Hall knows how to win the national championship. And Joe B. Hall knows how to lose it.

"To lose it," Hall, the former Kentucky coach, said, chuckling, "just have a coaching legend retire on you before the final ball game, and, when he does, you might as well retire, too. To win it, make sure the media is calling you the team that's having no fun, the tor-ture-chamber team, And then when it's over, your fun, your celebration never is.

Hall speaks from experience. His 1975 Kentucky Wildcats met CCLA in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament final. Hall's freshman-oriented team visited the San Diego Zoo, frolicked at Easter egg hunts, took in all the sights. They seemed loose, ready for UCLA, until John Wooden announced before the tip-off that this would be his last game as the Bruins' coach. Kentucky's hearts sank, and an emotion-filled Bruins team won another one for Wooden - the last of his 10 NCAA titles.

freshmen now seniors - Kentucky was a serious, dedicated team that won the championship over Duke.

riety of coaches and players who not receive a bid.

. The champion will have played a schedule tough enough to keep it sharp, yet weak enough to insure itself entry into the tournament's They can always reflect during the 64-team field. Most winners have championship march, and they can had that blend, but there are some direct the flow of others." coaches - notably Denny Crum of Louisville - who insist that the bench coaching overrated or untougher the schedule, the better derrated?

KNICKED - Patrick Ewing let out a yell as the New Yorker went flying between opponents Jack Sikma, left, and Paul Mokeski while putting up a shot during Thursday night's National Baskethall Association game in Milwankee. The Knicks won, 113-103.

Three years later — with Hall's reshmen now seniors — Kentucky win it all, you must have played was a serious, dedicated team that won the championship over Duke.

But how do you emerge from 1980 and 1986. Still, that philoso-days's Every street the senior of the control of t today's Final Four as the national phy cost Crum a year ago, when champion? In interviews with a va-> team won the 1985 championship with three senior starters, "because seniors know what you want, how you want it and where you wan! it.

Is the importance of Final Four your chances.

"It's underrated, said it.
"It's underrated, said it.
McGuire, the former Marquette nament games in a row against top-flight competition just to get to the title. "Coaching here is more im-half. Here, a coach must measure simulation."

that sub who's ready to come in "All c clear consensus emerged about "1t's especially crucial," said and play above his ability, above McGuire, "in any sport are won what the eight most important fac-Rollie Massimino, whose Villanova the way that he has all season. Here with the defense." is where the coach can't go to the dance so fine-tuned that he wants to bump all night long. He may have humped all season long, but that's no reason not to change if this dance calls for the twist."

McGuire believes Final Four coaching experience helps. Mike Krzyzewski of Duke, Lute Olson of Arizona and Larry Brown of Kansas have it. Only Billy Tuhbs of Oklahoma doesn't.

The coach has to be physically rested, get away from the ticket pressures of friends and the mefia," McGuire said. "He can't per-Hawkins, Chaney Voted Best form in the lobbies and in the shoot-arounds. Maybe Tubbs al-ready knows these things, but for certain, the other three guys won't KANSAS CITY, Misssouri (AP) — Bradley All-America Hersey Hawkins, who led the Division I in scoring with the highest average in II ears, was named Friday as the U.S. college basketball player of the year. The senior guard finished his 31-game season with a 36.3 average.

get caught in the merry-go-round." From Indiana's Marvin Huffman in 1940 to Keith Smart last year, the national champion bas a closer, a guy who demands the ball Hawkins got 223 of 445 votes from the AP panel of sports writers and broadcasters, which voted before the NCAA Tournament began. Twodown the wire, a player McGuire calls a "Big Brother."

Isiah Thomas fulfilled that role as most valuable player on the 1981 indiana champions.

"I remember the second half of our championship game against North Carolina," said Thomas. "I has no intennen of accepting a move to New York. acquisition, from the St. Louis Cardinals, on the 21-day knew I had to come out and he Winfield, likewise, has a no-trade clause and while disabled list retroactive to March 26. (WP, UPI) for a coach to lose ball games in the die situation and in the end doesn't first three minutes of the second play like it's a do-or-die, desperate To win in the Final Four a team needs a noteworthy defense. "You need a defense that has become a trademark all season," Hall said. "You need something whether it's man-to-man denial or a matchup zone or full-court pressure - that you're accustomed to playing well and that presents a special problem for the opponent to attack."

This is where basketball efficiency begins. An inside offensive game and a strong defensive presence in swap for outfielder Fred Lynn.

Thursday, "We're talking about it. We're trying to see his new book.

a no-trade clause in his contract, which bas two years be upset.

game, but the lack of a man in the 32 of his last 33 spring batters.
middle can't be masked over in any Left-hander Tom Browning middle can't be masked over in any form of hasketball."

luck. Unexplainable shooting slumps. Injuries. This kind of bad luck ruins your chances more Rijo is stuck in long relief. quickly and decisively than anything."

Yankees Seeking to Swap Winfield for Lynn

FORT LAUDERDALE. Florida — The New York going to, he has told friends he intends to remain in Yankees have confirmed that they are trying to trade New York. Also, players such as Winfield, with more outfielder Dave Winfield, and said one of the teams than 10 years in the majors and more than five with the under discussion is the Baltimore Orioles, in a straight same club, can veto any deal.

if we can get something done."

Winfield said, "I'm amused and appalled at the way Neither can be traded without his consent. Lynn has I'm being treated. A lot of other ownership wouldn't remaining. He apparently has been approached about In a another bit of bad news for the Yankees, they giving his okay to such a trade, but has told friends be had to put first baseman Jack Clark, their top offseason

The Orioles' owner, Edward Bennett Williams, said about comments critical of him Winfield that made in

3 Years a Runner-Up, Cincinnati Has Winner's Pitching

It Will Be a Red-Letter Season

By Tom Friend

Washington Prist Service
WASHINGTON — The Atlanta
Braves won in 1982, the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1983 and 1985, the San Diego Padres in 1984, the Houston Astros in 1986 and the San Francisco Giants in 1987. Which means it's time for the Cincinnati Reds in 1988. League's West is a pick-'em division. But it's usually safe to pick the Reds second, because that's where they've been the last three seasons. Since last seen, Pete Rose has retired and Dave Parker was traded, but they're still going to be better.

"The thing that makes this club the best I've had is the pitching." says Rose, the manager. "I've never had this pitching. I sit in my office wondering how I finished second three straight years, especially last year when some of our starting pitchers never came to bat," Suddenly, the Reds' starting pitching is superior to that of delending champion San Francisco, and the equal of the Los Angeles Dodgers. The bullpen of John Franco and Rob Murphy has long been reliable, as long as Rose could give them the ball with a lead. Now, it looks like he can.

CINCINNATI Last year: 84-78, fifth in the NL. "When you've go! this plus the up, pitcher Mario Soto now has guards, you're way ahead of the mastered a comeback, returning as the Reds' opening day that the mastered a comeback returning as the Reds' opening day that the mastered a comeback returning as the Reds' opening day that the reds of the reds opening day that the reds opening day Last three years: 259-226, third.
Once the master of the changegame," Crum said.
"Our games." Thomas said, tator cull surgery having kept him used to begin and end with getting out for 1½ years, he had marginal the ball inside. It's changed now in success last season but has imcollege with more of a perimeter proved over the winter. He retired hopes also to return to his 20-game Maybe the biggest ingredient of form, as does Danny Jackson, who all: To win in the Final Four, the starred for the world champion ball on occasion has to bounce your Kansas City Royals in 1985 hut became trade beit when he lost 18 last "I'll take luck over everything," year. Quality left-hander Dennis Hall said. "And that doesn't always Rasmussen came from the Yankess, Ron Robinson seems recovered from elbow problems and it's such a strong rotation that fireballer Jose

> Offense, as always, is abundant, beginning with center fielder Eric

NL WEST PREVIEW

Davis, who hit 37 home runs last year. Replacing Parker are Paul O'Neill and Tracy Jones, with enormous potential. In left is Kal Daniels, who easily could hit 40 homers if he stays healthy. Around the infield, it's third baseman Bud-Traditionally, the National dy Bell, shortstop Barry Larkin, wondrous rookie second baseman Jeff Treadway (who hit 333 last September) and first baseman Nick Esasky. At catcher is Bo Diaz and at manager is Rose, unready to set-tle again for second.

 Telling statistic: The Reds set record last season by making 392. pitching changes. SAN FRANCISCO

Last year: 90-72, fourth in the NL Last three years: 235-251, eighth. Manager Roger Craig had every-thing but speed last year, and now he has Brett Butler, who has aver-aged more than 40 steals and 90 runs the past four seasons. The center fielder also shores up the outfield defense, because left fielder Jeffrey Leonard and right fielder Candy Maldonado are strictly big bats and don'l cover much ground. But they lost Chili Davis to free agency and now have a lot less punch. Will Clark returns at first base, with Robby Thompson at second, Jose Unibe at short and Kevin cause the pitching was dynamite. The starters will be 39-year-old Rick Reuschel, Dave Dravecky, Mike Krukow, Kelly Downs and Mike LaCoss, with Atlee Hammaker starting the season in long relief.

• The reserves had II pinch homers and 46 pinch RBI last year. LOS ANGELES

Last year: 73-89, 10th in NL. Last three years: 241-245, seventh. The Dodgers, desperate for at least a third-place finish, made so many offseason deals that nobody's happy. Right fielder Mike Davis and shortstop Alfredo Griffin came from Oakland and Kirk Gibson came from Detroit, forcing Mike Marshall and Pedro Guerrero from outfield to infield. Marshall plays first and Guerrero plays third, where a lot of grounders will beat him up. Steve Sax plays second, but Mario Duncan, last year's shortstop is in the minors.

Bob Welch, a fixture in the starting rotation, is now in Oakland, so it'll be up to Fernando Valenzuela and Orel Hershiser to pitch a lot of innings. The other starters are ageless wonder Don Sutton, Tim Leary and Tim Beicher. The bullpen is all new, with Jesse Orosco and Jay Howell, except neither has had a good spring.

The Dodgers lost 12 games last year in which they led after six innings, the second consecutive year they've led the NL in that category. Or pitching departments in 1987.

Last year: 65-97, 11th in the NL. Last three years: 222-264, 10th. Their opening day pitcher is Ed Whitson, which just about says it all. The rotation is bad enough but, adds the manager, Larry Bowa, "Our bullper replaces." Lance Grosses. McCullers replaces Goose Gossage as the stopper, but there's little else. Besides Whitson, the starters are Enc Show, Andy Hawkins, Jimmy Jones and Mark Grant: nothing to them contending.

The offense, though, has punch and speed. Batting champion and Gold Glover Tony Gwynn was supposed to miss four to six weeks with thumb surgery, but returned after 14 days and got a hit in his first spring game. Catcher Benito Santiago was last year's rookie of the year, and Stan Jefferson is fast of foot in center. Left fielder Keith Moreland, the former Cub, must provide 20 homers at least.

• Gwynn did not go more than eight at-bats without a hit last year. HOUSTON

Last year: 76-86, ninth in the NL. Last three years: 255-231, fourth. Mike Scott and Co. had better throw a hunch of shutouts, because where the runs will come from nobody knows. Jose Cruz, who always gave the Astros a good 80 runs and 80 RBI, is gone, and the lone power hitter, first baseman Glenn Davis, has struggled for more than a year. So the learn that scored the lewest rups in the league last year should repeat that feat. The outlield is swift with Billy Hatcher, Gerald Young might be the game's most underrated player at second base.

Alan Ashby is steady. The only hope is pitching, where Scott, Bob Knepper, Nolan Ryan, Jim Deshaies and Joaquin Andujar form a fine rotation. Danny Darwin (ninth best ERA in the NL last year) can't even crash the rotation. The Astros had the best ERA and fewest homer allowed in the majors at home; they had the worst ERA in the NL on the road. ATLANTA Last year: 69-92, 11th in the NL. Last three years: 207-277, 11th.

The bullpen prays for the return of Bruce Sutter, but it may not happen until midsummer. Rick Mahler (8-13 last year) is the open-ing day pitcher, but there's little else behind him.

Right fielder Dale Murphy will make the all-star team, center fielder Dion James is a great defender and Andres Thomas has potential at shortstop, while the battle at second base is between Damaso Garcia (recovered from knee troubles) and minor league star Ron Grant, Garcia apparently leading. But Gerald Perry at first and Ken Oberkfell at third hardly are menacing, and catcher Ozzie Virgil has punch, but no defensive prowess. • The team was last in eight ma-

Formula One Racing Opens a Grand Season Sunday in Rio

By Stewart McBride International Herald Tribune RIO DE JANEIRO — When 26 of the world's highest since Freeman Williams of Portland State averaged 38.8 in 1977.

time All-America Danny Manning of Kansas was second with 89 votes, followed by Duke's Danny Ferry and Temple freshman Mark Macon, each with 28; Michigan's Gary Grant, 25, and Arizona's Sean Elliott, 22.

John Chaney of Temple, whose team was ranked No. 1 before the tournament, was voted coach of the year. He got 261 of 445 votes, with Arizona's Lnte Olson second with 58, followed by Purdue's Gene Keady, 56; Paul Westhead of Loyola, 21, and Billy Tuhbs of Oklahoma, 13.

nerviest drivers scream past the grandstands at the start of the Brazilian Grand Prix here Sunday, it will mark not only the winding down of an awesome era in motor racing but will begin what promises to be the most hotly contested Formula One season in years. An estimated 900 million television viewers in more than 50 countries will watch the race, which opens the grueling 8-month 16-race circuit that will be the final, furious year for the thunderous turbo-charged engines that traditionally have powered the tiny Formula One race cars. Last year, FISA (la Fédération International du Sport Automobile), Formula One's governing body, began a two-year crackdown on the often lethal turbos in an effort to curb danger and expense, which will end with their being outlawed in 1989.

This year, turbo-powered cars are being saddled with fuel restrictions and fitted with special "pop-off valves" that will strangle their excessive boost. According to Yvon Leon, FISA's secretary general, these rules will nearly halve turbo borsepower, slowing the cars, improving track safety and making for more competitive racing.

Turbos will be limited to 150 liters of fuel in each race. Cars with non-turbo, or normally aspirated, engines will have no fuel restrictions, will be easier to handle and thus are expected to have the edge in such tight-turning street circuits as Monaco, Detroit and Adelaide. The turbo cars were much too fast and caught fire said Italy's Riccardo Patrese, driver of an non-turbo Williams-Judd. "This year we'll be later on the breaks and faster into the corners than the turbos, which will make the racing more interesting."

In anticipation of 1989, most of Formula One's smaller teams have switched to the simpler and less expensive non-turbos, while the mighty McLaren, Lotus, and Ferrari teams have stuck with turbos in hopes

Another classic battle is expected among the "Big Five": among them defending champion Nelson Piquet, left, and twotime runner-up Nigel Mansell, right.

For the drivers, the 1988 season is expected to drove for Lotus last year, winning at Detroit and volve into another classic battle of attrition among Monaco and finishing third in the 1987 championship evolve into another classic battle of attrition among the "Big Five": Alain Prost and Ayrton Senna in their McLaren-Honda racers, Nelson Piquei in a Lotus-Honda, Gerhard Berger in a Ferrari and Nigel Man-sell in bis William-Judd.

Prost, 33, the furniture maker's son who became a twotime world champion, is regarded as the best all-round driver. Last year the little Frenchman edged out Berger in Portugal to get his 28th Grand Prix victory and hreak Jackie Stewart's record for Formula One triumphs. For his tactical genius and deceptively smooth driving style, the reclusive Prost has been dubbed "the Professor."

He ran a distant fourth in last year's standings because of a temperamental TAG-Porsche engine that since has been replaced by a more reliable Honda V-6 turbo. Prost has won four of the last six Grand Prix in Rio and demolished the competition at recent preseason trials in Imola, Italy. He is the odds-on favorite Sunday.

of squeezing out a 50- to 100-horsepower advantage, scene in years. The son of a São Paulo industrialist standings. He is a risk-taker whose uncanny car control is coupled with ruthless aggressiveness. Critics say he lacks maturity, and wonder if last year's talk of Senna 'magic" was premature. Can he hridle his pride long enough to take a lesson from "Professor" Prost.
The other Brazilian star in the Formula One firmament is, of course, reigning world champion Nelson Piquet, 35. He had a successful but lackluster 1987 and left Williams to take Senna's place at Lotus. Piquet, normally relaxed to the point of napping in the pit lane, survived a bruising crash at Imola last year, only to spend the rest of season locking horns, on and off the track, with teammate Mansell Delighted with his undisputed No. I position at Lotus. Piquet will be going Sunday for his third Grand Prix victory at Jacarepagua, the track recently renamed Autodromo Nelson Piquet, after Rio's native son.

The surprise of 1987 was the 28-year-old Austrian.

Representations of the property o

Berger, whose Ferrari swept the year's last two Grand Senna, 28, Prost's new teammate at McLaren, is one of the brightest talents to appear on the Formula One Ferrari has won a remarkable 93 Grand Prix, more than the turbos can dominate their swan song season.

any other Formula One manufacturer in history. Yet the famous scartet cars had languished in a slump ever since the 1970s, when Niki Landa of Austria won two world championships at the wheel of a Ferrari. This year the Italians are counting on coming back strong with the belp of Berger and the talented English designer John Barnard. Enzo Ferrari, the former Alfa-Romeo driver who founded his Modena-based sports car company after World War II, celebrates his 90th birthday this year and would like nothing better as a present than a Berger-Ferrari championship.
England's Mansell is the only one of the "Big Five"

The Yankees' owner, George Steinbrenner, is angry

Winfield said, "I'm amused and appalled at the way

who will not be racing in a turbo-powered car. Two near fatal accidents in the final races of the last two seasons denied championships to Mansell, 33, who now risks going down in history with Stirling Moss as one of the greatest drivers never to win a championship. In 1987 Mansell qualified for the front row on the starting grid in all 14 of the Grand Prix he entered.

Although he won six races, twice as many as Piquet, the more consistent Brazilian nevertheless nosed out Mansell in total championship points under the system in which the first six drivers to finish a race earn 9, 4, 3, 2 and 1 points, respectively.

 Mansell and his new Williams driving partner, Patrese, will be powered by a new, normally aspirated Judd V8, 3.5 liter engine. It replaces the Honda turbo that carried Williams to 18 Grand Prix victories the last two years. Rio will be Mansel's first race since he was injured in last November's spectacular accident at the Japanese Grand Prix, and he knows he faces an uphill struggle. "We'll be giving up at least 50 horsepower to the quicker turbos and that makes them tough to beat on tracks with long straights." Mansell said.

But exactly how his Williams-Judd, and the normally aspirated Benetton-Ford of Belgium's Thierry Boutsen. fare in Rio on Sunday should tell a lot about whether

BLANCPAIN

SINCE 1735 THERE HAS NEVER BEEN A QUARTZ BLANCPAIN WATCH. AND THERE NEVER WILL BE.

Tomlin's Search for Intelligent Comedy

Evacuating the Forest

By Marlise Simons

New York Times Service B^{ALBINA} , Brazil — With the warming sun lifting the morning mists off the jungle, a group of men strapped on inflated jackets

Bot here in the heart of the Amazon Basin, arguments have been and headed for another day of saving lives.

Leaving the vast dam behind, their fleet of canoes soon nudged into a doomed part of the Amazon forest, churning through water that sherds, stone axes and carved figwas already lapping halfway up the ures at 122 Indian sites. They trees. Cages, nets and gloves were talked of finding a muiriquita, a at the ready to capture wild and threatened animals.

Since the Balbina Dam in the heart of the Amazon Basin was closed last October, a rescue operation has been under way in which thousands of animals are being coaxed, chased and caught and released on safer ground.

Every day, about 250 men go out to pluck forest creatores from drowning branches. They have trapped large constrictor soakes and grabbed monkeys, ferocious pumas, clinging sloths. "The rules are simple," said Bento Melo, a zoologist who at the prow of his launch in the jungle seemed to have the confidence of a man in his backyard. "The animals that swim well are left alone. Some we keep for study or for the zoos. All threatened species are re-leased."

As the boats swerved amoog mals here have all fled or died,"

As the boats swerved among paims, rosewood and wild fruit trees, the rescue team kept ducking animals like primates, sloths, antgling like dangerous nooses over-head. to avoid vines and aerial roots, dan-

The drama of rising tides washing over huge tracts of oature, swallowing up flora and fauna and sometimes villages, is now acted out almost constantly in Brazil. Stung by the oil crisis of the 1970s ations disturb nature's balance and and striving for energy self-suffi-ciency, Brazil is largely ignoring the era of atomic energy and is opening over territory, females or food. a large hydroelectric dam virtually

This nation with the greatest grid of rivers on Earth has already huilt enough dams to provide for 95 perhy a fast-growing population and the will to settle its immeose spaces. Brazil has place for the settle its immeose spaces. spaces, Brazil has plans for at least 25 more dams.

Such zeal has led critics at home and abroad to lament the great come, Melo said, as he waved with losses of land. Of the immense Bal-hina reservoir, which will produce only 250 megawatts, government this will all be gone."

experts have said that the size and the cost of the project are so enormous that the dam should never have been built overtaken as the Uanuma River is backing up and irrevocably flood-flooded, that showed rock draw-

Walter Rocha, an archaeologist, said there had been no time to date the material. "The time range is very wide," he said. "We know that people have inhabited the Amazon

Only two small tribes of forest

Indians, 105 Waimiri, lived oear

the reservoir area, and last year

In the meantime, their old hunting grounds have rapidly disappeared. As four canoes prodded among the drifting logs and leaves, the half-flooded jungle seemed like a haunted forest, with the tops of Melo said. "We are looking for tree

W HETHER rescuing and moving animals to other parts of a re-gion is a desirable undertaking has been a matter of debate. Some scientists have argued that such oper-

"We may know more in a few years," said Melo, noting that many specimens had been given markers. "But laboratory models covered the oewborn lake. The most dramatic changes are still to and theories don't work here," eaters and felines."

Basin for at least 6,000 years."

they were given new lands.

ings in red, hlack and white.

"Twe often thought of stopping and starting a new career — like a ing 600 square miles of jungle land. Racing ahead of the tides, arjazz singer. I'm thrilled by people who change their lives. I think this tant, it caught Tomlin's eye. chaeologists have collected potis so profound. More and more people have the consciousness to do this. They just stop one life and start another in a sense, you small, rare stone carving that is linked to the legend of the Amazon Here she is, arguably at the female warriors. But they expressed regret about two caves, now down.

pinnacle, and she's talking as if she were still sturnbling on the slippery slopes. Her hit show, "The Search for Signs of Iotelligent Life in the Universe," has been a success around the United

By David Richards

Washington Post Serrice

longtime collaborator and friend 100,000 hardback copies — an. unprecedented figure for a script. In June, Tomlin hits the movie Business," opposite Bette Midler, who also plays twins. And the early talk, at least, suggests that From the days when she scored big as the meddlesome and auto-Ernestine on TV's "Laugh-In," she has been a national treasure the woman of 1,000 faces, pok-ing her oose and her wit into the clever remarks in public, more of-Quirky. But still she allows herself first. to muse, "So many people do great characters oow. I don't daughter of a heavy-drinking but know where I'd be, if I were just charming toolmaker and his starting out. I might be rancid bacon rinds or something." Rancid bacon rinds?

"You know," says Tomlin. "Just hanging there motionless." For Tomlin, one of the satisfac-tions of "The Search" is that it has finally won Wagner long overdue recognition. Their collaboration goes back to the early 1970s, when Tomlin was about to hatch her second comedy alhum, "And That's the Truth," featuring the mischievous Edith Ann, probably do Imogene Coca routines. And her most famous character after 1'd do Jean Carroll stories. She mischievous Edith Ann, probably Emestine, writer yet and was supporting herself in New York as a designer. San Francisco — "I don't about a black boy in Harlem about." says Lily Tomlin cate-gorically. "I think I could wind rejected by record producers as being too long. Warner was When one of her songs, "J.T.," rejected by record producers as being too long, Wagner was piqued enough to rewrite it as a television play. "J.T." won her a Peabody Award but more impor-

"I was working on my Edith Ann record," Tomlin says, "and I wasn't happy with it. I'd invented the character on 'Laugh-In' and she was very popular. But I wanted her to be something much richer and deeper. And then I happened to catch 'J.T.' on television. It was so tender and humorous and insightful - just what I prayed for in a monologue. Every line was like poetry and advanced the character and the plot. It was The book version of "The just this essenced, essenced, es-Search," written by Tomlin's senced stuff. So I wrote Jane and asked her if she would work on Jane Wagner, has sold more than my Edith Ann record. She never answered me, but a few weeks later, she sent me some material."

Edith Ann. Tomlin believes. screens, playing twins in "Big subsequently took a quantum leap forward, and a partnership was struck. Wagner has since provided much of Tomlin's material the two ladies (or four, as the case for her television specials, her first may be) are very funny together. Broadway show ("Appearing Nitely") and such motion pictures as "The Incredible Shrinking Womcratic telephooe operator named an" and "Moment to Moment," not to mention magazine articles bearing their joint byline. When odd corners of America the ten than not Wagner pens them Tombin grew up in Detroit, the charming toolmaker and his working-class wife. Early on, her father would take her with him to the corner bar and encourage her to entertain his friends. When she was 10, the family acquired its first television set, and suddenly Tomlin had a small screenful of "I used to do little shows all the time," she remembers. "They would be comprised of any number of elements. Like I would do jokes I'd heard on Ed Sullivan, I'd was the first woman stand-up I Wagner had vague ambitions ever saw and she told kid and to become a lyricist, but she didn't really consider herself a Lillie — she was zany and eccentric and more sophisticated - I'd "a reverse audience," one that some pearls around my neck.

Lily Tomlin: Exploring the odd corners of America the Quirky.

Then in the middle of my shows, I would put on my mother's slip and do a ballet dance, sons across the street. I was telling this to a friend the other day and be said. You know, Lily, you were the first performance artist without even knowing it. I liked that idea a loL"

Initially, instinct alone seems to have guided her. Then she dis-covered the recorded monologues of Ruth Draper and something went click in her head. "I was dazzled. I never saw her in person, but you didn't have to see her. I was so transported by her ability to create something out of nothing - to make me think and feel just with changes of her voice."
"Laugh-In" was an established hit and well into its second season when Tomlin joined the team in December 1969. She was a sensation and Ernestine became an instant cultural touchstone. More important, Tomlin thinks in retlowed her to build what she calls lin to act, but even the familiar nary collaboration.

get rryself up like her and throw would come to lonk on her as more than just a wacky cut-up. "I mean, I thought I was doing this very esoteric piece of satire on the telephone company. And Ernestine turns out to be hugely, vastly popular." Then came 1977 Broadway show "Appearing Nitely," which went a long way toward legitimiz-ing Tomlin as a theatrical talent, but could still be viewed as a collection of routines. Tomlin concedes it was put together at the last minute out of old pieces and new monologues that Wagner was writing right down to the wire. We just thought, We'll just go to New York, do a limited run of three or four weeks and get out without humiliating ourselves," she says. "Appearing Nitely" was a triomph. Looking back, Tomlin says, "We were so innocent, We didn't know what we were doing."

"The Search" is probably the closest Tomlin and Wagner have yet come to having it all on their own terms. It contains a stunning rospect, the mass exposure al- array of new characters for Tom-ones have evolved with time and changing mores. The search in question is undertaken by Trudy, a mad bag lady who wears her wig inside out and her panty hose rolled down to her ankles. She has, it appears, befriended aliens from outer space, and has taken it upon herself to introduce them to a "planet in puberty."

The play is a virtual Gulliver's travelogue of the latter half of the 20th century - a period in buman development distinguished by macrame planters, geodesic domes, aerobics classes and "tofu melt." More significantly, "The Search" really is a play, in which the characters' destinies crisscross and intertwine in a heart-lifting demonstration of the interconnectedness of the human species. Tomlin is all alone on the stage, but never has the stage appeared so full.

Tomlin says the big break-through came after Wagner hit upon the character of Trudy. There was a line that's no longer in the play, she says, where Trudy was talking about her space chums in relation to the human species. And she said, 'Frankly, I think they find us quite capilyating. Immediately, I knew that was the heart of it. That was what turned it for me."

Now Tomlin is after Wagner to write an animated Edith Ann television special for next season. "Nobody writes for Edith Annike she does," she says. "And I've been begging her to write a sequel to The Search' for me."

Says Wagner, "Lily begs me a lot. But I'm oot a compulsive writer by nature. I like to spend a lot of time gestating. I guess I always knew I wanted to be a writer. But I never really knew what there was for me to say. I came from a very eccentric South-ern family and I loved Carson McCullers and Temessee Williams and I always thought they'd said it all. I should probably be in a more structured, disciplined atmosphere. I know I can get by -

Counters Tomlin, "I'm always telling her, If I could write like you, I'd be doing it all the time." And you can tell from the tone of her voice that she's champing for the next round in their extraordi-

Harry Truman never made am secret of the fact that he had love for his successor, Dwight Eisenhower, but in notes for a book he never finished he describes the presidents "we could have done without." "More Plain Speaking to be published by Warner Paris next year and excepted in Parade magazine, is based on thousands of pages Truman dictated from the time he left the presidency until he died in December 1972. The book was edited by his daughter Marearet Truman and Scott Meredith. "It's interesting that a single thing, that great smile of Eisenhower's. gave him the reputation of being sunny and amiable man," Truman wrote, "when those of us who knew him well were all too aware that he was essentially a surly, angry and disagreeable man, and I just don't mean to me, either." And he contends that Eisenhower "didn't do a thing as president . . and he didn't have any program."

PEOPLE

Truman Didn't Like Ike

But Willie Likes Belfast *

Willie Nelson, saying he was "not afraid to play anywhere," has rescheduled a concert in Northern Ireland that promoters had canceled. Nelson, in Austin, Texas, preparing for his apcoming European tour, was miffed at reports in the Irish press that he canceled Belfast concert out of fear for his safety. The country singer's manager and a concert promoter in En-gland called off the Belfast show but Nelson ordered the concert rescheduled. It will be given April 16.

Isabelle Adjani won a $300,000 judgment in her lawsuit against Time Inc. for its use of her photograph in an advertising campaign for Time magazine. Time Inc. and the advertising agency Young & Rubicam, which ran a series of ads with Adjant's picture in 1986, argued they did not need the French actress' permission to use the photograph because it previously had been published alongside a news story announcing she would appear with Dustin Hoffman and Warren Beatty in the film "Ishtar." Judge Ronald Lew rejected that argument, saying use of the photo without her permission still violated Lie New York Civil Rights Act. He. awarded the damages for violation. of her right to control her own publicity and said the ads suggested she was endorsing Time maga-

ANNOUNCEMENTS EXCEPTIONAL OFFER FOR 2 PLACES remaining from Sot, 9 April 3 pm to Sot, 16 April, P2500 all inclusive for 7 day FKENOT intensive residential course intermediate level by total natural immersion with French native speciang parkoponts, Macentum 6 stu-dents on each ade, Contact J. Lefevre, France, C.I.E.L., Choleou de la Vo-louze, Dardagne, Tel; 53 91 44 28.

JUNGIAN ANALYSIS IN PARIS. Graduate C.C. Jung Institute Zurich, Intil Institute Analytical Psychology, Rus Youquelin, Paris Seme, France, For appointments, left 48,55,70,85. NON-PROFIT Cultural Organization seeks sporsors for Press Project, We other cholet near Cistood, Switzerland for 1 week, Tel, LEC, Paris #260 0762, 40 rue de Richeleu, 75001 Paris.

ON APRIL 2nd 1988 Saboti Sarol, doughter of Deniz and Baron Sarol and Gokhan Bora, son of Gurseli Ergolanen and Gurbuz Bora are on-ABOUT YOUR LONDON TRIP. Best sents available for Phanton, Les Mis, Cats etc. + Wimbledon terms tickets. Tel: London 240 3327.

BRICINI. THE FINEST hand-made suit Lorgest selection in Switzerland a WEINBERG the leading men's store Bahnhafstr. 13-Zuitch, 01/211 29 50. ALL SELL OUT SHOWS, Phantom of the Opera, Les Mis, Cats, Follies, Chess available now! Tel; Landon 379 4636 or 240 0818. All credit cards. FEELING low? - having problems! $OS HELP cross-line in English, 3 p.m., 11 p.m. Tel: Paris 47 23 80 80,

ALCOHOUCS ANONYMOUS Englis speaking meetings daily. Tel: h 46 34 59 65 or Brussels 537 8224 MOYING

ALLIED VAN LINES INTERNATIONAL

[1] 43.43.23 64 FRANKFURT (01) 953 3636 MILAN BOLLIGER TRANSPORT (02) 846 5741 GENEVA VERMI VA VERON GRALIER S.A. (022) 32 64 40 ALLIED VAN LINES (0101) 312-681-8100

CONTINEX. Small & medium moves, baggage, cars worldwide. Call Char-lie: Paris 42 81 18 81 (near Opera). REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE FRENCH PROVINCES NICE CIMIEZ, Town house, 350 sq.m. fiving space, on 1100 sq.m. park + swimming pool, perfect condition. Tel-(1) 42 25 16 80 or (1) 47 83 73 73

DAKS CORNER

LONDON PARIS MUNICH GENEVA HONG KONG TOKYO HAMBURG ATHENS FOR MENIAND

REAL ESTATE

FRENCH PROVINCES DURING YOUR STAY ON the French filwerd, purchase either o contage, villa or opportment with: JOHN_TAYLOR AT CAP FERRAT For any enquales visit JOHN TAYLOR OFFICE J. Avenue Albert 1st 06230 SAINT JEAN CAP FERRAT Tel: 93.76.02.38 Fore: 93.76.13.09 baths, large garden, 039 125 40770.

Principality of Monaco
For the SALE, PURCHASE, RENTAL MANAGEMENT of INSURANCE of REAL ESTATE PROPERTY A.G.E.D.I.

26 bs, Bd Printesse Charlotte MC 98000 MCNACO Fel: (33)93.50.66.00 · teles. 479 417 M SWITZERLAND

LAKE OF LUGANO
RESIDENZA PALMETTA
Inrecity of the Lake. 9 luxury apartrents, 3 fown houses. Best location, priret lakeside plat, private barth, Beautiid view, ramantic surroundings, heated hulvaw, romanis surroundings, heated swimming pool, underground goroges. SFR. S17.000 to 1,065,000. High Swiss mortgages, free for sale to foreigness. EMERALID HOME LTD.

VIA POCOBELLI 25
CH-6815 MELDE/LUGANO
Tel: CH-91-68 65 23
Feez CH-91-68 73 44 LISA GENERAL

AMERIKANS

BE TRANSPORT

GRAHER 5.A.

AMERIKANS

BEAUTIFUL TOWN HOUSES, Jacksonville, Ria. USS230,000. In howe, house, Houston, USS30,000 to self-like lor. K. Boure, P.O.B. 101560, D. 6700 Heidelberg, West Germany. REAL ESTATE TO RENT/SHARE

> FRENCH PROVINCES PROVENCE 1797 fornhouse hand-somely restored on 7 cares truit and alive trees. Magnificent views from Alpes to Meditermanen, Pool 3 story laving room. 2 boths. Mediem Itahen. Sun room. Madd. Coretaker 1 hour Nice carport. May or October, F11,700. Juren or Septem-ber, F14,000. Humbagton. Cloners, 33800 Collos. Tol: 94/6,64,60. CLOSE TO GENEVA furnished flos, with cleaning service on private golf. Weekly rates. Tel 50953088 France Turb Annecy 385417 Fox. 33-50437626

> SERVICED APARTMENTS CHESEA.
> Well sted. Restaurants, late right shapping. Furnished studio & 1 bed flast from £190 wk. Munimum 1 mo. Letting Office. Nell Gwynt Plause, Stoche Avenue, Landon SWS. 161 UK 01 584 8317. Tis. 91e398 NGHLD HUNTINGDON HOUSE, luxurious serviced opportments in Central London Tel: 01 373 4525. The 25293.

ITALY When in Rome: PALAZZO AL VELABRO

Luxury apartment hause with furnishe flats, available for 1 week and mor Phone: 6794325, 6793450. Write: Vio dal Velabro 16, 00186 Rome.

PARIS AREA FURNISHED A NEW WAY OF STAYING IN PARE

The Claridge Residence FOR 1 WIEK OR MORE high class studio, 2 or 3-room appriments. FULLY EQUIPPED, LIMINEDIATE RESERVATIONS. TEL: 43 59 67 97

CENT A FLAT WITH KITCHEN for 2.3. 4 persons on a dealy bace from F700-F850. Hotel a # #. Pans 16 · Etale. Tel. 45.53.14.95. SHORT OR LONG TERM, LEFT BANK APARTMENTS. No ogeno, fees. Tel. 43 29 38 83.

REAL ESTATE

TO RENT/SHARE PARIS AREA FURNISHED NEAR CHAMPS ELYSES, Iving + bedroom, latchen, both, very well equipped, F8000. Tel. 47 23 68 22 NO AGENT. Owner's diarrang high dass furnished 3-bedroom apartment. Tel: 42 57 04 14

Of LE CANNET. Penthouse, 130 sq.m. + 30 & 170 sq.m. herroos: + studo + garcaps. Les Hauts Breguetes Bonners B, 3cd Roor, Visa Sat, Sun, Mon, 100m-1pm, Tet (1) 42.25.10.80 or (1) 47.83.73.73. Tel: 47 27 97 04 or 42 66 10 05 RENT/SELL senfront villa Son Felica Grosso Italy, 550 sq.m., 6 bedrooms, 3

> & unfurnished, service & countriesy is our morto. Don't miss out! Call now-47 47 05 25 MARAIS, 1 bedroom dupler opart mest, wood beans, fireplace. Cham is it's origin, F10,800 net, 4747 0525.

DADS OF APARTMENTS, furnishe

TURKEY

KING REALTY/TURKEY - For oil your rental problems in Istonbut call [1] 146 6319. Hilomor Yolu 12/5, Tesvilaye-islanbul Telex 24137 ETMA TR, onen-SWITZERLAND GENEVA CITY COUNTRYSIDE, is lovely old mill, 2 beautiful furnishes apartments, SF 2800, Tel. 84 31 00.

REAL ESTATE WANTED/EXCHANGE 2 FRENCH FAMBLES SEEK 2 large mobile homes in the Son Francisco.
LA. orea from 5 to 20 July. In EKCHANGE, they ofter a 3-bedroom Paris apartment and a 9-bedroom country house (50 min Paris) with pool and 8 overs land. Also available. Mercedes stotion wagon 8 smaller car. Paris (1) 39 50 4021 (crawwing machine) or Mr. Fékéte. 11 rue du Temple, 78350 Jouy en Jasos, France

EMPLOYMENT

HEALTH AND FAMILY PLANNING SPECIALISTS

The Population Council, on international rom-profit research or ganzzation, as seeing social scenists to be based in seeing social scenists to be based in both Francophore and Anglophone Africa to work in family planning program research, operations research and lectinate assistance. Doctoral degree in the social or health social or social or social or health s

MOSHAVI-KIBBUTZ VOLUNTEERS CONTACT DIRECTLY: MAIN OFFICE 5, TIOMKIN ST. TEL-AVIV ISRAEL

OVERSEAS POSITIONS. Hundreds top paying positions available. Tos free incomes. Attractive benefits. Op-portunities for all ecoupotions. For tree information about our publica-tions, write: Overseas Employment Services, Dept. HT, P.O. Box 460, Town of Mount Royal, Quebec, Conada HGP 307.

GENERAL POSITIONS WANTED FRENCH 80Y, 17, SER'S JOB in a ranch in United States from 25th June to 15th August 1988, Tel: 35 88,69.58 or write to, Madame Deuss, 4 Rompe Kauchose, 76000 Rauen, France TWO ENGLISH SPEAKING GIRLS oped 18 and 19, seek summer jobs. Please reply to: A. Hintikka, Rethell-partie 7 025, 70200 Kuopio, Finland. YOUNG TAMIL MAN, good English, some French, voice papers, seeks of-nce job in Pans. Tel. Pans 40 10.17 81.

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED EMPLOYMENT EMPLOYMENT

2 All PAIRS for 2 neighboring families, near Bostori. Each family has 2 chi-dren, 1 & 3 yrs and 3 & 5 yrs, cossol frestyle, have, 1 yr commitment, Start immediately. Write: L. Scheditmon, 125 Princation Ave., Providence, Rhode Island 02907 USA or call, 401-273-1333.

AU PAIR WANTED TO LIVE IN " ore for 6 ms. boy. Light housekeeping, non-smoker, speak English well, (drivers licerice at +). Send translated references, resume & photo, 7. Saframan, 5210 N, 35th St., Hollywood, Pl. 33021 USA, Tel 305-935-8475

AU PAIR for 2 children, 4 & 6. Non-smoker, relocate to Washington, DC. Send resume & full length photo to-Bay 5015, Herold Tribune, 9252! Neutly Cades, France PiLIPINO FEMALE SINGLE Domestics worning job in Canada, send bodoto, photo & references to: Domestics Un-taristed, 306 Glenoyr Rd., Toronto Conada MSP 3C5

HOUSEMEN. Italiam villa. For two Amenican geriflemen. Apartment/car /solary. Send resume/photo/refer-encies: Villa Masses, 5500 Massa Ma-onai, Lucca, Italy. Tel: [39583] 90431.

DOMESTIC OSITIONS AVAILABLE R-O-PAIRS The Irish Connection, Employment Agency Nichal Representation of expenienced with improceedite reference in the provided Burney Island Street Burney Isla AUTO SHIPPING

Ronge Rover + Chevrolet + etc.
Mercades + BMVV + Auch + etc.
Cadillot + Jeep + Joguan + etc.
Some day registration possible renewable up to 5 years ENGUSH NANNTES & mothers' helps Ulk License. Noch Agency, 53 Church Rd. Hove, Sussea, UK. (403) 711436 AUTOMOBILES

10 x Tayota Land Cruiser FJ 45 Fick Up Track 1990 technically in good condition, bodywork needs attention. Cors are an TI document Dfl. 3,750. l y Toyota Castorawagen BJ 60 desel 1985 tropcal specification with an conditioning, color dark blue, technically in good condition, trim poor,

Technically in good condition, him poor, bodywork needs otherson. New and used Tayota and Load Range Rover spare pour! UAB NL Tet vol 30,388381. Fax: xx31,30,888381. AUTO SHIPPING SHIP YOUR CAR TO & FROM USA
VIA ANTWERP AND SAVE, Free honel. Regular scilings. RO - RO vessels.
US DOT: EPA conversion. AMESCO, Ribbestroat 2, Antwerp. Belgium. Tet.
32.3:231 4239. T. 71469. Fr. 232 6353

VW / AUDI TAX FREE US AND EUROPE SPECS US Dollar Prices, Tel: London 367 970 TAX-PREE cars, all makes and models, very good prices - Buy back scheme. BCM, Bax 49, London, WCTN 300, LIK.

ICZKOVITS

Clariderstrasse 36, CH-8027 Zunch Tel: 01/202 76 10 Teles: 815915. Fax. 01: 202 76 30

TRASCO GERMANY. Mercedes Berz armored cors & stretched limousnes from stad. Stendomm 38, D-2630 Bremen. The 246524, Fox. 421630205 Tel. (0) 421-433044.

International Business Message Center

Artistiton executives Artistiton the international Herald In- bune, where more then a third of a millian readies world- wide, most of whom are in business and inclustry, will read it. Just telex us (Poris 613395) before 10 a.m., en- string that we can telex you back, and your message will appear within 48 hours. You must include complete and verifiable billing address.
BUSINESS

OPPORTUNITIES

GF14POINTCHAMPION
We are
YOUR GATEWAY TO ASIA PACIFIC
Do you need Product Representation, Distribution ?
Entra Soles Income from the expand ing Asia Poofic legion ?
Need to source material, products, printings publishing in major and local languages?
Winter letex or call:
Drampion Service & Treating Ple Ltd.
(A Division of Champion Spark Plug Company)
1011 Thompson Road
= 21-04 Goldhill Square
Singapors 1130
Tel: 253-7789
Fox: 253-2876
Telers IS 56560 CSPAP GF14POINTCHAMPION

enternational company, seeks European agents with large chertele, interested in buying FRANC-4555 and moving to Canada. High profits. Euro-pean representation. Let. France-33. 88 75 16 30 Face-37. 88 75 16 51 or write to: Box 5642. Herald Tribune, 92521 Neutly Coder, France OWN YOUR OWN BUSINESS, Int company offers large selection of FRANCHISES for sale in Canada Trunel 8 insurance openies available. European representation. Tel. France: 33-88751630 or Face: 33-88751631 or write to: 80-5043. http://dx.doi.org/10.1001/1

OFFICE SERVICES OPPORTUNITIES HOUSTON BASED OIL & GAS CO. Your Office in Germany

mucal Um BASED OII. & GAS CO. needs invistor for developing seams defined gas field. Entremely forge gas reservoir patential. (713) 785-9222. Gao-Western, Inc., 2500 Grywest Bird, Suite 1350, Houston, Texas 77042 USA we are "At Your Service" Complete office services at two preside addresses.
If rully equipped offices for the short term or the long term.
Internationally trained office and professional staff at your disposal.
Can be legally used as your corporate domained for Germany Furgue.
Your business operation can start immediately. BUSINESS SERVICES ETIRED COSTWOLD HOTELER, 504

actiss wine merchant, resident in Cornes, available for laying down at repleneting private cellars. Expert advice and wine cartiacts throughout Europe and USA. Herring, Le Sant Rena, 15 Ave du Dr. Picaud, 06400 Cannes, Tel. 93 39 17 33. RETIRED ENGLISH BUNINESSMAN now readers in Connes has a limited number of small villes in Var area for safe or summer rends. 4 beautiful flats to let on the coast dose to see. Blinguid. Details on request. Herring. Le Son Remo, 15 Ave du Dr. Poaud. 06400 Connes. Tel 93 39 17 33. We can other Prestigate making address Office and all office services Our Branches/Representatives in every country in this region to assi CANADA PROFESSIONAL Accountant-will transact private business corporate, other 401-535 Howe Street, Vancouver, B.C. V&C-22A

CHAUFFEUR offers free-chaice tours of Paris and the Laine Valley Xavier SEGLAN, 3 rue des Ormeaux, 27100 Tours, France. Tel. (16) 47,51,16,54. LONDON ADDRESS BOND STREET, Mail, Phone, Fax, Teles, Conference room, Call 01-499-9192, Tx 262690 FINANCIAL SERVICES SWISS BANK, successful for plenosi

110 years, accepts new drants. Inquines: c'o CONSENTA AG, Boy 480 FL-9490 Vaduz. Fax: Switz. 7529101 DIAMONDS DIAMONDS WITH GIA certificates. (Gerrological Institute of Americal Also sapphres, robes, emerolds. We will asset you in buying at wholesche prices. VP New York, Tel. 212-719-7380; Fan 719-36a1; Tb. 497-4013.

Lairce Business Services GmbH Larce-Hous om Holzhausenpark Jushnorstrasse 22 6000 Fronkfurt om Mom 1 Germany Tel. 69-59 00 61 Teletros: 69-59 57 70 Teles: 414561 YOUR OWN OFFICE IN SINGAPORE of expand your business into rapidly growing Assa/Pacific markets²
Ne can offer

Consider in 1938 Consider in 1988
the new opportunities with compton Service & Trading Pie Ltd.
(A Division of Occupion) for Thempton Road
=21-04 Goldhal Sayore
Singapore 1130
Tel. 253-798
Foz. 253-2876
Teles: IS 56560 CSPAP

MADRID High class furnished offices
Maring service, phone, teles
Fax, multilingual staff, carealting
Lyrix International Business Cemer
Paseo Recoletos 4, 28001 Madrid Spain
Tel 1/542/009 Tx 2/820 Fax 1:542/306

Imprimé par Offprint, 73 rue de l'Evangile, 75018 Paris.

FOR SALE & WANTED AUTOS TAX FREE HOTELS TAX Free cars, all makes & models ATK, NV, Ankerro 22, 2000 Antwerp Belgium, Tel 03/231 Te 53 Tx 31535 GREAT BRITAIN

All rooms with full private foolities. Color TV, Direct dioi prione Handryers. Coffee/Tea moliers. Substantial buffet Coffice/Teo molers, Substantion purer English breakfast, Single £49.95 + VAT, Double or twin: £64.95 + VAT, Port Sireer Knightsbridge, London SWIX, CBD Tel: 01-581 2424, TL: 9413498 execut g, Fox. 01-259-6153

THE EXECUTIVE HOTEL

ARDS TEST, i elebble 8, fully confidential by experienced laboratory, Standard 8 confirmatory tests, Information HT Bay 2515, Frederichts, 15, D-6000 Frankfurt/Main, West Germany, SWITZERLAND . GENEVA RESIDENCE DE FRANCE

4 Ave. de France C-1-1202 Geneva
Tel, 0041 '22/'31 14 79

Beautiful, first class, cin-conditioned, residental turnshed apportments and studios Fully equipped kitchen, daily moid service.
Daily and moratify rates.
Excellent location.

RESTAURANTS

NIGHT CLUBS

SWITZERLAND

AU VIEUX CAVEAU - PURLY, Superb Swass style gourned dirang, box, donc-ing, boxquets and private postes. Summer terroce. Let the formly Morent serve you of the beountful Au Vieux Coveou, 11 rue de la Gore, 1009 Pully/Lousanne 021 / 28 27 49

U.S. DIVORCE IN 15 DAYS
No need to travel
With as without consent of spouse Internationally recognized.
DREMBR LEGAL ASSOCIATES

Messinger Str. 1, Fach 30 56 33
1000 Berlin 33 Tel 47/30/8254031.

153 W. 27th St. Sune 1000.

NY 10001 NY, Tel 212:2428538 USA

102, Upper Cross Sheet 08 '04.

OG Builden, Singapore 0105.
Tel: 65-5353100.

HEALTH / MEDICAL

SERVICES

ROYAL JELLY - Natures source offer-ing life 8 wildly. Guaranteed pure 8, fresh. Harvested from unpolluted vir-gar flora, Retard old age, feel young agont free interdure from F.C. Box 6243, G.C.M.C. Australia 4217.

LEGAL SERVICES

SODEXA, subsidicity of Automobiles PBUGEOT, specialized in tox free car and diplomatic sales and buy back contracts. PBUGEOT - SODEXA, 136
ove des Champs Byses, 75008 Paris,
Tet. [1] 42 25 20 98 - (1) 47 98 50 83.
Telas 615072 F PELOX.

TRASCO GERMANY Manufacilia.

DIVORCE IN 24 HOURS Mutual or contested actions, low cost, Host or Dominican Republic, For infor-mation, send $3.75 for 24-page book let/hondling to Dr. F. Gonzoles, COA, 80x 65475; Woshington, DC 20035 USA Tel: 202-452-8331

GUAM USA DIVORCE Fost, Both sign, no travel. Free Book, Athorney Don Porkinson, Boy Bk Agana, Guam, Ph. (671) 477-7637 or (671) 477-7994 LOW COST FLIGHTS

ACCESS VOYAGES AUCESS VOTA

One Way
New York F1000
Son Francisco F1500
Los Angeles F1500
Alfanta F1600
Dallos F1600
Chicago F1495
Monn F1430
Boston F1300
Montreal F965
Voncauver Jokaria — Boli —
Tokyo F3890
Wast Indies

Bob F990 F790 Tokyo F390 F790 Tokyo F390 F790 West incies ord more destructions. Discount on 1st & business class Rates subject to modifications Restrictions are vapoly. Tel: (1) 4013 0202 or 4221 4694 & rue Fierre Lescat, 75001 Paris Metro - REC Charleste Les Holles (Lic. 175 111)... and now ACCESS IN LONDON New York E125 210 Son Francisco E175 C270 Los Angeles E175 C270

Aldwych House, 71-91 Aldwych, London WCZ. Tel: (1) 404 44 66 Book now by phone with credit cord WORLDWIDE FLIGHT) USA crystme, $160, wast cooo; $269, APP, 103 rue Lo Boete, Paris 8th (a few yords from On. Bysees), Tel. [1] 42.87,10.81. HOLIDAYS & TRAVEL

HELAS YACHTING. Yoch charters. Write to Academics 28. Althens 10671, Greece. HOTELS

U.S.A. TUDOR HOTEL New York 500 rooms, Foshionable East Side of Monhatton, near United Nations, Recognible rates, Tel: 212-786-8900 or 800-221-1253, Tile: 422951.

COLLEGES & RARE 8 PANEL JAPANESE SCREEN Contact: Mary Ann in Son Francisco Tel # (415) 753-0127.

Airf IN ITALY, Drawing 8, watercolor courses, Studio in hills of Tuscony, 25 lans Florence, Graductie of L'Institute per L'Arte E il Restaura Firenza, Ital-lan, Franch & English spaken, For details call; England; 061-434-6811.

EDUCATION NITENSIVE FRENCH COURSES 15 or 30 hours a week starting every mon-day. Accommodation of request, Exole France Langue, 2 ne de Sira, 75116 Paris, France, Tel: (1) 45004015

INTENSIVE PASTRY CLASSES. Six everying sessions from 11 to 27 April. Ecole de Curisne La Varenne, 34 nie 57 Dominique, 75007 Paris, 47 05 10 16, Metro Invalides.

COLLEGES & UNIVERSITIES FULLY APPROVED UNIVERSITY DE

RULLY APPROVED UNIVERSITY DE GRESSI Economical home study for Bochelor's, Moster's, Ph.D., FULLY AP. PROVED by Celifornic Stote Depart-ment of Education. Prestinguis touchly coursels for independent study and life experience credits (5,100 enrolled students, 500 faculty). FREE INFOR-MATION - Richard Crews, M.D. (Hor-vord), President, Calminios Poofic In-versity, Department 2133, 1415 Third Street, Son Refoel, CA 94901. Toll Free (800) 227-0119; Californic (800) 552-5522; or (415) 459-1650.

fully acraechted state university, 45 000 Tuty acrosses sine university, countries, students on compas, Offering, notice-dented Master's and Doctor's degrees, inquire international Program, cro In-ternational Educational Consultaris, 2175-8 Highpoint Rd, State 217-M, Snell-

LAUREL BEAUTY ACADEMY of Comotology, minimal English, free certilog, 6219 Lourel Comoon Boulevel, L. North Hollywood, CA 91606 USA, Tel: 818-766-8127

P. C.

ATOTA BY

But terries

30 D 20

188-792

ख्याकारः ५०

2.74

EZST-05 a .

tault

-

PEN PALS

VORLDWIDE CONTACTS FOR ALL. We publish 5 contact magazines For information send US$1 or equivolent to: ML-AGENCY, Box 2116, S-424 02 ANGERED, SWEDEN.

Herald The New York Thora and The Washington Part

By Phone: Call your local IHT representative with your text. You will be informed of the cost immediately, and once prepayment is made your ad will appear within

There are 25 letters, signs and spaces in the first line and 36 in the following lines. Minimum space is 3 lines. No abbreviations accepted. Credit Cards: American Express, Diner's Club, Eurocard, Master Card, Access and

HEAD OFFICE NORTH AMERICA Chicago: (312) 446-8764.
Hearston: (713) 627-9730.
Tx: 910-881-6294.
Ft:: 713-627-3758.
Los Angeles: (213) 850-8339.
Tx:: 650 311 7659.
Ft:: 213-851-8537.
New Yerfr: (212) 752-3890.
Tol: free: (800) 572 7212.
Tx:: 427 175.
Fce:: (212) 755 8785.
Son Francisco: (415) 362-8339. Peris: (For classified only): (1) 46.37.93.85, Tx.: 613595. EUROPE Amsterdenn: 26-36-15. Tx.: 13133. Fen: 267955 Athens: 361-8397/360-2421. Tx.: 218344 fbS GR. FAX: 17249508. Bergen (Norway): (05) 134010. Tx. 42925 PUBLS N Fax: 137814. Brussels: 343-1899. Sear Francisco: (415) 362-8339 Tr.: 650-327-1375 MCI UW Fr.: 415-362-5474 Toronto: (416) 585-5415 Tx.: 06-219629 Frax: 416-585-5275 Tx. 23922 HMRA B Copenhagen: 42 93 25. Frenkfact: (069) 72-67-55. Tx.: 416721 IHT D. chinks: 647412, Tx.: 12-2814 SIGCOSF. SOUTH AFRICA

Fax: 647948. Istanbul: 1488957/ 1476669/1484847. Drycmston: 706 14 08. Tx.: 27379 CARITR busconne: 29-58-94, Tx.: 455722 GVT CH. LATIN AMERICA Bogoto: 236 9747 - 256 6096. Tx: 42072 MWA CO. France: 294732 Limbon: 67-77-93/66-25-44 Tx.: 16791 YORK P. London: (01) 836-4902. Yx.: 262009.

Tel Aviv: 03-455 559. Tx: 341118 EXTV IL EXT 6376.

والمستحرم فالمناز والمراز والمستوار فالمراز والمراز

Tx. 42072 MWA CO.
Buenes Alves 313 68 86
Tx. Cotton publica 33-9900.
Coribbean: based in N.Y.
Tele [212] 684 66 01.
Costo Ricos [506] 240642
Gasyaguda 32 12 66 - 52 28 15.
Tx. 43361 PGCGYE
Limes 417 BS2.
Tx.: 20469 GYDSA.
Massice: 535 31 64.
Tx.: 1774349.
Pensamas: 69 09 75.
Tx.: 2206 CHARTE PA.
Rico de Janeiro: 222 50 45.
Tx.: 2121885 DRS BR. 455-2891/455-3306 Tx. 47747 SUYA E. Fax. 5710491 Alian: 546.25.73. (43) 334494 (RNIADVI). Rome: 679-3437. Tx.: 620500 PPCSRA Tx.: 14006 TAEBY, other 7920949.
Tx.: 14006 TAEBY, other 7920949.
Tx.: 08-7687472, other 7920949.

MIDDLE EAST Fox:972-3-623010/623909 - Ed. 376. Ammon: 62 44 90. Tx.; 22277 MKIO.

Bahrain: 256032, Tx.: 8202 BAHTAG BN, Beirut:341 457/8/9, Tx.: 42244 LE, Cairo: 34 99 838. Caire: 34 99 838.
T.L. (91) 92313 ITTAS UN.
Debe: 416535.
T.K. 4984.
Duboi: 224161.
T.K. 4884 PANCO EM.
Jeddoit: 667-1500.
T.K. 403381 COLORS.
Omers: 70 41 86.
T.K. 3729.
Tuniss: 710 797.

FAR EAST Bongkole: 258-32-44 Tx.: 20666 RAJAPAK TH. Hong Kong: (5)-8610616. Tx. 61170 HT HX Fee: 520287

Bombay: 38 50 19 Tx.: 1175727 KRAK IN]. Karachi: 51 13 46. Tx.: 24407 (PIAIL PK). Mamilia: 817 07 49. Tx: 66112 MM FNL Secul: 734 76 11. Tx.: 28504 UNIPUB. Singapore: (65) 223-64-78/9... Tx.: 28749. Tahwan: 752 44 25/9.

Tokya: 504-1925, Tx., 25666. AUSTRALIA St. Kilda: (613) 52 53244. Fax: 525 32 72

Tx. 11887

NEW ZEALAND Auddand: 775 120.

Page 6 FOR MORE CLASSIFIEDS

Place Your Classified Ad Quickly and Easily in the